A Year in Review

The 1986-87 school year at Scotus Central Catholic was filled with activities and acquiring new items.

New band uniforms and a new van were among items purchased. The Scotus students again devoted time to sales. The sophomore candy bar sales and junior magazine sales were successful. A senior high record was broken for raffle ticket sales. Scotus also competed well in activities as many teams did well at state competitions. The school year was a celebration at Scotus High School.

ac a-dem ic

Webster's New International Dictionary defines ac a-dem ic as conforming to scholastic traditions or rules; conventional; formal; as graceful academic verse. At Scotus the tradition of academics continues. The eighth period classes kept students busy studying, reading, writing, and, of course, arithmetic.

Celebrating the Eucharist is always a big part of the Scotus school year. The Campus Ministry organizes the masses with candles, music, slides, and inspirational readings. This school year began when Scotus along with St. Bonaventure's, St. Isidore's, and St. Anthony's schools to celebrate Columbus' Education Week at Frankfurt Square. All of our masses followed this same tradition of excellence and contributed to the Christian aspects of the school year.

A new addition to the year was Saturday midnight masses at St. Bonaventure church. Because of the busy schedules and the convenience of this mass, it became a big hit among the students who were able to celebrate the Eucharist in an atmosphere which made them closer to each other. Fr. Wayne is responsible for the success of this mass.

Sports - A Winning Tradition

The winning tradition at Scotus Catholic continued throughout the 1986-1987 athletic year. The Shamrocks athletic program was very competitive in every sport they participated in. Whether it was girls or boys, day or night, a game, a match, or a tournament, the Shamrocks have a well-known reputation for outstanding athletic achievements.

It didn't matter if the athletes cheered on the sideline, sat on the bench, or played the game, but everyone had their own memories of the past year in sports.

Review: World and Local News

The world's events of 1986-87 taught us that, regardless of our leaders faults, the people of the world will fight for their freedom. In China, college students protested, in American 60's style, their government's denial of their freedom. Massive riots were held by South African blacks, but apartheid continued. College students in South Korea protested the ways of their right-wing government and United States involvement in their country. In the United States, hundreds marched across the country to show their dedication to world peace. Terrorism decreased this year, while European corporations flubbed by dumping toxic waste in the Rhine River.

The cocaine-related deaths of basketball star Len Bias and professional football player Don Rogers brought out the dangers of drug use in our society. Crack, a form of cocaine, was the new drug of choice. Even President and Mrs. Reagan went on TV to combat the problem. AIDS spread to more people, while several cures failed. In August, new Supreme Court Justice William Rehnquist was inaugurated, but not without a fight from Senate Democrats. In the November Elections, the Democrats gained control of the Senate, making President Reagan's last two years difficult ones. In our state, Democrat Helen Boosalis and Republican Kay Orr battled for the governorship, the first time two women were up for the post in our nations history. Mrs. Orr was the victor.

Our local economy received a great boost this year. Appleton Electric opened, employing hundreds of Columbus residents. Several new restaurants opened also. Columbus was most proud of Donna Schieffer, a 1985 Scotus graduate, who represented Nebraska in the Miss America Pageant. Another Scotus graduate, Jill Reiser, was crowned 1986 Miss Columbus.

Fads n' Fashion

Over the years, fashion at its best has portrayed the attitudes and emotions of the people. This school year was no exception. Topping off the fashion charts, at least at Scotus Central Catholic, was the ever so popular five button, forest green, smokey gray, and coal black plaid "mini" skirt. However, trendy styles were the thing, as both classically old and flashly new fads took dominance over the students bodies and their money. Designer names such as Coca-Cola, Guess, Outback Red, and Pepe were king in the fashion world as they put out their own versions of: jean jackets, jeans (especially faded ones), oversized shirts, and mini skirts. But Goodwill Shopping was the place to be if you were looking for the old classics such as trench coats and the Blues Brothers' look.

Moving down the fashion chart to the lower extremities of the body are the feet. This year's favorite clodhoppers to be seen in were: those comfy tenny runners called Reebok, short black chow boots with socks showing over the jeans, flats in every color imaginable, and yes even shoes that look like they came from a Raggedy Ann comic book. There were also some fads that were worn on the body but not on the feet. These include, even another new invention for the hair called banana clips, preppie glasses, friendship bracelets, Swatches, and yet for another year those popular sunglasses called shades.

Finally, of course there were some fads that had nothing to do with fashion. Probably one of the most popular of these were the devilish little locker munchies that were so secretly popped into our mouths like drug addicts. There was also mousse, mousse, and more mousse. Mousse in make-up, colored for hair, suntan lotion, and regular mousse. Other fads included sitting around at 11:30 P.M. watching David Letterman cut up our society.

