Administrators Keep Scotus Alive

An important, but many times overlooked aspect of Scotus administration is the school board. It is composed of the pastors and representatives of each of the nine parishes belonging to Scotus. School policy and criteria is controlled by the Board of Administrators, of which Mrs. Don Schrad is chairman. The Long Range Planning Committee was created in 1973. Its purpose is to plan financing, curriculum, and publicity for future years. Members include David Duren, Ronald Bogus, Leo Dowd, and Evelyn Bruegger.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Thoughts From A New Superintendent —

A year ago, before I came to Columbus, Scotus was little more than a name. Today, happily, it is much more. It is PEOPLE--students who laugh and learn, study and cheer together, get into trouble but bounce back to grow anew; teachers who care and are loyal, who work hard to do a better job; parents who love their kids and want to give them the very best and who back the school all the way.

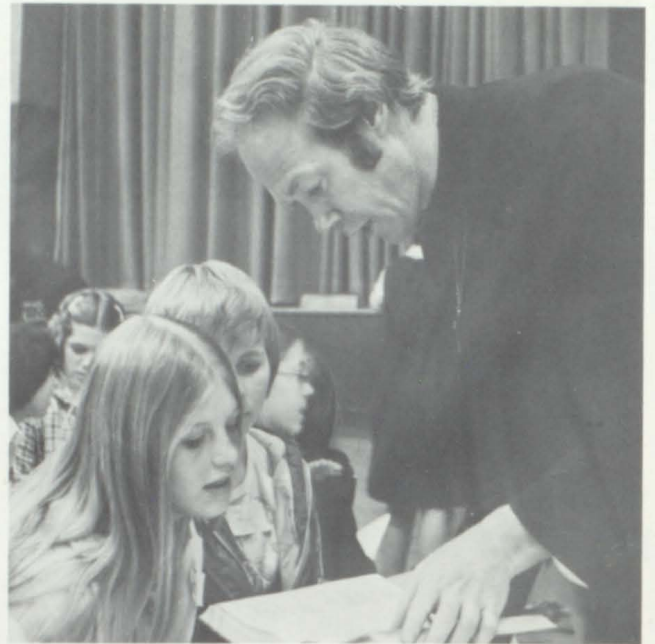

What else have I found at Scotus? A lot of work, of course. But work that I enjoy because I consider it a God-given challenge to join forces with people who are sincerely interested in providing strong Catholic education.

My dream is to build upon the solid foundation already laid at Scotus--making Christ ever more the center of our lives and of all that we do in our school; improving the religious and academic tradition so that more and more Catholic parents will be proud to send their children to Scotus Central Catholic.

My special prayer is--May God grant us the Faith to work, hand in hand, toward this great goal; the Hope never to surrender the blessings we have inherited from God and our parents; and the Charity never to selfishly tear down what another has built.

Fr. Jim Buschelmann

Middle: Father has a helpful answer, Girls Renewal Day, March 21, 1975.
Below: Father Buschelmann's office may be that of Superintendent or Counselor.

Above: David Novicki elicits a smile from Scotus Principal, Mr. Hittner. Left: But there are serious moments in a principal's day and many problems to solve. He says-- "THERE ARE MOMENTS YOU WILL REMEMBER".

No matter what the circumstances, time continues on. Moments we cherish and wish to remember soon become overshadowed by new experiences, new friends, and a changing environment.

Do you remember the thrill of entering high school for the first time? your First Communion, entering senior high school, your first date, your best friend?

You who are seniors this year will find the experiences of the next few years more challenging, more exciting and more demanding than ever before. Keep in mind that jobs change, friends change, where you live may change, and will change.

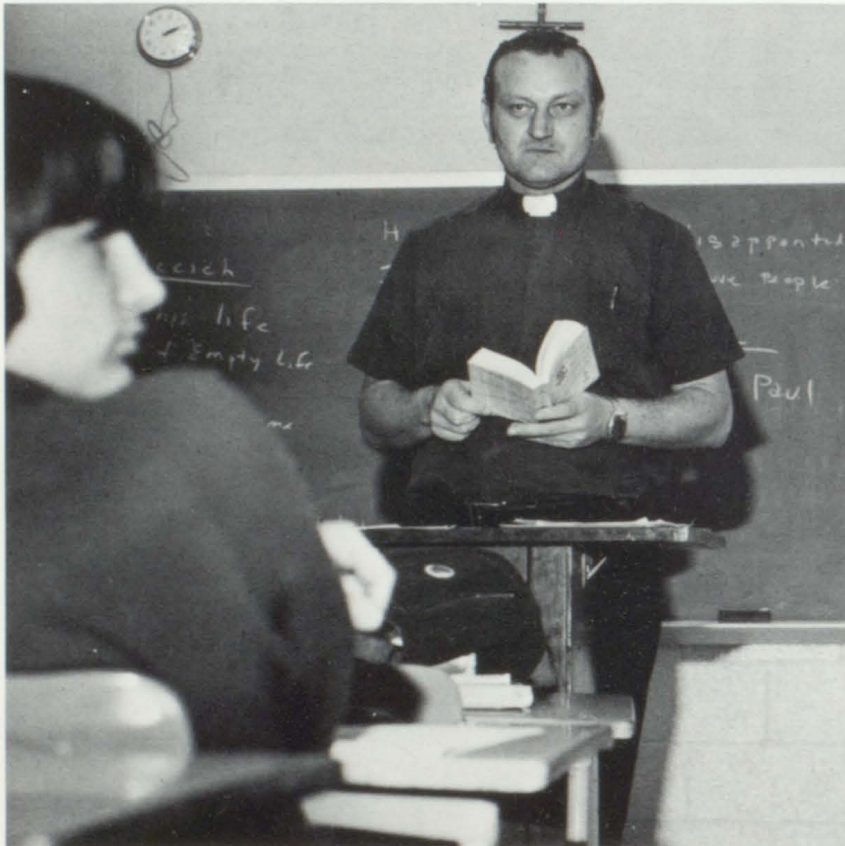

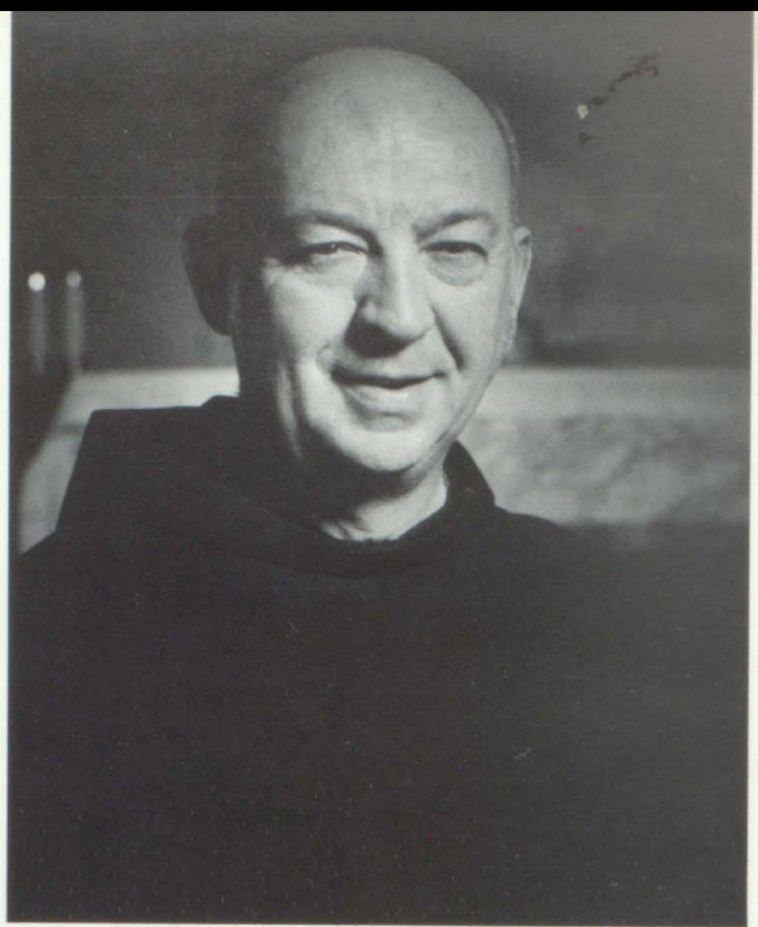

The one element of stability that you have is your Faith. If you are at peace with God you will be at peace with yourself. May God love you and assist you in reaching your potential.

Ed Hittner

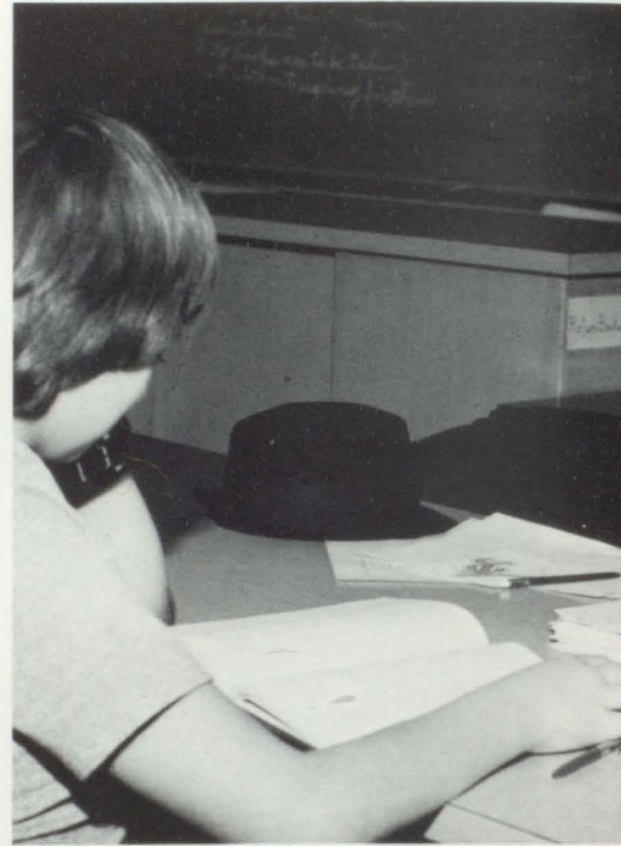

Our Spiritual Leaders Inspire Faith And Effort

The pastors of the three local parishes in Columbus, from which most of the Scotus students come, teach religion classes several times a week. In this way they not only contribute their time and effort to Catholic education but assist with the development of Christian social units and familiarize themselves with their young, growing parishioners.

Scotus is composed of the nine surrounding parishes in the Columbus area. Each pastor is a member of the Scotus School Board of Administration which forms the policies of the school. Right: Rev. Regis Watts, O.F.M., is the pastor of St. Bonaventure Church, Columbus. He teaches Religion in the Junior High, is spiritual director of the Columban Squires, an organization to which a number of Scotus boys belong.

Rev. John Starostka, pastor of St. Joseph Church Platte Center, teaches three sophomore religion classes. Learning about the sacraments and the modern Church plays an important part in the development of Christian character and Father stresses the need for solid knowledge of these doctrines.

Rev. John Rizzo, pastor of St. Rose of Lima Church, Genoa, is Religion instructor for the eighth grade students in junior high. Father is also active as promoter in the Search program.

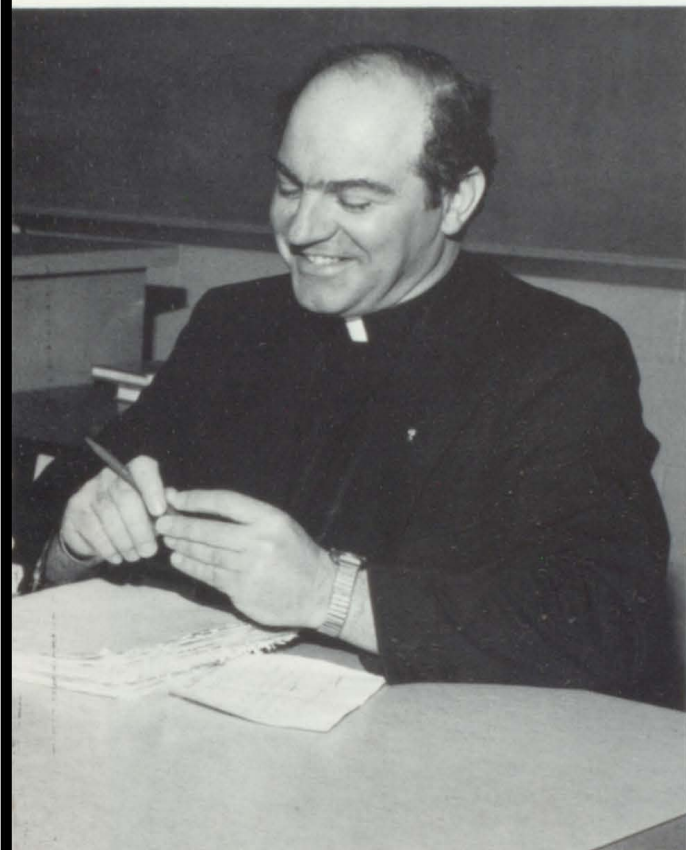

To Build Better Society

Columbus Catholics are fortunate to be able to keep their three elementary parochial schools open and support Scotus Central Catholic High also. It is possible only by the great sacrifices parents, pastors, teachers, and students are willing to make in a concentrated effort to provide for the Catholic youth of the area, the kind of education all these people deem necessary for the growth and expansion of the Church and a strong Christian environment for the building up of a better community to live in.

Rev. Francis Price, (Left) is pastor of St. Isidore Church, Columbus. He is an active member of the school board and takes time from his pastoral duties to teach a freshman religion class at Scotus.

Rev. Laurin Buzynski, O.F.M., the pastor of St. Anthony Church, is also an active member of the school board. He teaches eighth grade religion classes at Scotus junior high.

Father Rizzo has a cheery smile. Has he discovered something new in that pile of papers?

Special People Do Special Services

Many of the educational processes have their beginning in an office, be it the superintendent's, principal's, or understandably, the counselor's.