Work means money for fun

For some high school students the final bell does not bring the end of a day, but the beginning of one. Not only do people have to slave over homework or go to practice for speech or sports, but some must also go to after school jobs.

The jobs which students have vary greatly: Some flip hamburgers at local fast food places; some sack groceries at supermarkets; others work at pizza places, still others are waiters and waitresses at area restaurants; some even babysit, clean houses, or mow lawns. The minimum wages or starting wages for these jobs is $3.35, and this is what the majority start at, with a hope at getting a slight raise. Columbus is a good place for finding jobs, with McDonalds, Burger King, and Hy-Vee being the largest employers.

It takes a dedicated person to have a job. They must balance their studies, activities, family, and social life with a job and still enjoy their high school days. However, students do not work their lives away, they all seem to find time to go out and do what they want.

This year the students proved that you can have fun without our city being filled with dance spots and music arenas. Athletic events are one spot for students. On off nights, students enjoy hanging out at Burger King or 7-11. Going to movies is a favorite activity on the weeknights. Parties, wherever they were being held, provided the place to go for most. When the town is dead and one has nothing to do, many go cruising the mains or get some friends together and watch home movies to waste their time.

Homecoming

Students Tiptoe Through

The Homecoming week of 1986 was eventful and exciting. October 7-10 was filled with activities and events designed to instill enthusiasm in the student body. "Tiptoe Through the Tulips" was chosen by the seniors as the theme.

Because of no school on the Monday before Homecoming, the festivities were shortened by a day. This did not affect the students, however, as Tuesday brought Hat and Shade Day, starting the week on a good note. The traditional Hawaiian Day was held Wednesday. On Thursday, the day before the game and dance, a new day was instituted, D-Day. The annual Dress-up day was held Friday.

Friday night, rain covered the area. The football team suffered a disappointing loss to Wahoo Neumann, 12-7. The loss did not put a damper on the festivities, however, and the tension built at the coronation. Last year's king, Karl Hroza, and queen, Gina Sutko, along with attendants Sara Gonka, Erika Kottas, and Joey Eutenuer were on stage for the crowning of Homecoming King Pat Engelbert and Queen Lori Arlt.

Music was provided by Casey Conrad and Tom Van Berg.

Cross Country Girls Finish 8th at State

For the fourth straight season, the girls qualified for the state meet. The 1986 Scotus team returned Amy Hefti, Stephanie Wiese, Annette Sueper, Jill Hefti, Lisa Follette, and Patty Beck from last year's team. Jill Pilakowski, Teresa Romanek, Michelle Guernsey, Tiffany Codling and Trish Korger were new members of the team.

The girls won the Albion Invite, the Shamrock Invite, the David City Aquinas Invite, and the district meet. The team was second at the North Bend Invite and the Conference meet. At the state meet, the girls finished eight, down from fifth place of the year before but still a fine performance.

Cross Country Boys

Run the Hills

The 1986 Scotus boys cross country team was led by seniors Ed Fehringer and Eric Beck and sophomore Dan Parolek. The team had experience with returning lettermen Eric Beck, Kelly Beck, Ed Fehringer, Chad Labenz, and Dan Parolek, and newcomers Robbie Wade, Steve Soulliere, Greg Hunter, Ron Kresha, Rich Schmidt, and Darby Staub.

The team was third at the Albion Invite, second at the Shamrock Invite, and fourth at the Conference meet. Columbus and Lakeview were victims of the boys in the duals, while Elkhorn Mount Michael, the eventual state champions, defeated the Shamrocks. At the B-4 District meet, Scotus finished fourth, just missing a trip to the state meet. One runner, Dan Parolek, did qualify as an individual, finishing fifty-first place.

Football Team Tackles Season

The 1986 football season, though it ended in disappointment, had many memorable moments. The 1986 Shamrocks did not qualify for the state playoffs, ending a two year string, but the team scored a 6-4 record.