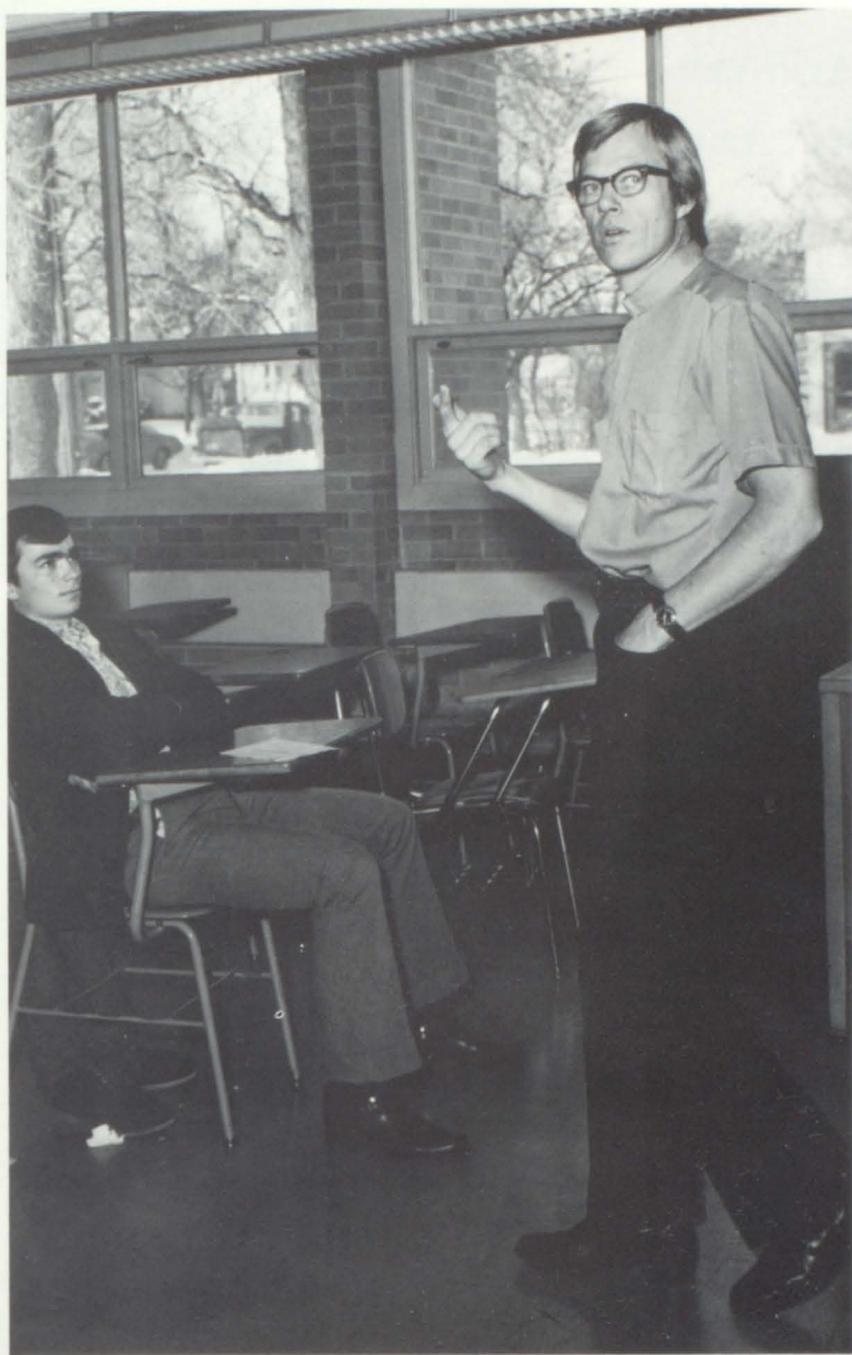

Those tidy dittoed tests, blue or pink slips that keep one punctual, a hall pass that says where we are to go, or absentee slips that say where we have been, even those "unexpected down slips" that somehow arrive at our home by mail, have all originated in some office. Offices have special services to contribute to our development. Right: Mrs. Kudron, as secretary to the superintendent, Father Buschelman, handles the financial matters concerning the students, such as tuition payments, school fees, class funds, and monies from the organizations.

Mrs. Jochum takes care of the bookstore, audio-visual aids, and miscellaneous appointments and office jobs. She also assists Mrs. Kudron with the financial aspects of the students school needs and educational problems.

Mrs. Keating in a familiar pose always seems to be aware of someone's needs. Better still she finds a solution. She has been giving "special services" for Scotus students longer than anyone else.

Counselors —

Everyone is welcomed to his office. Students go in there to sit and chat or just to listen to records. The pictures on the wall have been taken and developed by Father, since photography is his hobby. Besides helping students find themselves through religion classes he teaches in senior high, Father is very active in the Search for Christian Maturity program.

Father Spenner is also the assistant pastor of St. Isidore Church, Columbus.

Mr. Dale Heth, Guidance Counselor at Scotus, poses with Ann Williams and Diane Egger (Shown Below). Mr. Heth assists students plan their future and discover in what areas they are strongest or apt to succeed. He supplies information about colleges.

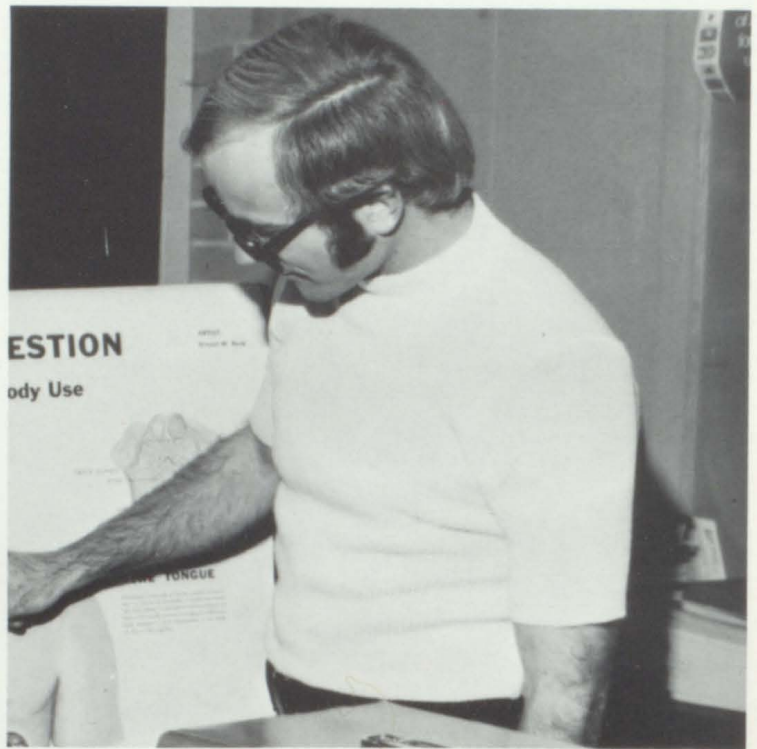

Besides counseling, Mr. Heth teaches Typing I and II to senior high students, is a senior class sponsor and the offensive line coach for the football team.

Scientists Analyze Animals, Arithmetic, Anatomy, And Appetite

Mrs. Ekeler teaches Home Ec I and II. Her students learn the basics of sewing, cooking, and child care. Although her lessons are based on individualized packets, many other students share the aromas coming from her department on cooking days. Shown (Right) with Connie Mares, Mrs. Ekeler can give excellent help with dress goods.

Mr. Berlin (Below) teaches Business Math, Algebra I, and Geometry. Coaching is another of his duties. He was junior varsity and assistant basketball coach as well as head girls' track coach. He sponsored the winning freshman homeroom in the Shamrock Night Raffle tickets sales contest.

Center Right: Mr. Younger teaches biology to the sophomores and human physiology to the seniors. He was the athletic director, and assistant coach for football and track. He also sponsored a sophomore homeroom. Right: Mr. Busch teaches Earth Science to the freshmen and social studies in the junior high. He co-sponsored the selling of raffle tickets for the Shamrock Night project. He was also a freshman homeroom sponsor.

Mathematicians Get To The Root Of Problems Via Slide Rules

Mr. Shaw is the advisor of the Science Club. His students rated high on their projects at the Regional Science Fair. Chemistry in the senior high and math in the junior high comprise Mr. Shaw's teaching assignments. He is also a homeroom sponsor for a group of eighth grade students. He was a track coach for the junior high.

Mr. Salyer, a junior homeroom sponsor, teaches Algebra II, trigonometry, general math, and Physics. These advanced course offerings can prove to be an important aspect of the college preparatory work in high school.

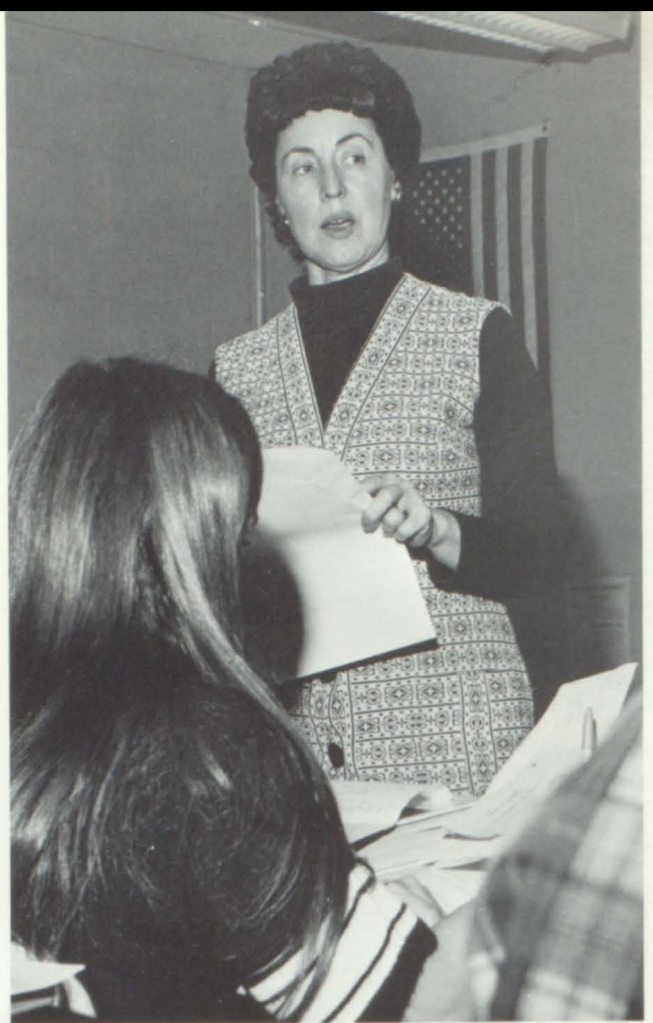

Travel Experiences Enrich Vocal Expression

Mrs. Peck heads the English department at Scotus. She also teaches courses in British literature, Shakespeare, and black authors, besides English composition. From her many experiences she is able to bring to her classes valuable ideas about the old and the new authors and literary styles.

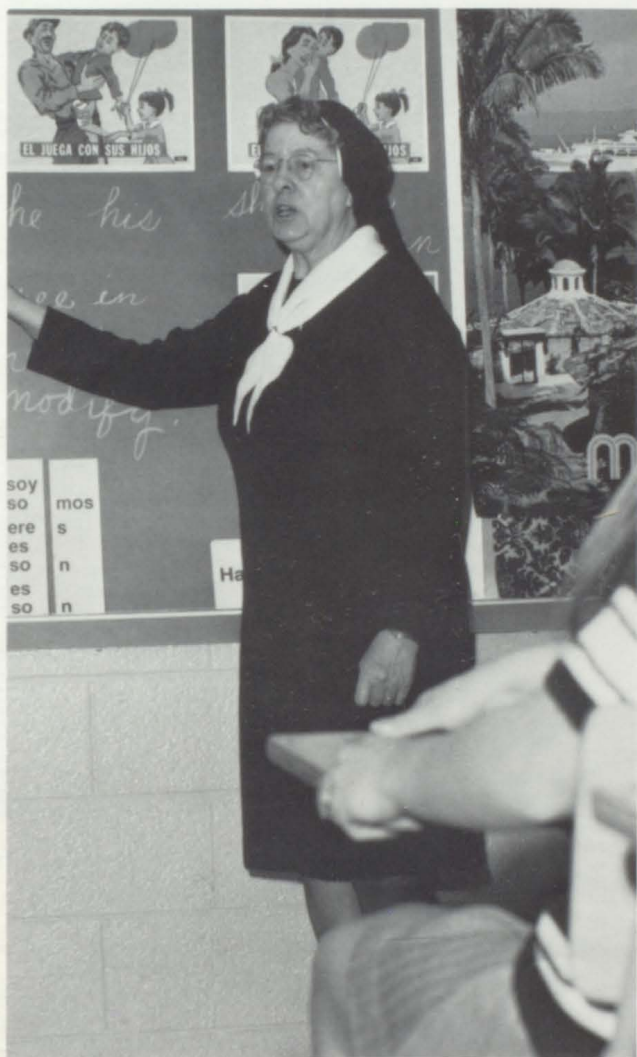

Mr. Peck is advisor for the National Honor Society and a senior homeroom sponsor.

In the picture below, Gregg Melliger seems to enjoy applying the paintbrush and his art teacher, Miss Kiser, apparently approves of his creation. Art students are enthusiastic about their work and can produce art work in many media.

Miss Kiser has two classes in German I and II. A trip to Europe with her students proved a valuable learning experience to all. Miss Kiser is volleyball coach and assistant girls' track coach.

Mrs. Heth provides an insight to the English language and literature for her freshman and sophomore classes. She sponsors a junior homeroom and is Scotistics, school newspaper, Advisor.

Above: Mrs. Rabbass brought a new style to the music department in her first year at Scotus. The boys' ensemble, girls' glee, mixed chorus, and swing choir are some of the new groups she formed in concert chorus. Mrs. Rabbass majored in music at Wayne College. She plays the piano and sings. She is a homeroom sponsor in junior high.

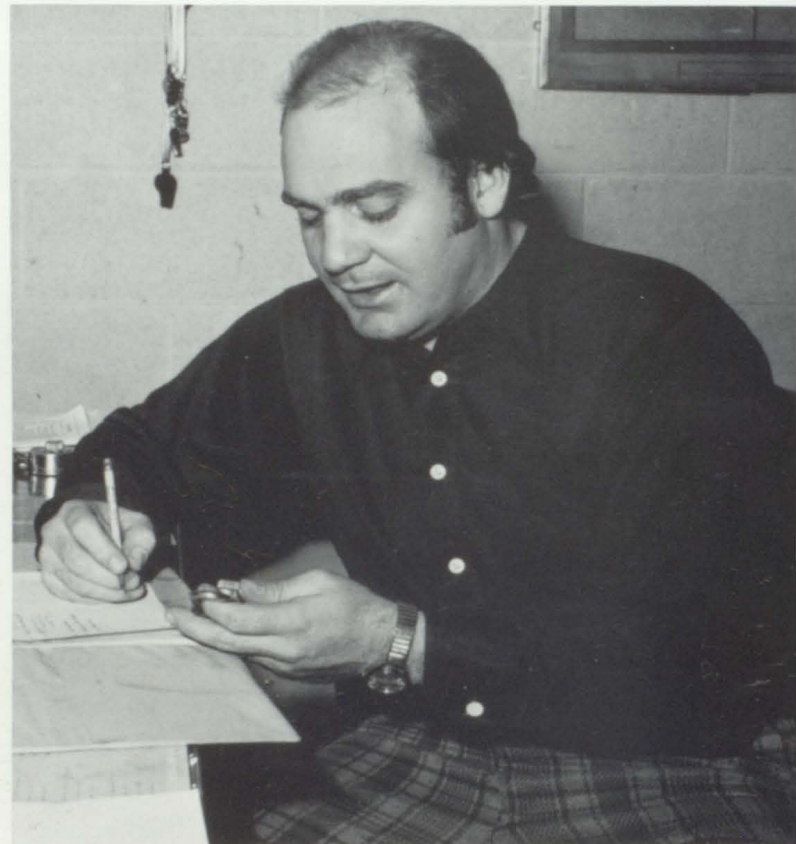

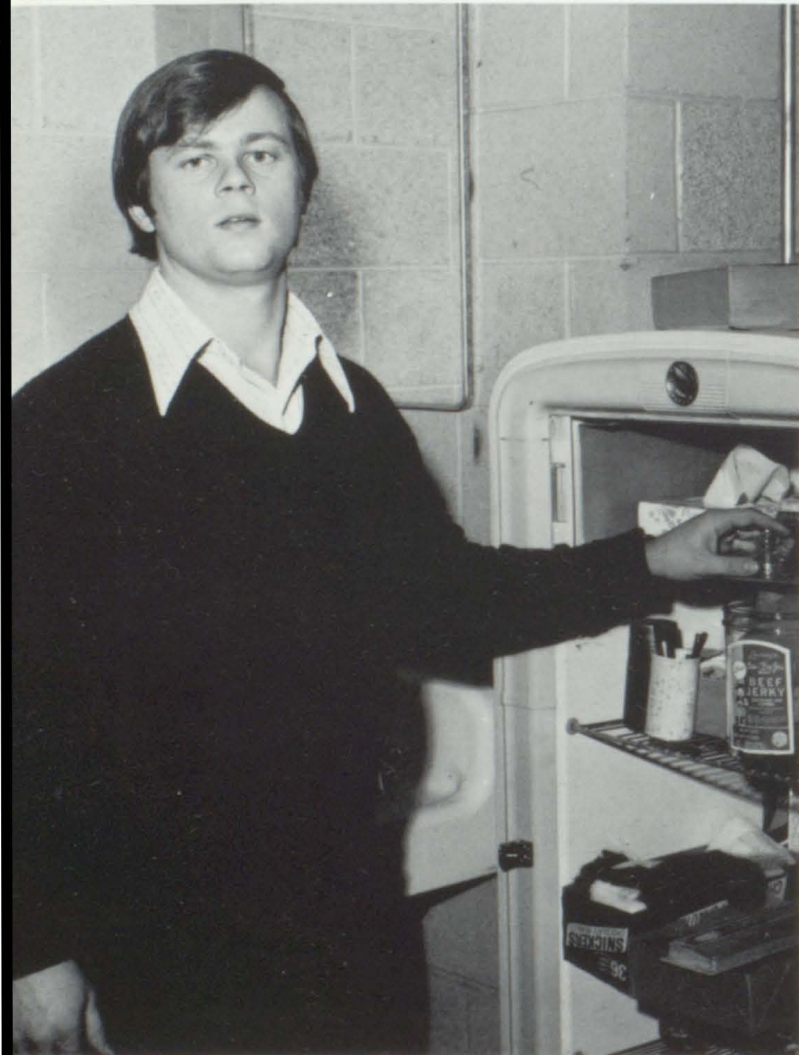

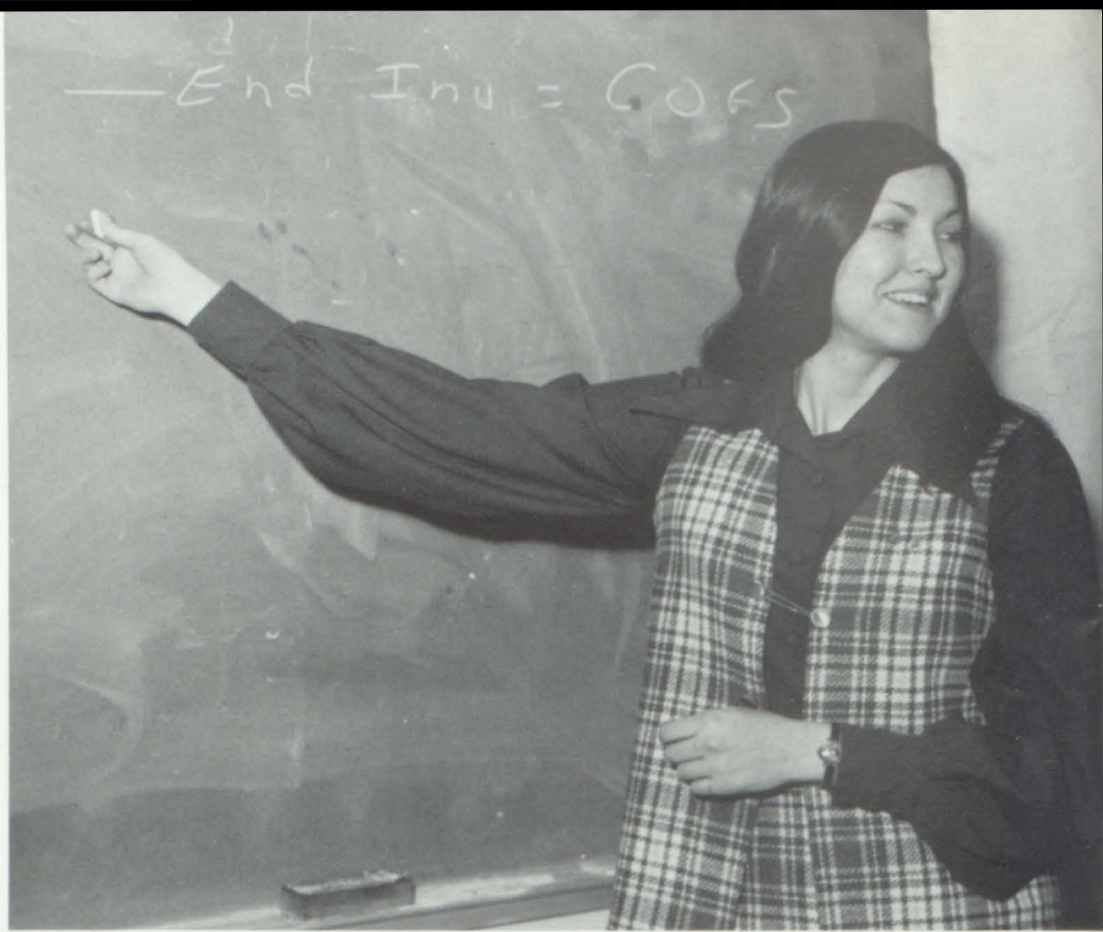

Left: Sister Colette, head of the languages department, teaches Spanish I and II. She enjoys sharing her experiences in Spain and encourages her students to travel to Spain, Mexico, or Latin America for the valuable educational experience that one learns that way. This summer she will be a counselor for a group of fifteen, ten students and five adults on a two-week tour of Mexico.

Sister Colette has been the Advisor for the Scotus Annual for the last nine years. She has been transferred to St. Francis High in Humphrey. With her Spanish students we wish her luck and say many thanks for all her help in making this year's Annual.

Teachers

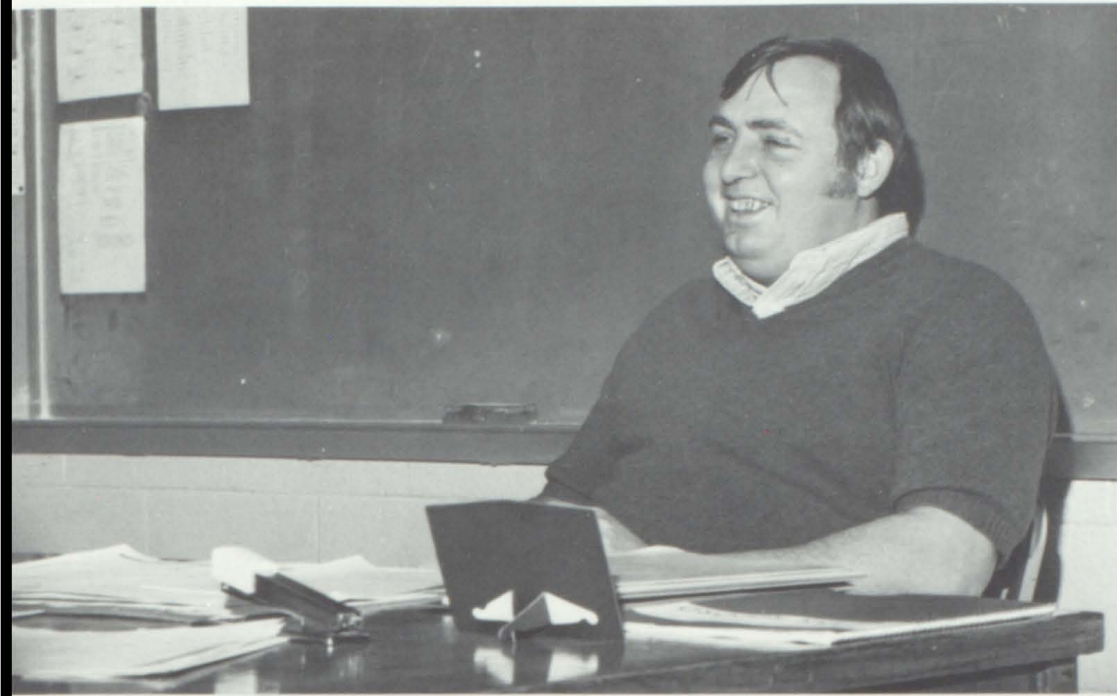

Miss Wenzl teaches the business courses-bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting. Here she explains a point in bookkeeping to her invisible students. The photographer caught her in this usual pose.

Below: Mr. Fendrick, the Speech and Drama instructor checks the make-up cabinet, but it looks like a raid on the ice-box. He also teaches Drivers Ed to the sophomores at a "risk" to his own life each day. He is leaving Scotus this year and teaching.

Mr. Spenceri instructs P.E. Classes and has classes of advanced P.E. for juniors and seniors. He is head basketball coach, cross country and golf instructor. This year he brought his team through a winning season.

Mr. Puetz teaches American History and World Geography. He sponsors County Government Day with the juniors and is the S-Club advisor. He is head coach for football and boys track. This year he was chosen as assistant coach for the Shrine All-Star game to be played during the summer.

Present Varied Programs

Miss Donner brings history classes to life for the sophomores. She teaches Communism, Sociology and Psychology. As Pep Club sponsor she plays an important part in keeping it on the go.

She takes an active part in the Big Brother and the Big Sister programs, an aid to youths who lack one parent.

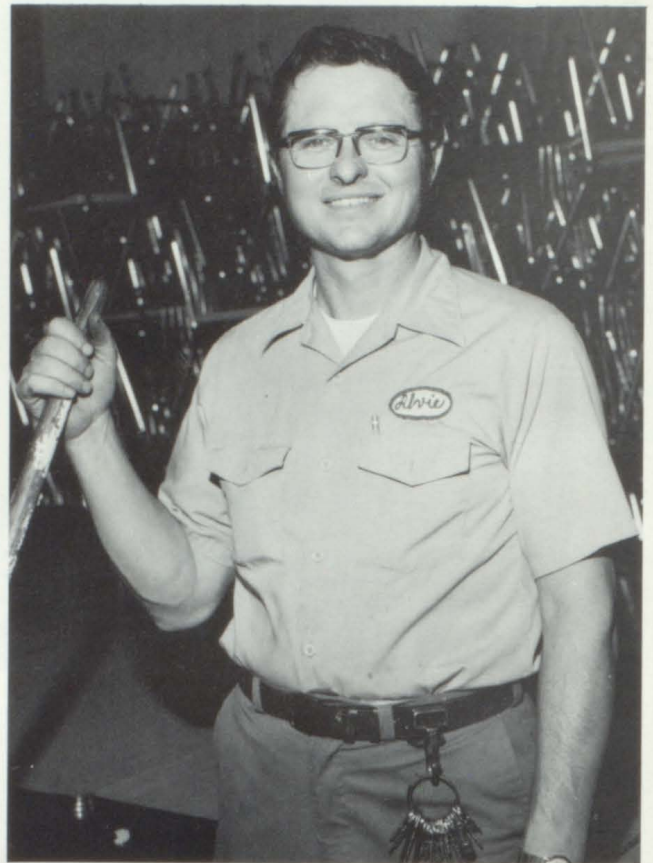

Miss Tell is the Scotus senior high librarian. She trains some students to assist her while they learn about the tasks of a librarian and the use of library resources. Students find her quiet, but efficient and always very approachable if anyone is in need of her assistance.