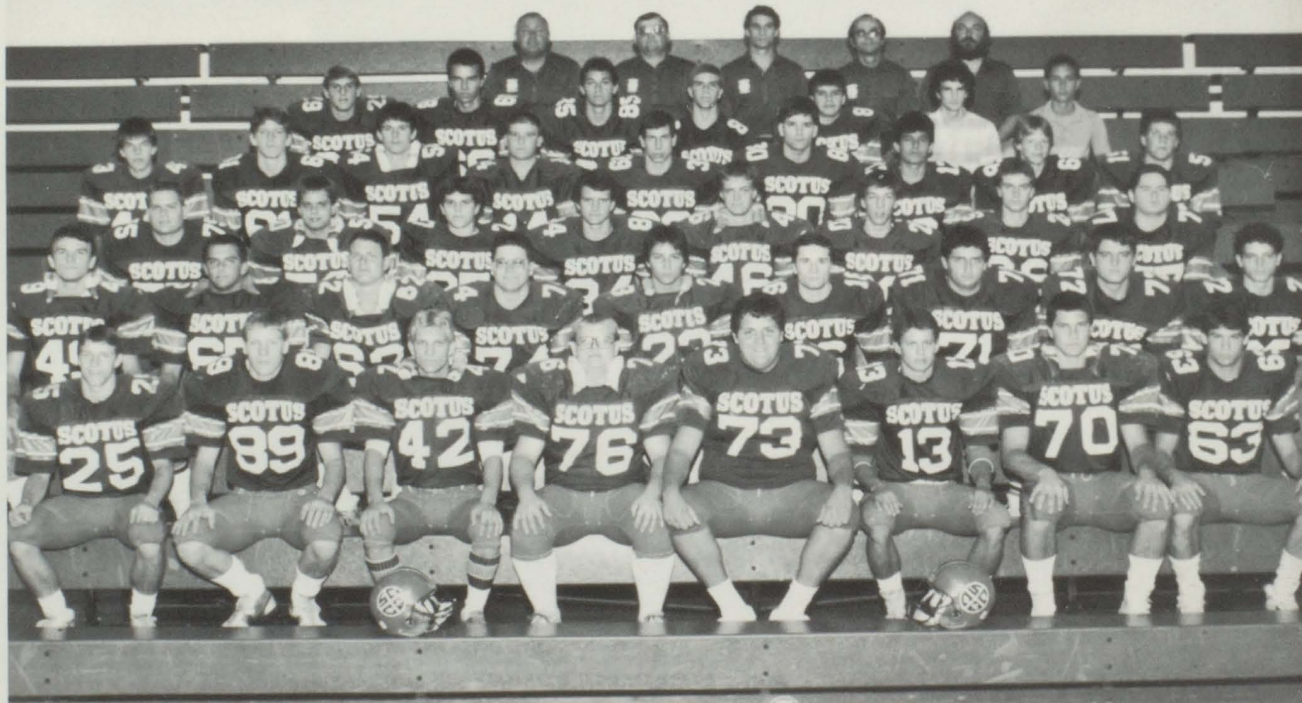

The team started the season with high hopes. Being led by the seniors, pre-season ratings found the Shamrocks in the top ten of Class B teams. The year started on a high note with wins over St. Joseph's and Hardington Cedar Catholic. The next challenge was a road game with Schuyler. The Warriors came into the game the number one team in the state. The game went into overtime with Schuyler squeaking out a victory and eventually winning the State championship. The Shamrocks lost a heart-breaking game with Wahoo Neumann on Homecoming. The year ending with two disappointing losses to rivals David City Aquinas and Fremont Bergan, two teams that made the playoffs.

The Shamrocks did receive some great individual honors. Pat Engelbert led the way, receiving First team All-State and Class B honors. Scott Krzycki was honorable mention. All-Conference selections were Pat Engelbert, Scott Krzycki, Chuck Korger, and Eric Hegi.

Conference + Districts + State=Champions!

Reigning as State Champions was the goal of the 1986 Shamrock volleyball team, and they achieved the goal with flying colors. Not only were there many individual honors, but the team won every match on the way to a 24-0 record.

At the start of the season, the Scotus volleyball squad was ranked first in Class B State. They never looked back. During the regular season, the team never lost a single game. The Shamrocks won the Raymond Central Tournament, the Conference Tournament, and all regular season games. Along the way, old rivals such as David City Aquinas, Fremont Bergan, Wahoo Neumann, Albion, and Columbus were defeated.

In the district tournament, the team defeated Wayne and Blair to set up a match with the number two team in the state, Hartington Cedar Catholic. The Shamrocks won the first game but narrowly lost the second. The final game was a close, exciting contest, but Scotus won to earn a trip to state.

In Lincoln, behind support from the fans, won easy straight-set victories over Lincoln Pius X and Ogallala. The championship game went to three games before the Shamrocks won the state championship.

Kelly Nicolas was chosen as second team all-stater, while Kelli

Martin was third team. These two were, along with Courtney Tooley, chosen Class B first team all-state, with Kelly Nicolas being named the honorary captain. Honorable mention honors went to Ann Bernt. Courtney Tooley, Kelli Martin, Kelly Nicolas, and Ann Bernt were all conference.

Kelly Nicolas and Kelli Martin were voted co-MVP's by their teammates. Ann Bernt and Juli Hroza were selected as best defensive players, while Angie Brozovsky was most improved. Kelli Rinkol was the most enthusiastic player.

Boys Display Team Effort

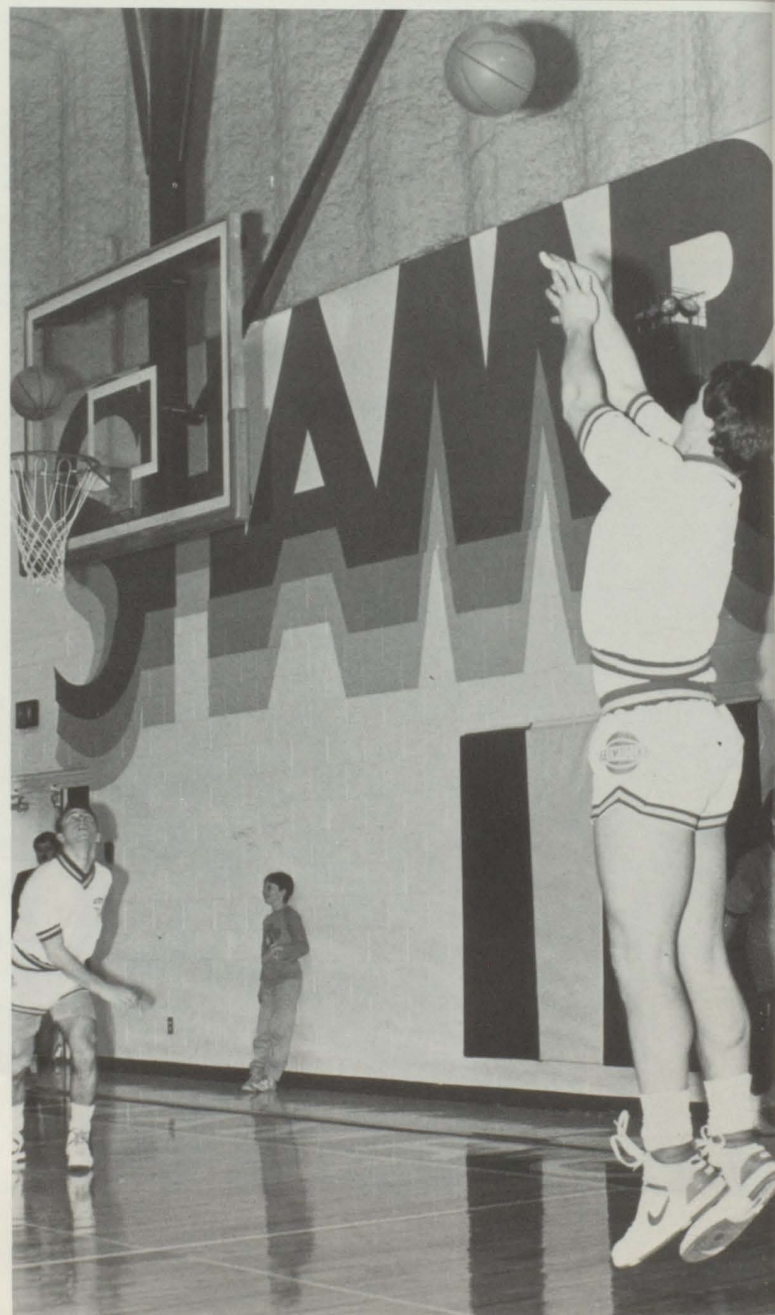

Bouncing back from three straight 8-11 seasons, the 1986-87 Scotus boys' basketball team, coached by Frank Spenceri after a one year hiatus, finished a fine 16-6 record. The Rocks started the season with eight straight wins and received a high ranking in the polls. After a narrow to higher ranked Schuyler, the boys defeated Boystown and Wahoo Neumann to get into the finals of the NCC tournament. For the second time, the Shamrocks lost to Council Bluffs' St. Alberts. In districts, the boys were upset by West Point, who went on to the state tourney. Despite ending on a sour note, the team had a satisfying season. Senior Pat Engelbert and Junior Steve Souillere each received all-state honorable mention and all-conference honors.

Girls End Season 21-1

The 1986-87 Shamrock girls' basketball team entered the season ranked first. The Lady Rocks rolled over all opponents, including Columbus High, Lakeview, Fremont Bergan, and David City Aquinas. After the regular season, the team was undefeated at 19-0, and still ranked first in Class B State. This year's team won the Holiday Tournament, NCC Division Tournament, and NCC Conference Tournament.

At the district tournament, the girls were seeded first. After defeating Schuyler and Blair, the Shamrocks had to face Hartington Cedar Catholic, HCC was the second ranked team, and people were waiting a long time for this game. It was a barn burner, and for the second straight year, Hartington upset Scotus to earn a berth to the state tournament, in which they finished second.