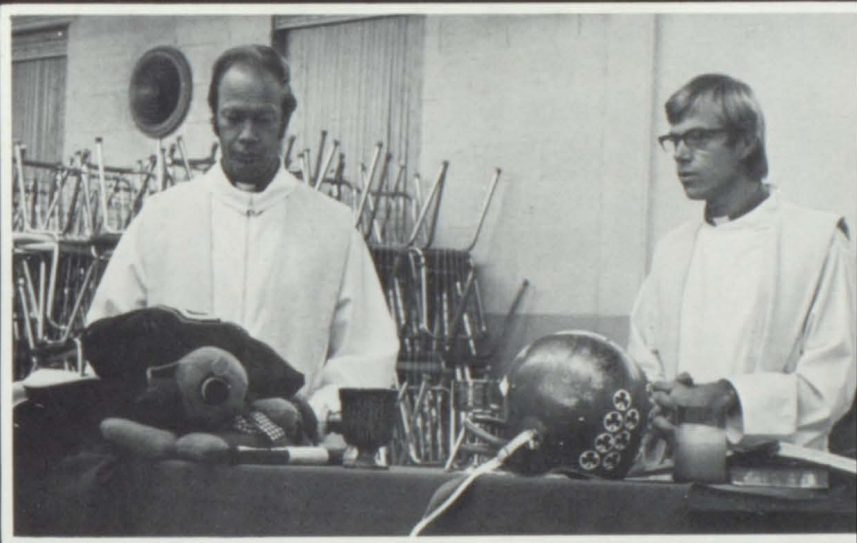

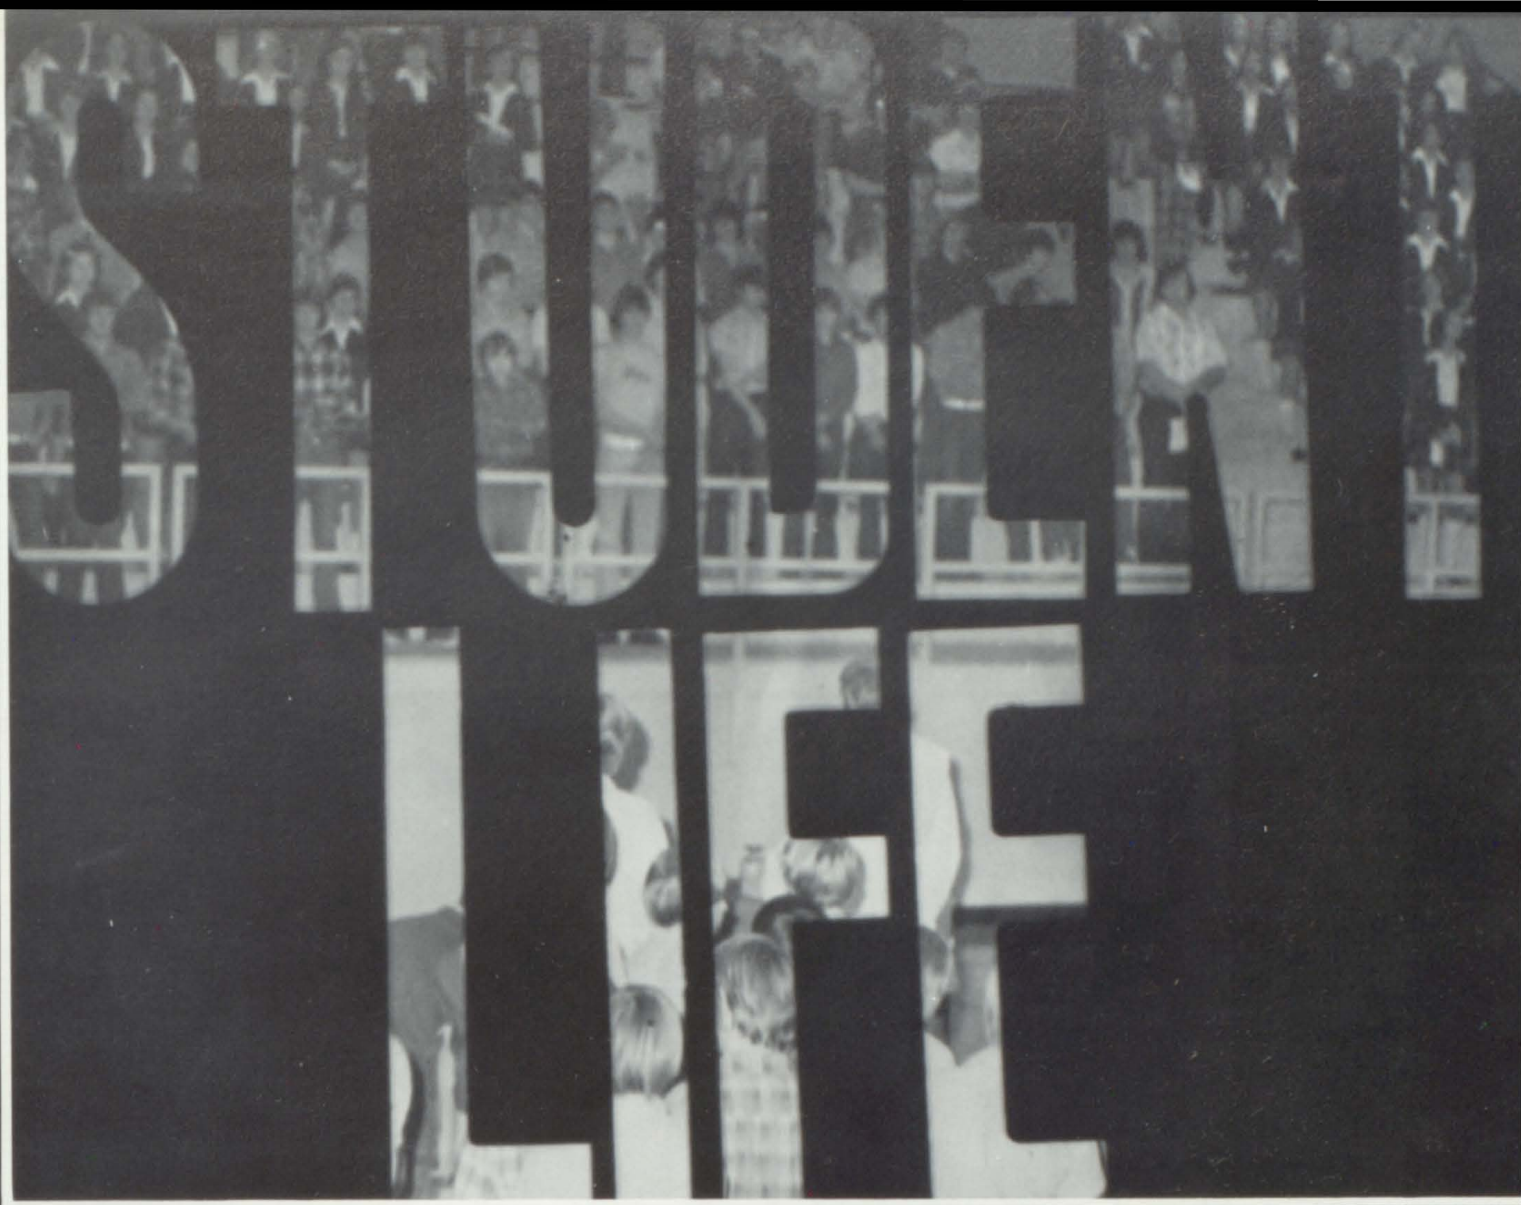

Scotus Needs People Like These

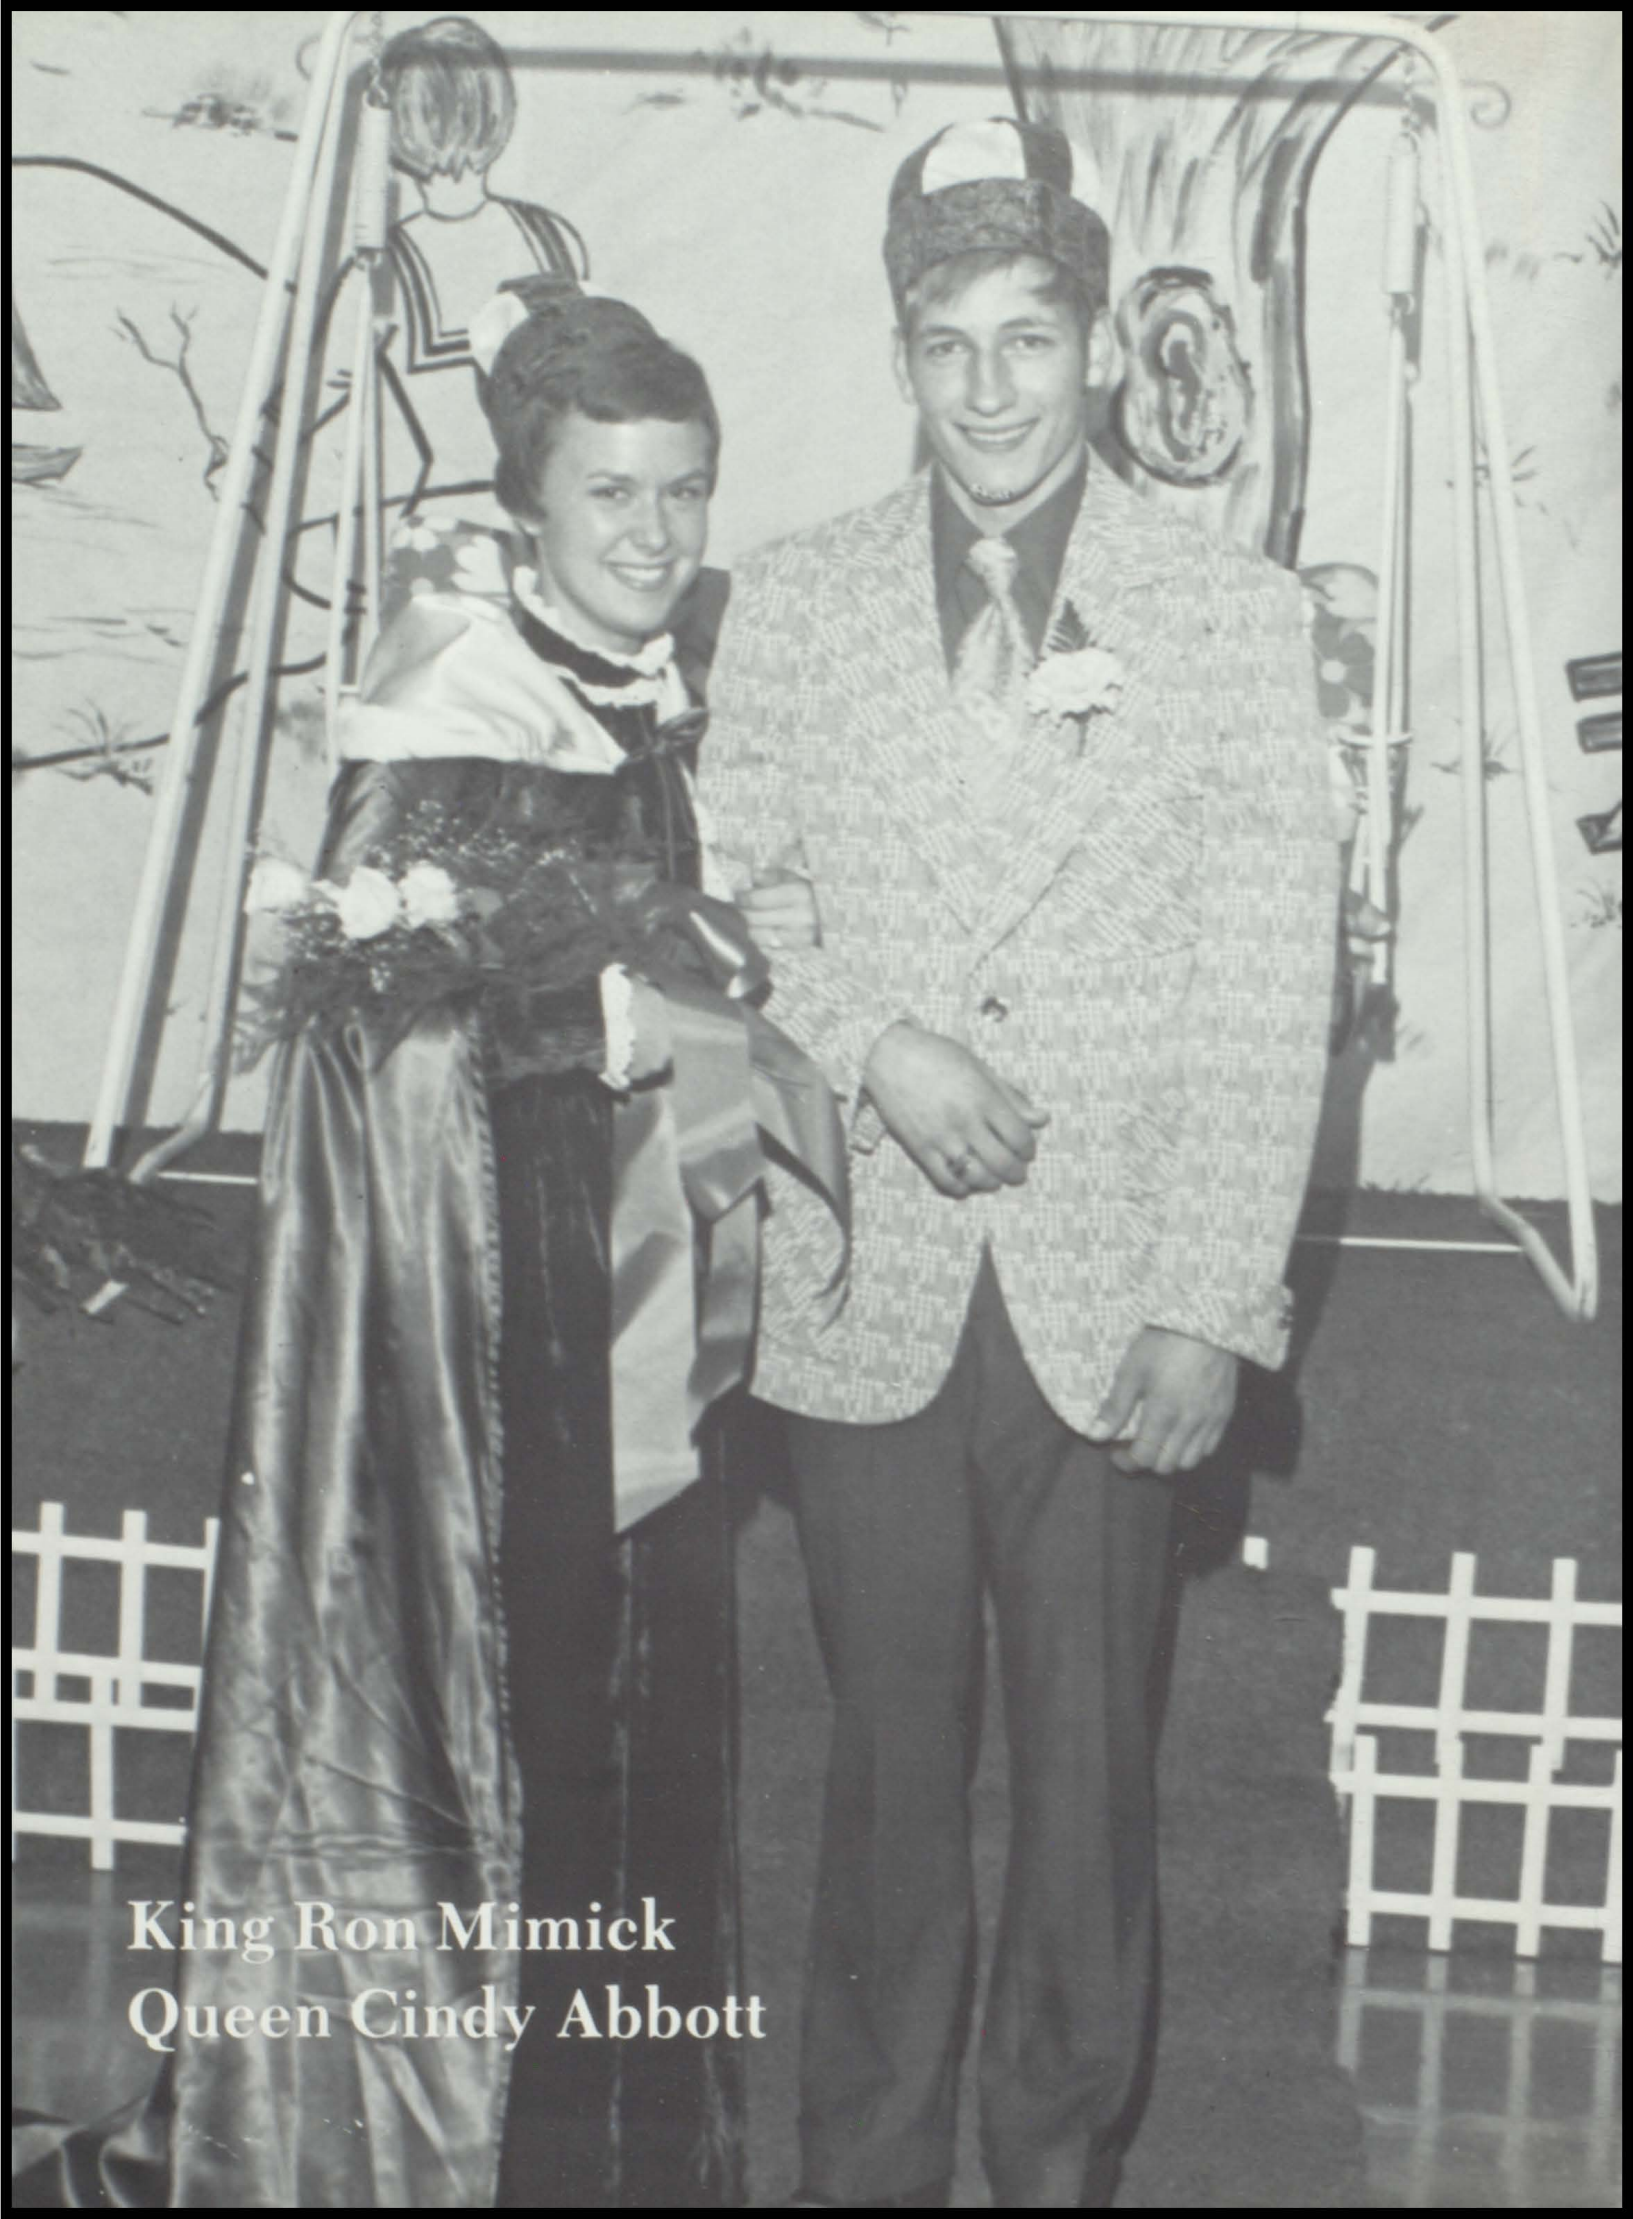

Those neatly stacked chairs don't just happen. Mr. Kurtenbach works long hours.

Below: Mrs. Davidson is caught with the cash on the morning that the photographer shot the Annual pictures. Mothers of the Junior High students aid Mrs. Fletcher in ticket sales every Monday morning.

Shamrock Victory — Dance

The theme for the 1974 Homecoming dance was "Saturday in the Park". The scenery reflected the serenity of a bygone era when the park was the center of Saturday afternoon activities.

The festivities of the Homecoming week started in a spirited manner. The active week began with a car bash, sponsored by the freshman class. A parade was held on Thursday night, followed by a pep rally at Frankfort Square. Saturday evening opened with the traditional Homecoming Mass held at St. Anthony's Church. The entire night was highlighted by the 6-0 victory over arch-rival, David City Aquinas.

After the game, the grand march and coronation were held in the Scotus cafeteria. The Homecoming royalty, King Ron Mimick and Queen Cindy Abbott, were crowned by the 1973 King and Queen, Dave Steiner and Donna Mausbach. A dance immediately followed, featuring the music of "Starbird".

October 26, 1974, will be a night to remember by all, but especially by the royalty and those that made it possible.

Local Singers Provide Cultural Program

The Scotus alumni members of the Cantari group of singers present Mrs. Rabbass, chorus director of Scotus, with a brochure.

The theme for the Platte College Chorale and Cantari this year was "Be Free". This group shared a few of their selections from the program which they will present in the summer, in Disneyland, California, where the group plans to tour and present concerts in various places in the southwest.

Music is the universal language and the most persuasive as this dame discovers Kurt's talent.