Again this year the Shamrocks had a lot of individual honors. Kelly Nicolas received first team Class B all-state and third team all-state. Kelli Martin was named to the second team Class B. Kelly Nicolas, Kelli Martin, Ann Bernt, and Kelli Rinkol were named to the all-conference team.

Sweetheart Touches the Heart

On February 6 the annual Scotus Sweetheart Dance was held in the Memorial Hall.

The sophomores sold candy bars to raise funds for the occasion. The class also put time into the decorations and food. Despite a loss to Wahoo Neumann in boys' basketball, the students were ready for the event.

The crowd roared and applauded when Ann Bernt and Mike Rueschhoff were crowned 1987 Sweetheart Queen and King by last year's royalty, Donna Bierman and Randy Zoucha.

Putting "Fore" the Green

Golf coach Frank Spenceri was excited about how the 1987 golf team was going to perform. The team consisted of fifteen members. Senior, Joe Tooley said, "I enjoy the sport, and lifting weights was the most fun."

A lot of determination and patience is needed to be a golfer, and Good results will come to those who are patient, and put a lot of hard work in during practices.

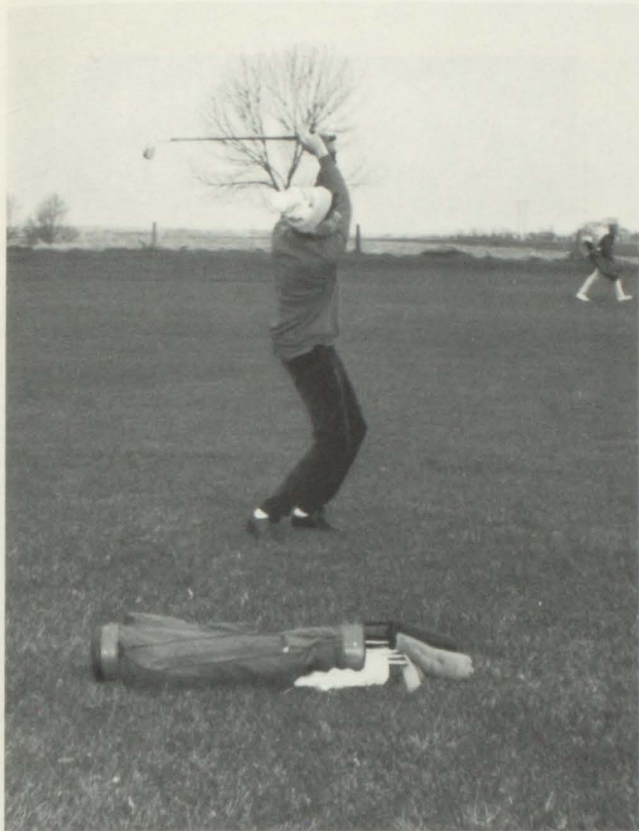

The Scotus Invitational was the team's most important accomplishment this season. Everyone contributed well, and at the end the Scotus golf team found themselves at the top. The team's conference meet was held May 7 and the team finished second. They placed second at Districts and Jim Schieffer placed third.

Traveling to McCook for the State meet were Jeff Gonka, Steve Souillere, Jim Schieffer, Ron Zornes and Pat Diederich. They placed twelfth.

Boys Win Districts

The boys' track team fielded some consistently strong performers this season. It was a season of experiencing triumph and defeat. They matched up against some tough competition.

The boys' competition got underway at the Boystown Invite where they placed third. At districts the Shamrocks took first place. The state meet earned a thirteenth place rating.

Girls Sprint to Victory

Track Coach Dan Mahoney was enthusiastic about the members of the 1987 team. The team included fifty members, many of which were returning letterwinners. The season began on March 17, with the Doane Indoor meet, where the girls finished fourth. Other early meets were the Westpoint Invitational, Grand-Island Invitational, the Scotus-Seward-Aquinas triangular, and the Scotus Relays. The Scotus Relays turned out a success, with the girls finishing first by a couple of points. This meet was only a beginning of many more outstanding performances by the girls' track team. The team ran extremely well; earning two first place trophies at Invitationals, and winning all duals and triangulars they participated in.

The Conference meet, held May 9, at Scotus was viewed as a great warm-up meet to prepare for Districts, May 14. The team finished first and had some outstanding performances coming from Mary Fehringer winning the high jump, Kelly Nicolas winning the 300 low hurdles with a new meet record, and Annette Sueper winning the two mile and one mile run. The 400 relay team ran their fastest time of the season, finishing with a first place. The members on the relay were Juli Hroza, Kelly Nicolas, Amy Miller, and Pam Hroza.