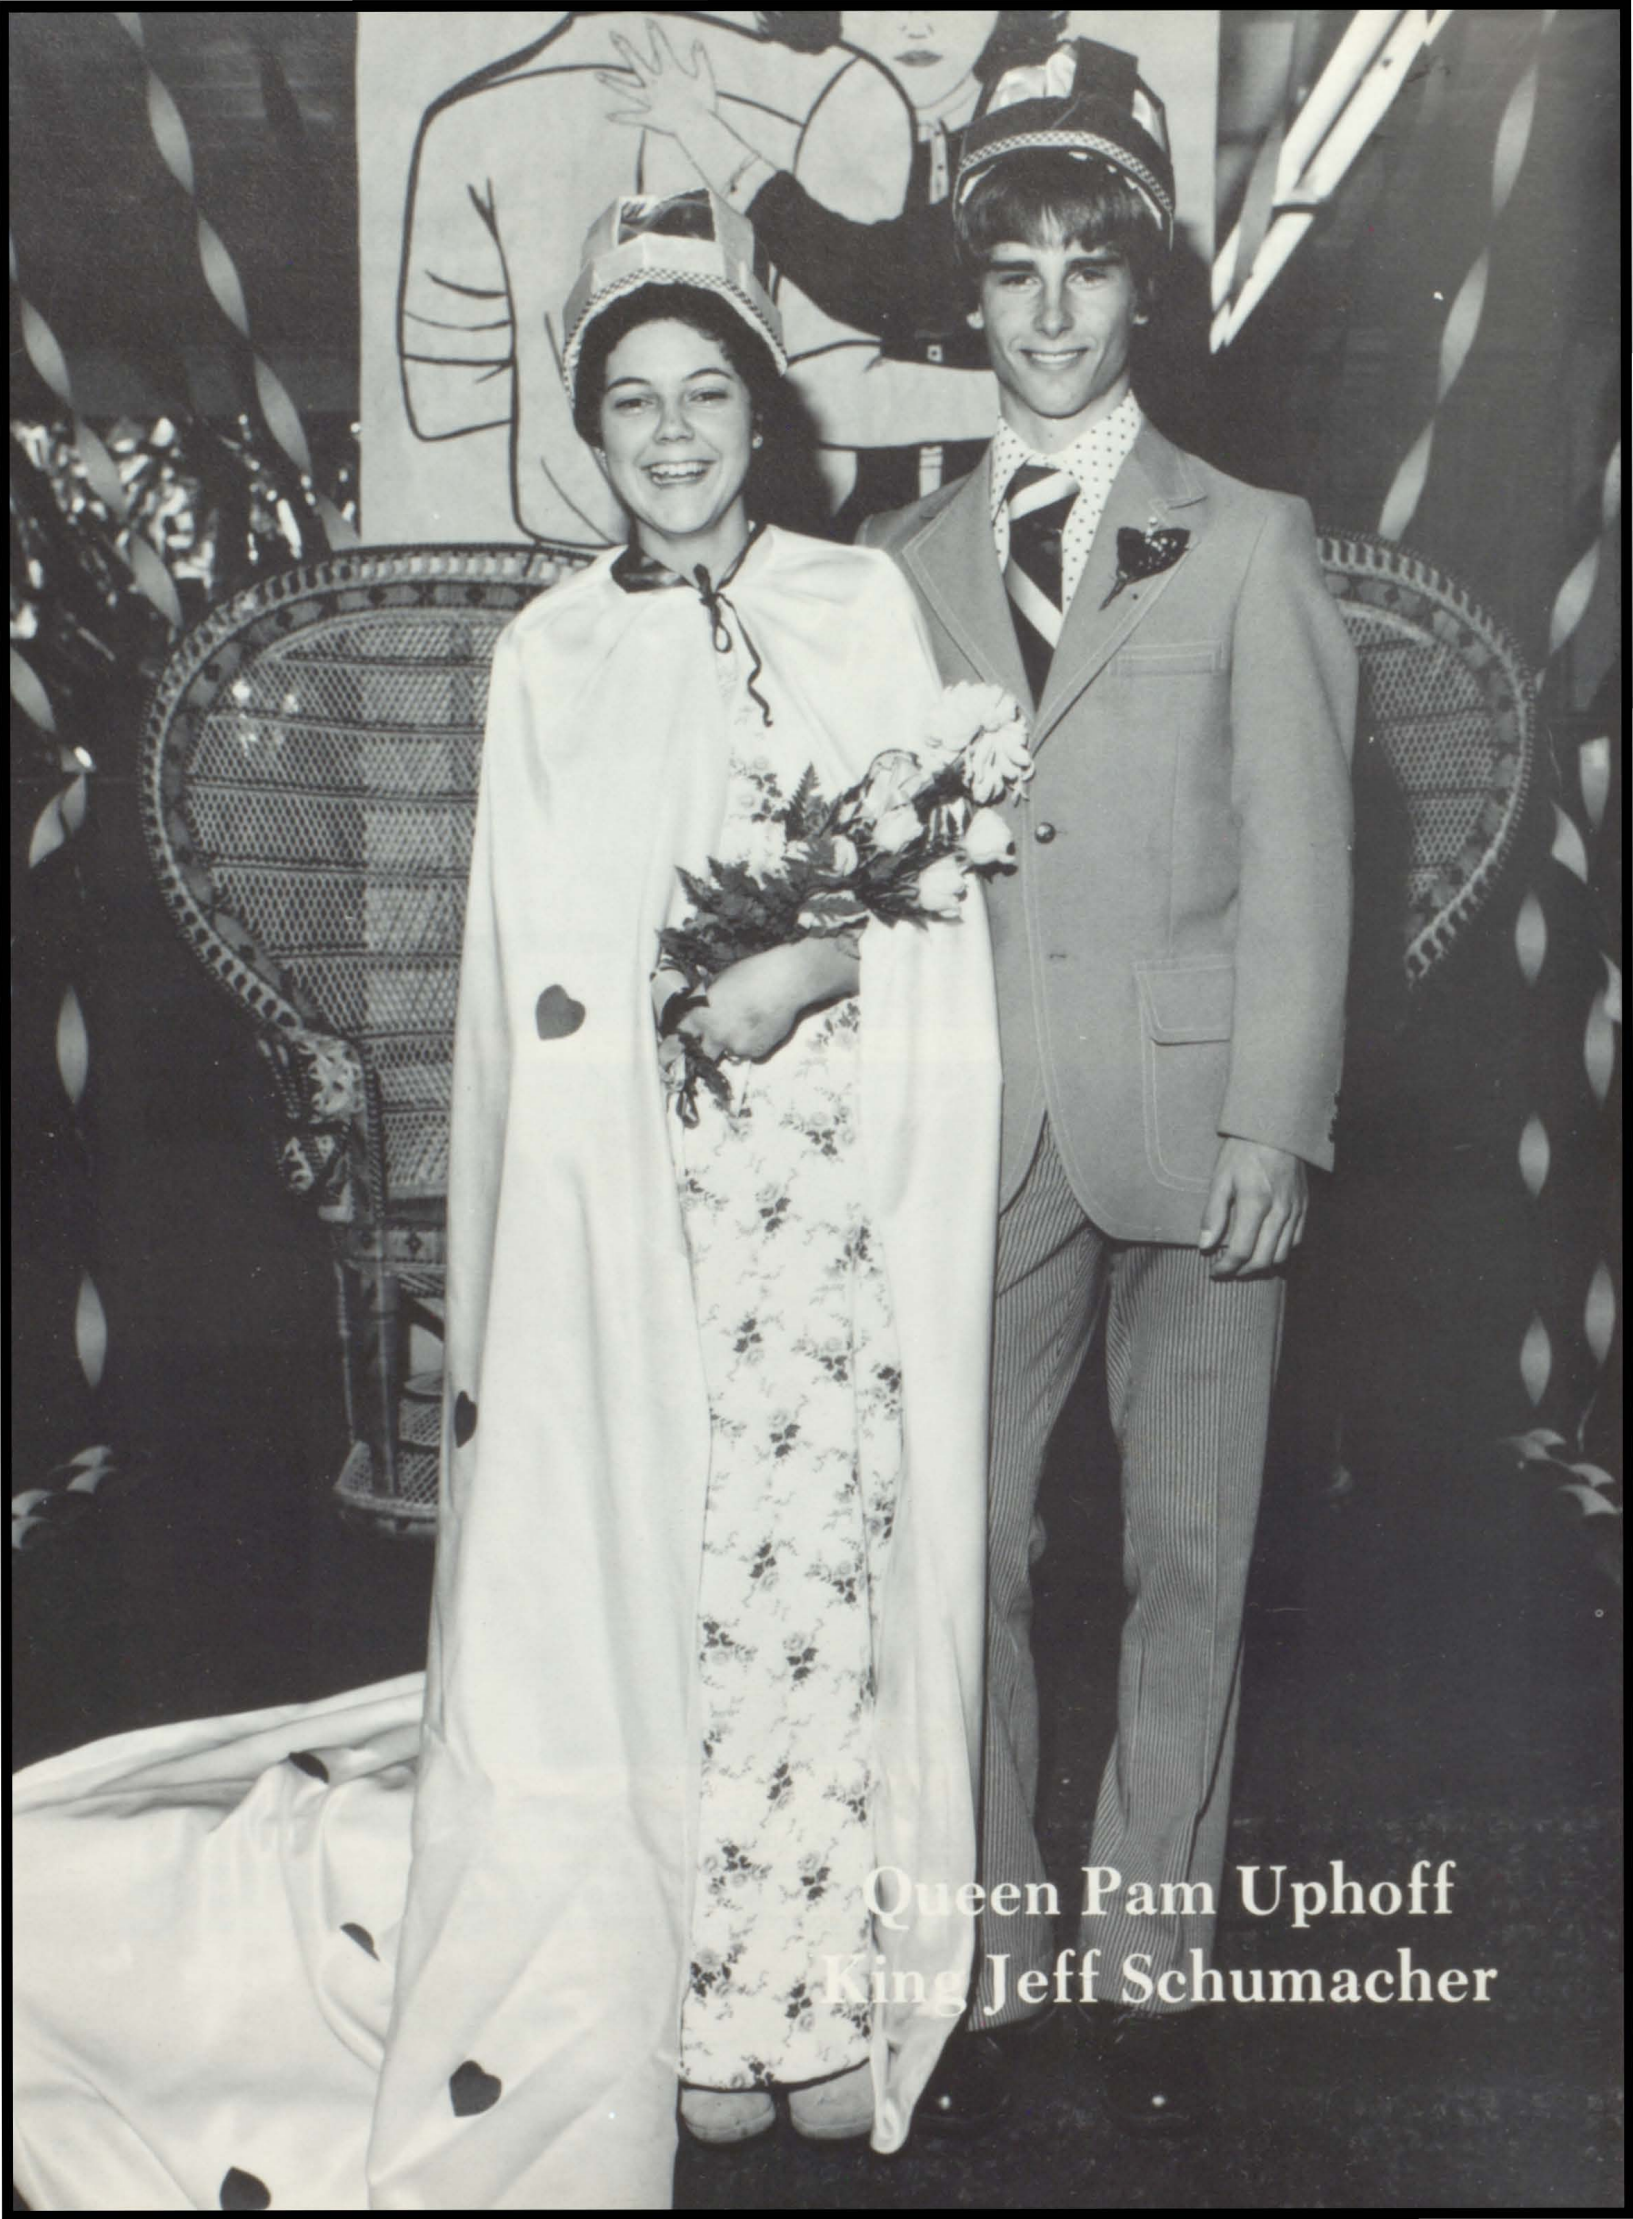

Music Hath A Charm And Language Is No Barrier To The Lovers Of Music

THE TRIO CANDIDO direct from Belgium, displayed great skill and technique to provide a very interesting musical program for all the students and faculty.

Their whole instrumental performance was based solely on the use of harmonicas. To the amazement and delight of the students they produced harmonicas of all sizes varying from those shown in the picture to such a tiny one that it could hardly be seen in the players hand.

On November 4, the Kaleidoscope Players from the State Theater of New Mexico, presented a program entitled "This Land is Your Land". The program featured Jan Jeter and Debra Martin, both of Lubbock, Texas, who are theatre and music majors. Their special selections were chosen as a salute to the Bicentennial celebration. They presented folk songs that comprise our American history.

It Happens Only Once

The sophomores chose American Graffiti Land for the 1975 Sweetheart theme and used those ideas to transform the cafeteria into quite a different scene for the evening. Custer's Last Band provided the music. The strains of Blueberry Hill ushered in the royal candidates. Kari Hittner and Brent Maslonka, crown bearers led the march. They were accompanied by last year's king and queen, Bob Shonka and Gail Oppliger. As they reached the throne, Gail placed the crown on Jeff Schumacher, thus announcing him to be new King. Jeff approached Pam Uphoff and placed the queen's crown on her as 1975 Sweetheart Queen. The Royal couple are shown left, as they lead the first dance. Background faces portray the spirit of the evening. So much to see and talk about. A lovely evening, right, Noreen? and don't you think so, too, Ron?

Junior — Senior Prom 1975

The 1975 Junior-Senior Prom was held on April 26 in the cafeteria. For a change of pace, the dinner was served informally while the dance was a dress-up occasion. Music was provided by "Bozo", a seven member band with both male and female lead singers. Seniors chose a circus theme with the main colors of green, yellow, and pink. Balloons and bright crepe paper set the mood for an evening of dancing to the music of "Bozo".

Pam Uphoff receives the Columbus Sertoma Scholarship. She was the recipient of the Editor's Award for work on the Annual, and the National Honor Society pin of membership. Her Co-editor, Joan Taylor, (Below) also received a medal for her work on the Annual. Joan is the recipient of the American Legion Scholarship to Platte College.

Above: Joan Placzek, winner of the Bee Line Scholarship, also recipient of the National Choral Award. Right: Lynne Duren was awarded the Platte County Agricultural Scholarship. She also received a four-year Regents Scholarship. Lynne was recognized for her work in the National Honor Society and her work on the Scotus Annual.

SOME RECOGNITIONS ARE REWARDS FOR EFFORT; OTHERS ARE CHALLENGES TO FURTHER ADVANCEMENT.

LEFT: Ron Miksch accepts a Platte County Scholarship. Ron was also an alternate for a Regents Scholarship. BELOW: John Toof is granted the Loup Power District Scholarship to Platte College. Other scholarship winners that the camera did not catch were--Dan Steiner, Danette Cerny, Cheryl Wieser, Joan Micek, Lynn Hoebing, and Sue Schaecher.

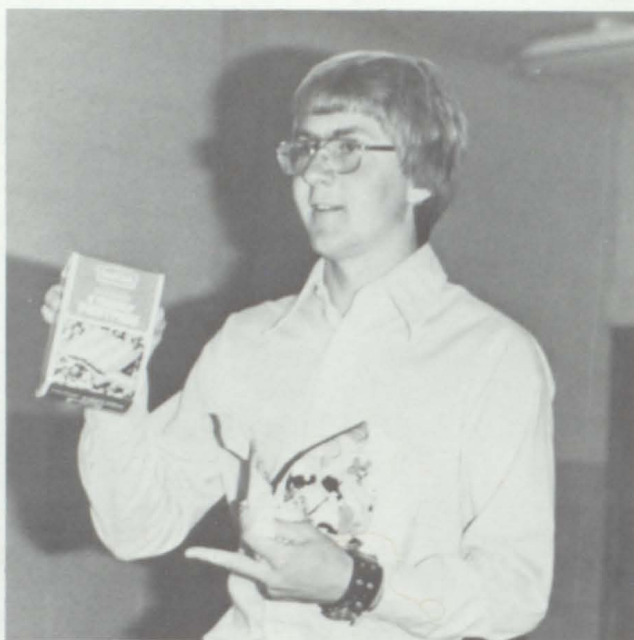

Natalie and Sister Colette

Natalie Grohs received a Mount Marty Scholarship and was named an alternate for the Platte County Agricultural and also Regents Scholarships. She accepted a two year award for work on the Annual.

Surprises And Smiles Portray Senior Day

Senior day, sponsored by the freshman class, provided a harvest of "awards" for deserving senior accomplishments. At lunch, prizes were bestowed on the winners, who were voted upon by classmates and underclassmen. Seniors were dubbed such titles as "Miss Blabbermouth", "Teachers' Pet", and "Laziest Senior", all in the spirit of fun. Freshmen provided the program along with a farewell cake and decorated tables.

1975 Boy And Girl Staters Selected

Lori Roy and Gregg Voboril were selected to represent Scotus at the Girl and Boy Cornhusker State Convention held on the University of Nebraska campus in Lincoln, June 5-11.

Lori has been in the Pep club for three years, was Junior class president, and is a member of the Student Council. In her junior year she was admitted to the National Honor Society, she worked on the Scotus Annual staff, and joined YARC, to work with retarded children. She has been on the honor roll for three consecutive years and participated in track and girls' intramural basketball in her freshman and sophomore years. She is sponsored by Catholic Daughters of America, Court Little Flower. Her alternate is Kathy Korger.

Greg Voboril, chosen to represent Scotus at Boys State, is sponsored by the Columbus Noon Lions Club. His alternate is David Cimpl.

Greg was active in football and track. He lettered all three years and is a member of the S Club. He, too, has been an honor student for three consecutive years, he has served a year as Student Council representative, has participated in speech and chorus, elected County Clerk on County Government day.

Apke Highlights Athletic Tribute

Guest speaker for the 1975 athletic banquet was Mr. Tom Apke (right), head coach of basketball at Creighton University. Mr. Apke spoke on the lessons and benefits derived from participation in high school athletics. Dedication and team pride were stressed as important aspects in sacrificing toward a common goal. Coach Apke added that senior leadership was necessary to continue high athletic standards.

Co-winners for the Male Athlete of the Year were announced for the second time in seventeen years at Scotus. They were Gregg Grubaugh and Dan Steiner (bottom right). Chosen as the second Female Athlete of the Year was Cheryl Wieser (bottom left). Mr. Dan Jochum, president of the Shamrock Club presented both of these awards.

Jeff Schumacher (top left), accepts the KTTT Scholarship from Mr. Ralph Wayne. The recipient of this award is selected on the basis of being a scholar as well as an athlete.

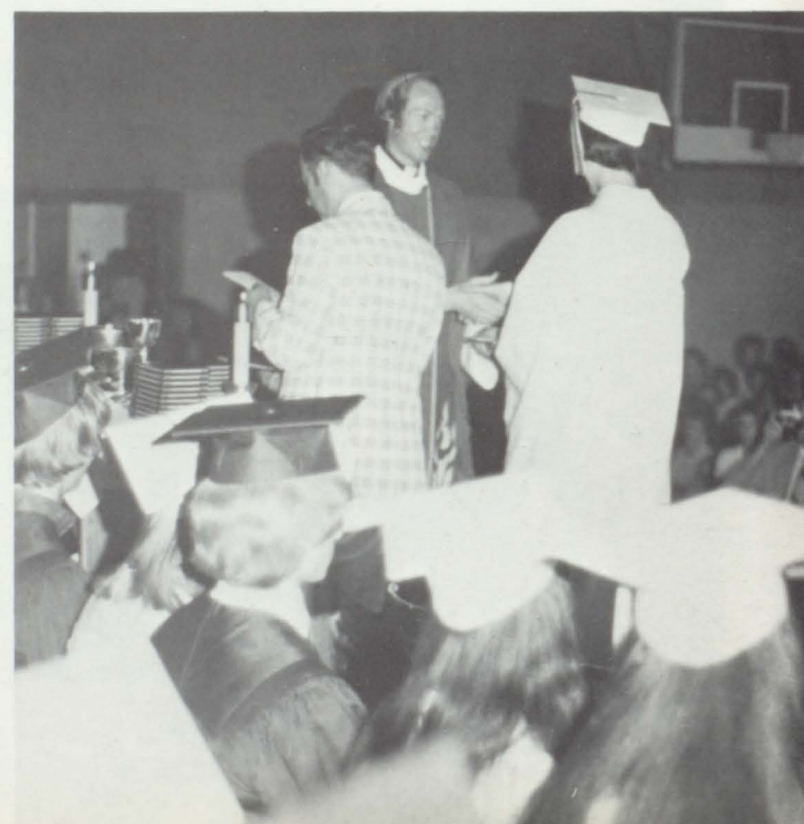

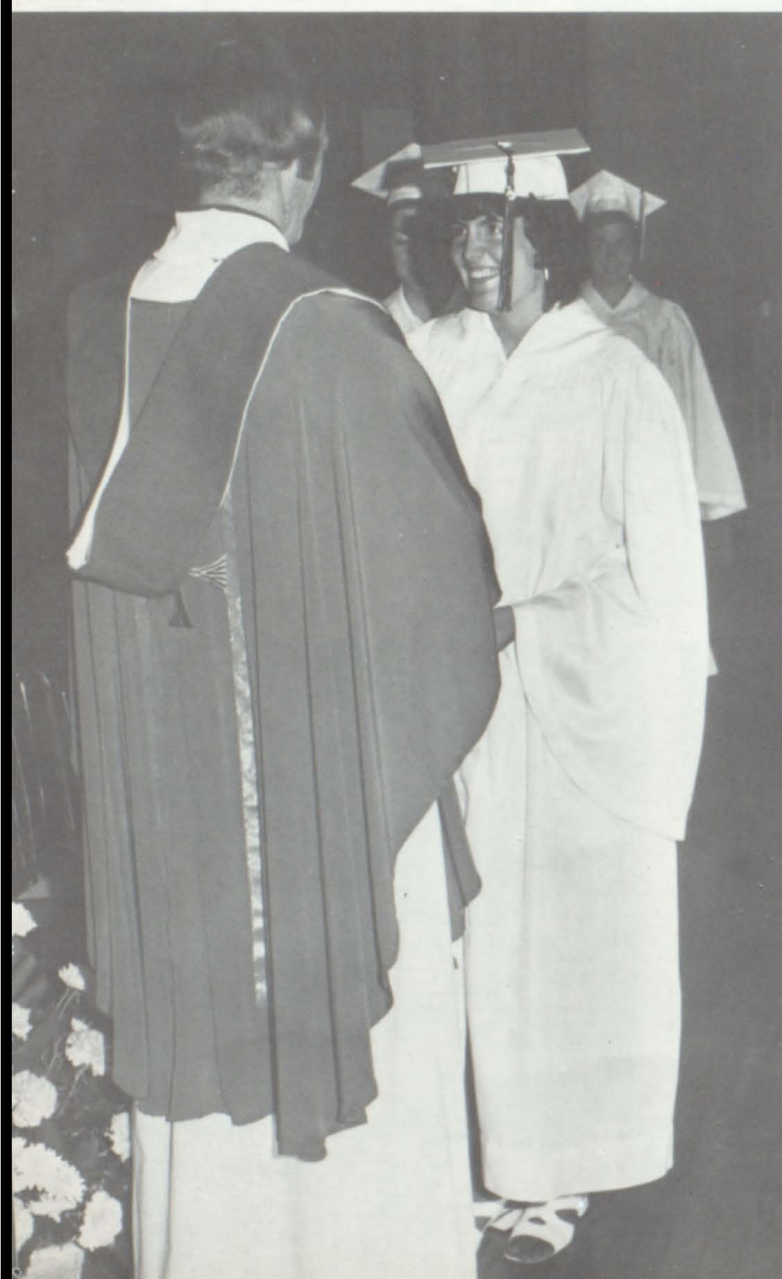

Winner of the 1975 Bill Toomey Scholarship, Randy Wieser (top right) receives this award from Mr. Gary Fendrick.