Districts, held May 14, in Columbus earned Scotus a second place rating.

Traveling to the State track, the girls' team took ninth.

Prom Excitement fills the Air

The night of April 4th, Johnnie's Steak House was transformed into a magic land of balloons and streamers. The junior class chose the theme, "In The Air Tonight" as the 1987 Prom theme.

After enjoying the choice of chicken or roast beef, junior Greg Rief gave the welcome speech with a humorous approach.

Following the acceptance speech from senior Ed Fehringer, the prophecies were read by Chris Beecher and Doug VanDyke. Reading the wills were Chuck Korger and Scott Heimes.

The 1986-'87 astronomy year started in the fall with a touching farewell to Halley's Comet. Only with the strongest telescopes could the comet be seen as it left our galaxy. The comet won't return to earth for 76 years. The astronomy club had a busy year with three overnight trips and several meetings. In May the club went to National Astronomy Day in Lincoln. The year was spent viewing the galaxy despite the fact that the weather didn't always cooperate.

Band

The 1986-87 school year was a monumental one for the Scotus band. Again this year the band played at numerous concerts. At the fall concert and the Christmas concert the band shared the stage with the vocal singing groups. The spring instrumental music concert was the highlight of the year and the one most practiced for.

The big event of the year for the band was their getting uniforms. A group of parents called the band boosters raised the money for these and will be put to use in the future.

Campus Ministry

Fr. Wayne, in his sixth year as campus minister, led the campus ministry team to another busy, activity-filled year. Their activities ranged from the school to world-wide.

At school, two dozen masses were organized and run by the campus ministry. They put together the Homecoming mass, the Right-to-Life mass, with Archbishop Sheehan, and the senior mass. The can-food drive and the clothing-drive were sponsored this year in order to get food and clothing for the under-privileged of Columbus. Again this year the campus ministry garden was built with all food going to the Columbus Food Pantry.

Mr. Vern Younger, teacher built an altar, lecturn, and cupboard for campus ministry use.

Flag Corps

The 1987 Flag Corps Team brought on a new look, new routines, and a new image. With sharp new uniforms and new faces and ideas, the team came up with various choice routines to tunes such as, "Back in the New York Groove," by Kizz, sung by the Cars, and "Back on my Feet Again," by the Babys. Marching in parades and performing at basketball games added to the overall success of the year.

Some of the members attended a flag camp this summer to increase their ability to work with a flag. With the determination of the team and high expectations of Captain Kim Shotkoski, the team had dazzling performances and showed their unique talent.

The 1986-87 German Club experienced another interesting year. In class the students planned an imaginary trip to Germany. Social and cultural aspects of German society were also studied. The German students learned to make pretzels and enjoyed eating them.

 Middle - Travis Bock displays his technique in rolling pretzel dough.
 Bottom - Steve Helgren is amazed as Tim Bator swings the pretzel dough.

Vocal Music

The 1986-87 Scotus Music department had another busy year. Three concerts were held: the fall concert, the Christmas concert, and the spring concert. The swing choir performed at business conventions, while the entire department competed at the district contest. In January, the music students went to a clinic at Boystown.

The 1986 Scotus Mock Trial team again had a successful year. Bouncing back from last year's loss, the team won the 21st Judicial district. Monroe, Schuyler, and Humphrey were defeated en route to the district title. At the state competition, the team competed well and finished in fourth place.

Members of this year's team were: lawyers Ed Fehringer, Scott Heimes, and Vicki Boryca; witnesses Amy Jasper, Jodi Ryba, Greg Rief, Jim Schieffer, and Todd Heimes. For the first time, Mr. Sadle was the coach, and Mr. Stephen Hansen, attorney at law, assisted the team.

The National Honor Society started the year by inducting new members on September 9. The big event of the year was the Valentine Day Cookie-O-Gram. The members worked hard to prepare and decorate 175 dozen cookies. Each had a message that was sent to Sweethearts. In March the NHS again sponsored Teacher Recognition Day. For the first time, members of NHS tutored other students in their studies in order to raise money.

This year's Scotus S-Club, one of the biggest ever was also very active. The new trophy cases installed in the hallways were furnished by the S-Club. The track team's rain suits were also paid for by the club. In order to finance these things, club members sold Godfather's pizzas. Mr. Jim Puetz was the club's sponsor. Officers this year were: Kelli Martin, President; Pat Engelbert, Vice-President; Chuck Korger, Secretary-treasurer.

Speech Team

The 1986-87 speech team, the ninth in Sandie Bernt's coaching tenure, had another very successful year.