Presenting the Babe Ruth Award was athletic director, Mr. Vern Younger. The 1975 winners were Natalie Grohs and Ron Mimick (left). This award is based on school spirit and leadership.

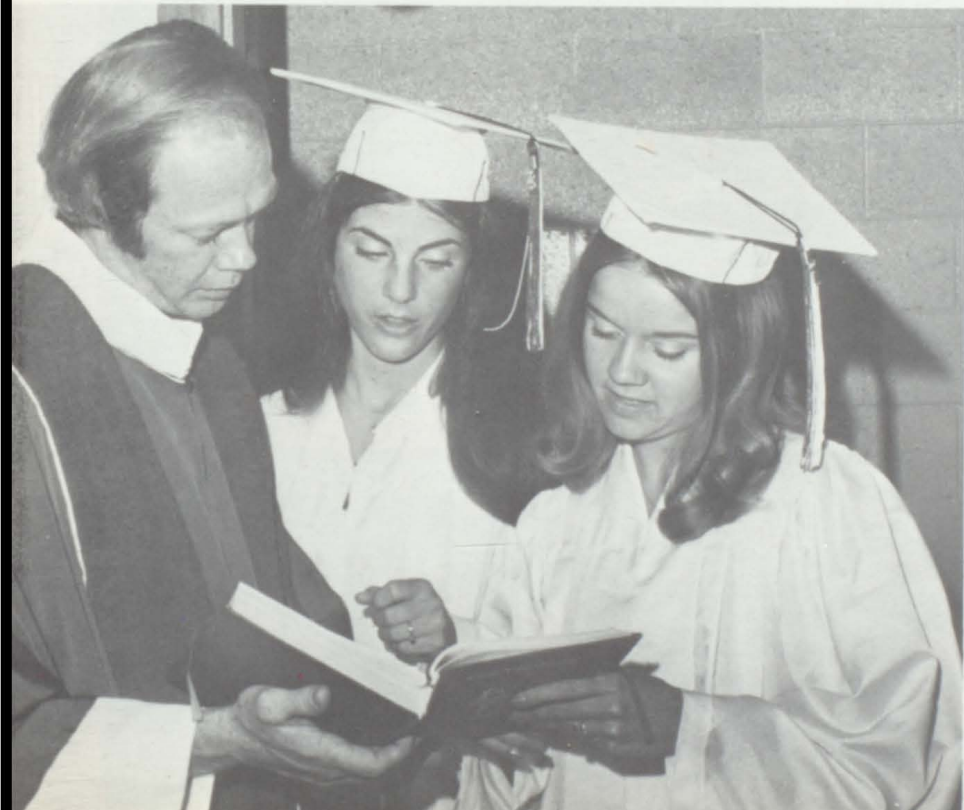

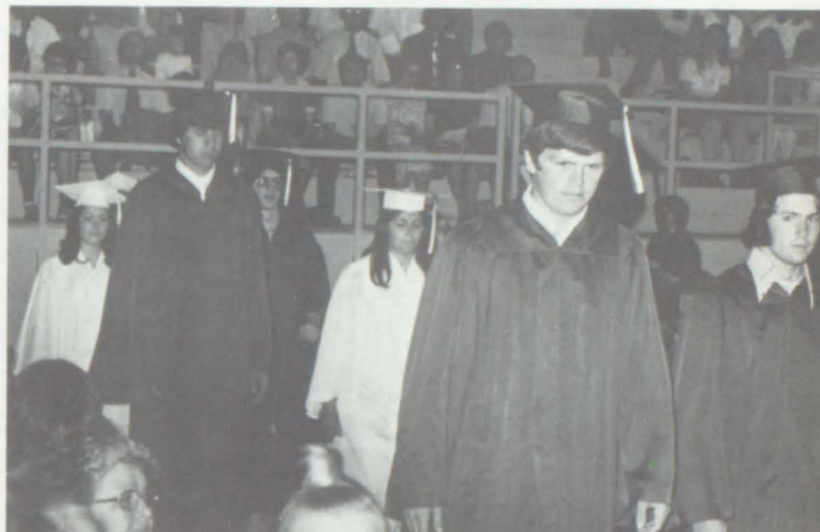

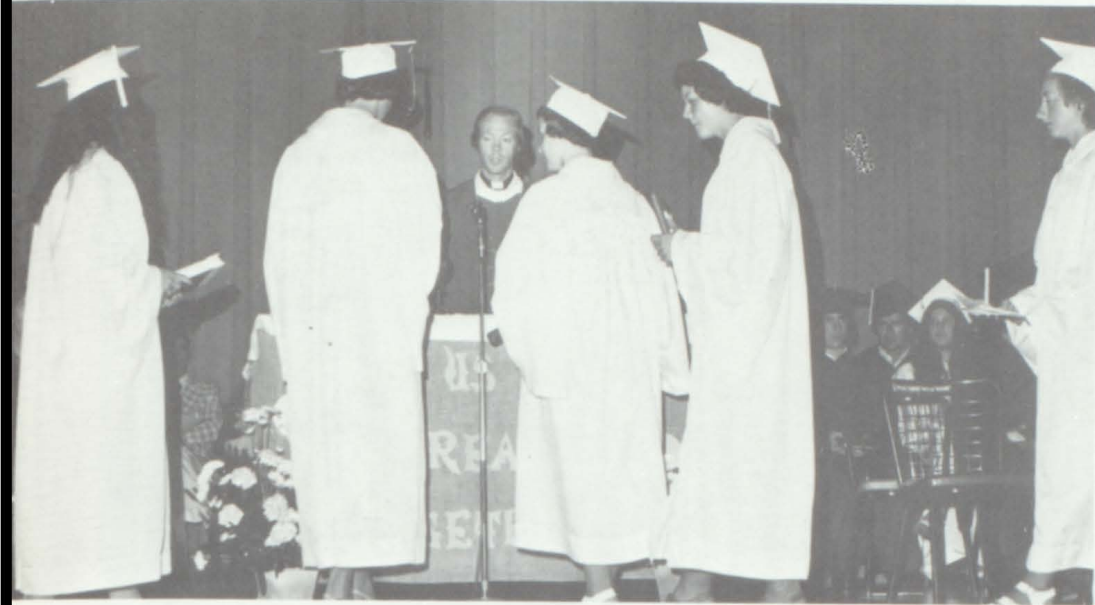

Coaches of each sport also named letter persons and told of various honors earned.

Graduation 1975

Graduation Mass was held at 2:00 PM on Sunday, the eighteenth of May in the Scotus gym. Sixty seniors were presented by Mr. Hittner, principal, and diplomas were conferred by Fr. Buschelman, superintendent.

Lector was Kevin Bernt, who also gave an introduction. Coni Mares and Joyce Feehan each read an Epistle. Gregg Melliger, senior class president gave the graduation address which centered on the good education and the benefits gained by the class of 1975 from Scotus and a Catholic education. Offertory petitions were given by Jeff Schumacher and thanksgiving petitions were read by Penny Uphoff. Representatives from each school organization presented gifts during the offertory procession.

The Shamrock Varsity, for the second consecutive year, had an outstanding grid season in 1974. The offense scored an average of 25 points per game, while the defense allowed only 6.7 points per opponent. The leading rusher and scorer was junior, Dan Martin.

In addition to the 8-2 record, the Irish enjoyed many high lights during the season. Among these was the thrilling 6-0 Homecoming victory over David City. Several Shamrocks received All-Centennial Conference honors, Gregg Grubaugh, Dan Steiner, Ron Mimick, Dan Martin, and John Fischer.

The Shamrocks finished the season with a seventh place ranking in the Omaha World Herald and a sixth place rating in the Lincoln Journal.

Senior Leadership Boosts To Victory

Success in basketball demands many things; team unity, a good coach, talent, hard work, and leadership. The Shamrocks this year combined all of these factors to build an outstanding team and a fine record. A big part of this success was the leadership of the seniors.

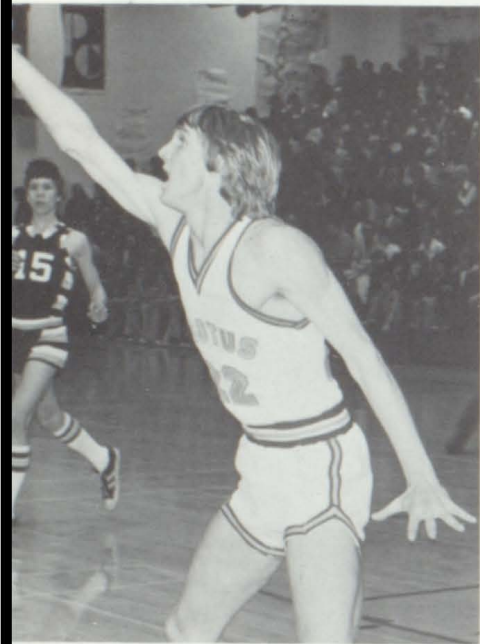

Gregg Grubaugh achieved the honor of All-State second team, while Conrad Slusarski was voted to the All-State honorable mention list in the Lincoln Journal. Grubaugh was also voted to the Coaches All-Star Team and participated in the annual North-South game. Grubaugh and Slusarski were members of the All-Centennial Conference first team, and Kurt Kline and junior John Fischer achieved second team.

The average offense of the team totaled 70.4 points per game, while on defense, the Shamrocks allowed an average of 58.8 points per game. Best team offense was against Wahoo Neumann when Scotus scored 102 points. From every aspect, the 1974-75 season was one to be remembered.

The seven varsity cheerleaders pictured below, attended a clinic for cheerleaders which is sponsored by the National Cheerleaders Association each year. This was held at Chadron State College and attended by 350 girls. It lasted four days and the highlight of the clinic is the presentation of awards.

This year the cheerleaders received four ribbons, Superior; the red, white and blue Spirit Stick, and the Sparkplug. The latter award is given to the cheering squad that shows the most spirit and pep. It is voted upon by all 350 girls that attend the clinic and is the highest award given.

Scotus Thespians Promote Dramatics

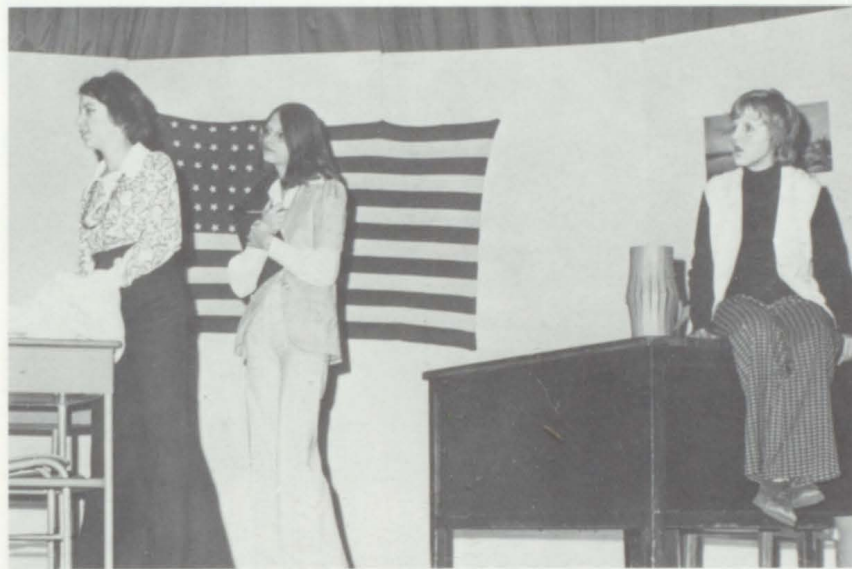

The Thespians Club initiated three new members this year. For three days the pledges had to wear stage make-up to classes and also memorize thirty lines of Shakespeare before they were admitted into the society. The club engages in such activities as presenting plays, competing in speech contests, and for the last two years, it has presented a Dinner Theater. It has been active in selling candy after school hours as a money raising project for its self support and in order to be able to pursue new areas of development.

Special honors were won by Louise Scott in the District Meet which was held at Wayne State College. This advanced her to State Competition.

The drama department chose for its first school play a comedy entitled "Our Miss Brooks". The play is about a school teacher who has problems. Trying to get out of her difficult situations only plunges her deeper into trouble; like having the coach's star player quit the team to play the leading role, and getting herself complicated in private and public entanglements, when she really did not want to direct the play in the first place.

The Drama department presented the full-length comedy, M A S H, at its annual dinner theater. It was produced by special arrangement with Contemporary Drama Service, and the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago. A spaghetti dinner served with red wine was prepared by the Scotus Mother Club.

This was the third dinner theater Scotus has presented and it has gained in popularity with each year's audience. A full evening of entertainment coupled with a spaghetti dinner has proved successful as a club project.

Corporal "Radar" Reilly enjoys his private little performance. Eh, Bob?

Noreen Dowd presents Mr. Fendrick with a suitcase, a farewell gift from the club. This was his last year at Scotus as drama coach and speech director. He will be entering another field of work when this year's teaching job is finished.