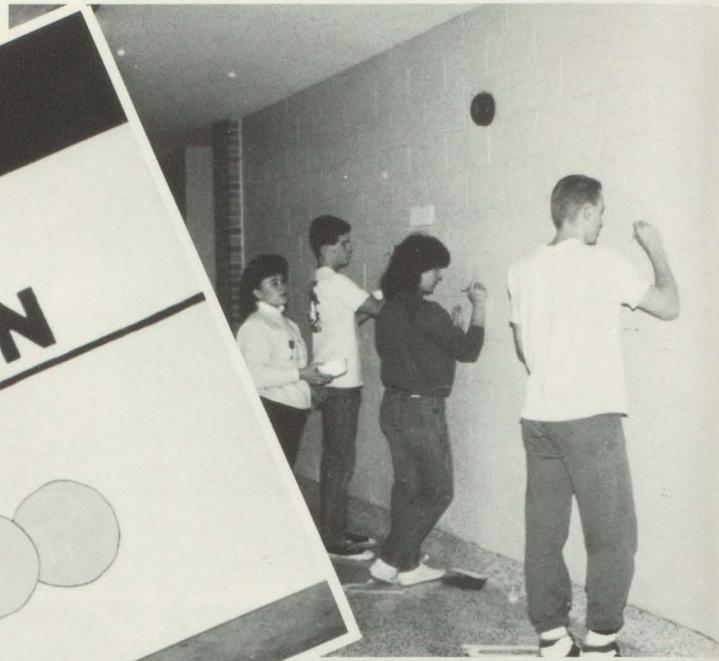

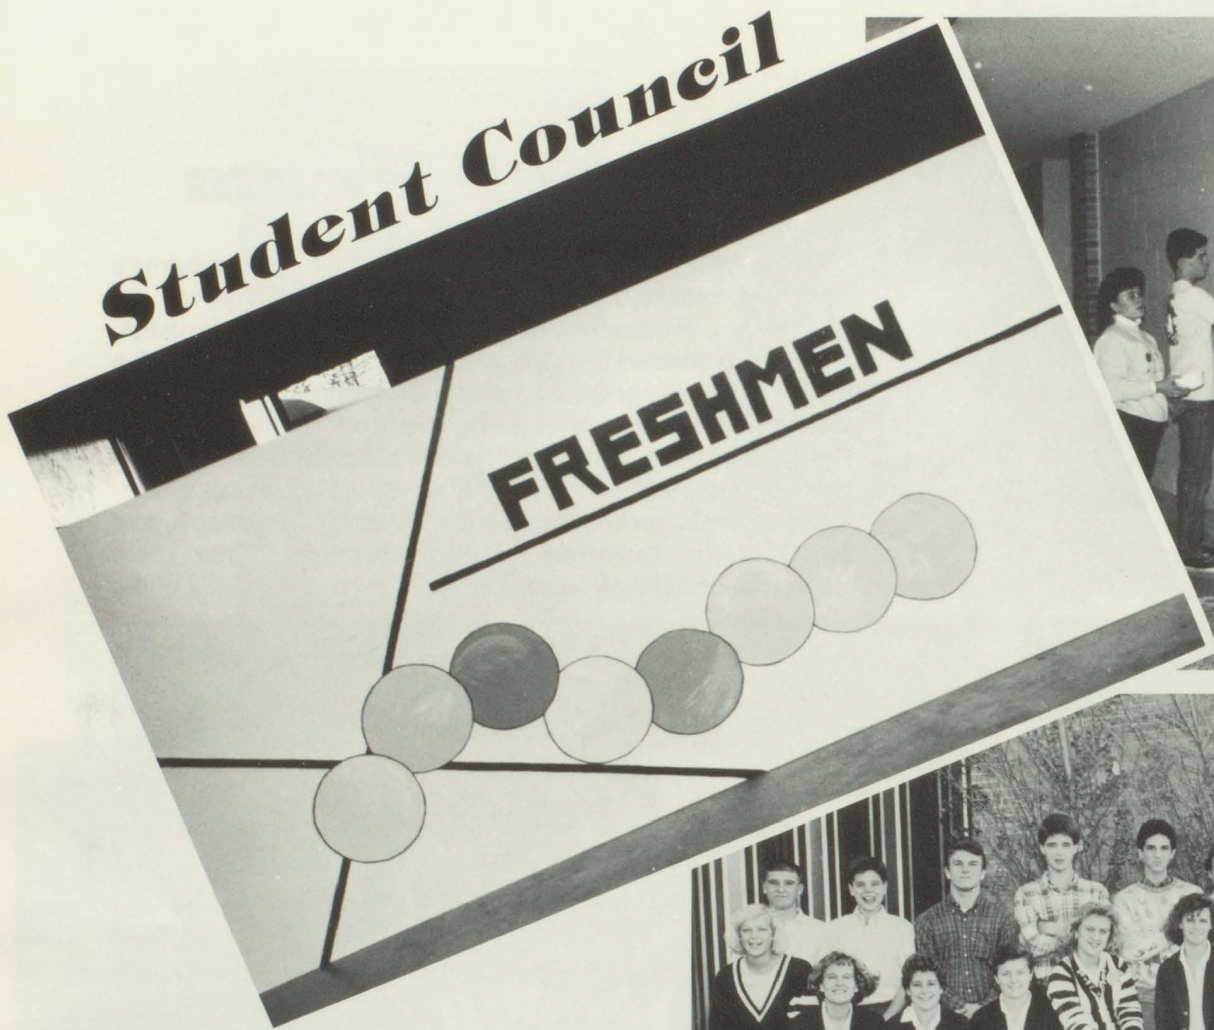

After a mediocre performance at the Platte contest, the team bounced back for the Conference meet. Despite a fine performance, the team lost to the hosts, Wahoo Neumann. At the district meet, the team walked over the field, qualifying eight for the state meet, and every member earning a superior rating. Mary Sojka, Sara Sojka, Becca Toof, Traci Duran, Ron Zornes, Jill Hefti, Carrie Sapp, and Darlyn Valish qualified for the state meet. The team placed sixth out of 56 teams.

I Remember

I remember back as far as I can,
and think of you and laugh,
I remember all the good times we had,
how we said we'd make them last.

As time rolled on and we grew up, all the fun that we still had.
And some of the growing pains,
we wanted to put into the past.

I remember the first dance we had,
oh it was so fun,
and all the victories we had when we knew we were number 1.
And the memories still linger
the laughs, the fights, the pain, but we knew that in that sunshine somewhere in time there was rain.

And how it all had to end,
why did it go so fast?
I think back through it all,
and how we said we'd make it last.
I remember all the love we shared,
all the times we were so close,
we had our hearts and our minds on the one we loved the most.

Why does it end?
Have we forgotten? We said we'd make it last,
but the time will come,
we all know, to put this in the past.

But the doors of time open up and we have another day, and time I know cannot tuck these memories all away.

Yes, I'll remember back as far as I can,
and I'll think of you and cry, for the time we have now must end, but our memories will never die . . .

The juniors had many memorable moments this year as they prepared to become the class of 1988.

Father Joe's Religion II class, Homecoming, and leading the cheers at games were favorite activities of the juniors this year. Cramming for the ACT test was another activity the juniors enjoyed.

The juniors sold magazines to finance the 1987 Junior-Senior prom. Under the direction of Ms. Mattern and Mr. Sadle, the prom was a great success and a fitting end to a fun year.

The year flew by for the sophomores as they completed another step toward graduation.