When The Council Speaks, People Listen

The wishes of the Scotus students are conveyed to the Administration through the Student Council. All details of upcoming student activities are channeled to it by the representatives who have been elected by the homerooms and by heads of the various school organizations. Homeroom representatives are responsible for assisting with the sale of raffle tickets for Shamrock Night, its biggest project. The Council also sponsored- Shamrocks for Dystrophy drive, promoted hall decorations for Homecoming Spirit Week, and purchased a new Homecoming Cape. The Colgate-Palmolive labels the students collected were traded in for cash, and $100 donated toward the Scotus Scholarship Fund.

Students have been well-informed of school happenings by its pages. An issue by the Juniors was a special feature of the year. Seniors had the final issue.

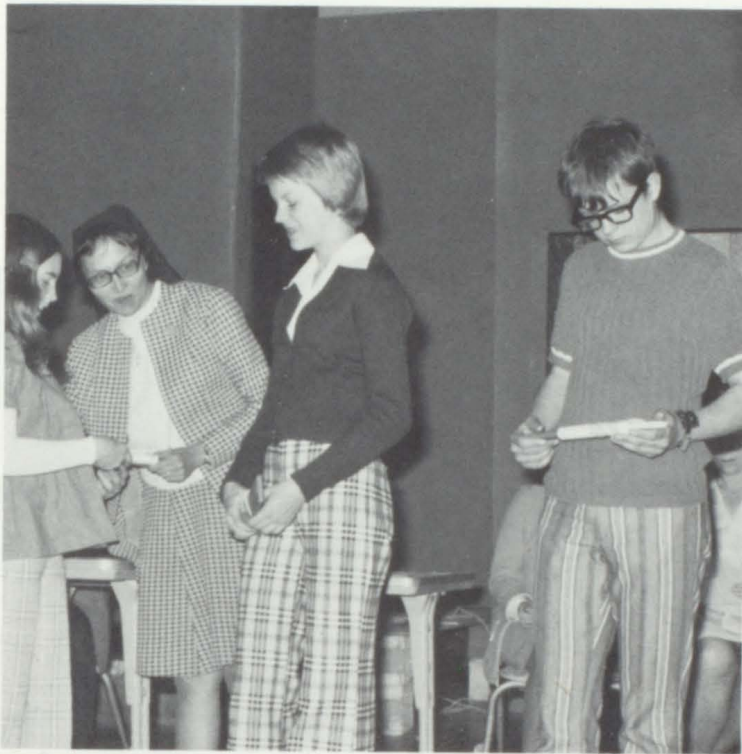

Scientists Win Honors

Scotus science students placed well in the Nebraska City Regional Science Fair. In the senior division, Jean Czuba ranked second in Behavioral Sciences and Nick Hajek was fourth in the Chemistry section. In the junior high division, Connie Hajek took third in the chemistry division, Julie Hajek won first place in microbiology, and Sally Sachaecher and Jerry Sokol came in second with their Space Science project. The latter also placed in the top six overall awards in the junior high division.

Approximately 300 students from about thirty schools entered 288 projects. Scotus sent seven students with six projects.

Officiates At Lakeview

Mr. Joseph Preusser, Dean of Faculty at Platte College, told members of the National Honor Society, at their Induction Ceremony that they were there because they had striven hard to achieve the standards of the organization: knowledge, character, scholarship and service. He commended them for promoting these goals to better their work and study habits thus improving their own lives and the lives of their peers.

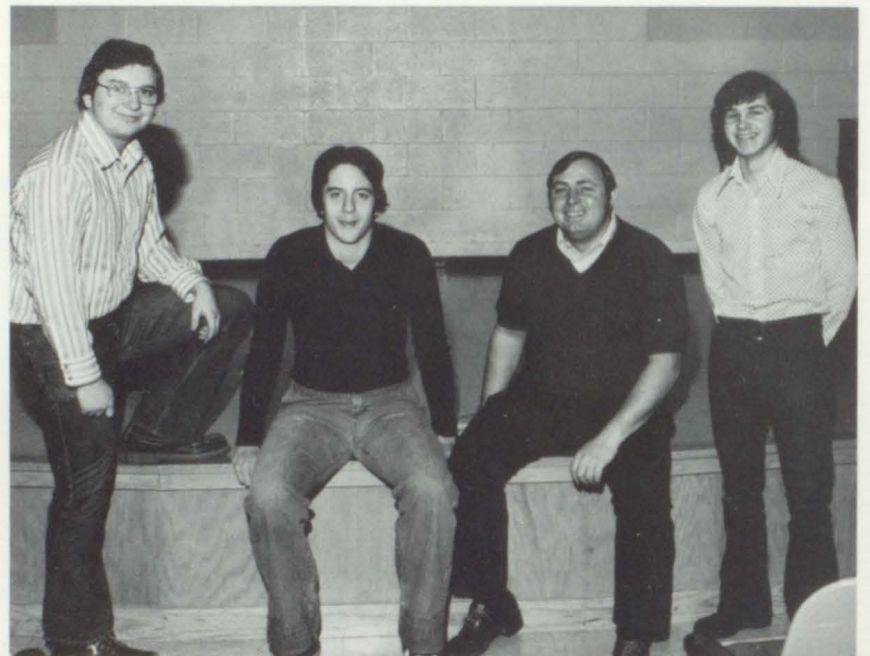

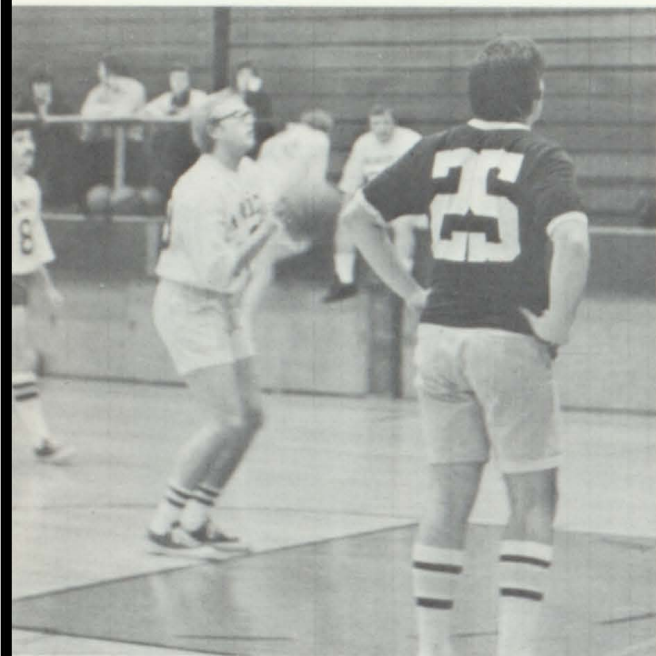

Mr. Preusser was guest speaker for the Society's Induction Ceremony, in Memorial Hall on April 26. Eighteen new members were admitted.

This year the Scotus National Honor Society received the invitation to officiate at the first Lakeview High School National Honor Society Induction ceremony. Lakeview had its initial meeting in the fall. Several senior members of the Scotus organization volunteered to serve at the initial Induction ceremony. They are pictured above during the activity. President Sue Schaecher is at the podium, J. Schumacher, J. Czuba, K. Bernt, C. Wieser, and R. Miksch look on.

S-Club Sponsors Faculty And Intramural Game

S-CLUB OFFICERS. J. Jarecke, Secretary-Treasurer; G. Grubaugh, President; Mr. Puetz, Advisor; D. Zabawa, Vice-president.

The resourceful S-Club had fun while raising funds this year. In March, the club sponsored two basketball games—one between the Scotus faculty and the David City Aquinas faculty, and the other between the Intramural All Stars of both schools. Feelings ran high as the traditional Scotus-Aquinas rivalry was rekindled. The faculty game provided thrills and spills for the fans as they awaited the big All-Star game.

The Shamrock faculty won the game after a close fourth quarter, with a seam-sawing score. After a short warm-up period, the Shamrock-Monarch battle began. It was a close race all the way but the Shamrocks pulled through, making the evening a great fund-raising success for the hard-working members of the S-Club.

STUDENT

Experience

My years in high school are almost gone,
 But not the memories of things that I've done,
 Things experienced with friends, classmates and teachers,
 Whether they be good or bad.
 For memories shall live forever.
 Even after friends have gone their separate ways,
 I will remember the kindness, emotions and fun
 That others shared with me.
 And I will be grateful for
 All of these moments—
 For even if I've not a penny, no one can ever deprive me
 Of that memorable part of my life lived amidst friends.

ENGLISH STUDENT GIVES HER IMPRESSIONS OF SCOTUS

Donna Monteforte is a new student from London. She is excited about Pep club and volleyball. Homecoming and Sweetheart activities are new experiences. In London they have two weeks vacation for Christmas, Easter and half-term holidays. Summer vacation is only six weeks. In England they leave school at sixteen and go on to college or the university. They do not have graduation. Children do not have as much activity at school but they enjoy themselves with much less money. All student go half price. A tour of London in a Red Rover double decker costs 50 pence or $1.50, records 10p or 25¢, and a Saturday A.M. picture 5p or 12¢.

Donna likes Scotus and the classes and activities. She enjoys Columbus, too, but she says London has more activity.

JUNIOR

Junior High Enrollment Sets Record

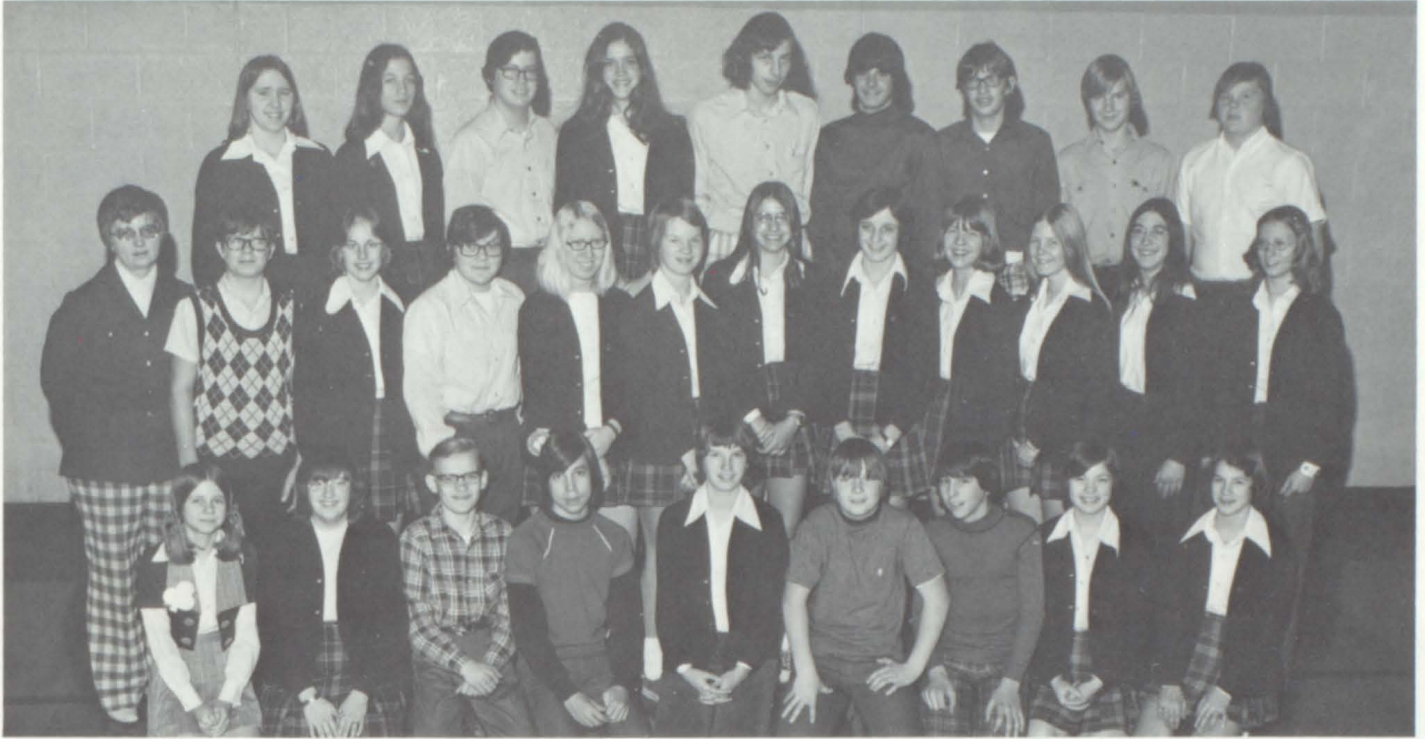

The 1974-75 school year set a new all-time record enrollment for the Scotus Junior High School. There were 211 students in the seventh and eighth grades combined.

Mr. Jahn, Principal, feels that this number of students offers new challenges in curriculum for the school. A large enrollment provides the school with the opportunity to reach many more students at an age when basic development in faith and a set of definite Christian principles are needed to form future leaders for our nation.

Serves With A Smile

Miss Mabel Hadcock, Junior High Librarian, is always eager to lend a helping hand in the library. She came to Scotus in 1969, when the Scotus senior high library was moved from the old building to its present site in Scotus. Many hours of work and organization went into that move and it was a full time job for her and Sister Gerard to accomplish that job.

In 1972, Miss Hadcock took a giant step up to the third floor in Junior high. Now, a part-time worker in the library, she still has time to perform all the duties of a librarian. She supervises the library, orders new books, types cards, and keeps the library up-to-date and functioning well.

The junior high students regard her as a valuable asset to the Junior High Library.

A Postscript From The Editors

We have tried through the selection of photographs that appear in this book, to capture those moments here at Scotus which will be forever remembered. May they bring reflections of the past and an enlightenment for tomorrow to all those who have shared in these experiences during 1975.

It would be nearly impossible for us to convey a personal vote of thanks to all who have helped us make this book. We have been able to present such a variety of photographs only through the fine co-operation of Landgren Studio, Cheryl Wieser, our senior photographer and the Columbus Telegram staff. To these and to the members of the Scotus Annual staff, who have spent endless hours in putting these memories into a distinctive format, characteristic to Scotus, we offer sincere thanks.

And finally, special thanks to Sister Colette, our adviser, for her personal love and DEDICATION. Sister has unselfishly contributed her tireless efforts to compile the last nine volumes of the Scotus Annual. May God reward her with beautiful and gratifying memories of all the experiences she has shared with us in producing the 1975 SCOTUS.