The sophomores gained experience in their clubs and organizations. They also joined varsity and junior varsity teams. Reading Lord of the Flies and studying the skeletal system in biology were high points academically.

The sophomores put on the Sweetheart Dance under the direction of Mr. Younger, their class sponsor. Candy bars were sold to finance the event. Most sophomores got their driver's license and were able to drive around with friends.

Journalism Staff

As the year progressed, the journalism staff soon learned that creating a yearbook took a lot of time and effort on everyone's part. The beginning of the year was filled with new experiences from taking pictures to laying out pages. Toward the end of the year deadlines seemed to be tomorrow and pictures were not taken. Through cooperation and organization the year came to a close and so did the yearbook.

We worked very hard throughout the year on many different parts of the yearbook. When things were not going right, we had Mrs. Bstandig and her little surprises to keep us going. She was never too upset with our mistakes, but rather helped us to learn from them. Without her devotion and motivation this yearbook would probably not have been finished.

The journalism staff chose the theme "Life is a Celebration" because it portrayed the image of the school. We all realized that there was much to be celebrated through our friends, families, academics, sports, and feelings. The cover was designed by Amy Hefti and Tara Zuerlein along with Tom Goc helping out with photography. This year's book was designed to start a tradition of a "new look" in yearbooks. Everything from past years had been set aside for new ideas. The first sixteen pages were designed to revolve around just how life is celebrated in so many different ways around us. We added eight more pages of color to the book and arranged activities in magazine layout style.

A special thanks goes to all the businesses that placed an ad in this book and especially to Tom Goc, of Anderson Studio, who gave of his time to help us with many pictures. Mrs. Bstandig also deserves much more praise than she is actually given for having the patience to explain things over and over again. We hope you enjoy this book as much as we enjoyed putting it together for you. As some unknown author said, "The memories we capture today will make beautiful tomorrows."

Best Wishes,

Amy Hefti
