Officials were unsure if Harding was directly involved in the attack on Kerrigan and was allowed to compete in the games. Nancy Kerrigan ended up in 2nd and brought home the silver medal for the United States. Dave Jansen and Bonnie Blair also competed in the Olympics and set records in their speed skating events and brought home the gold.

Let each of you discover where your chance for greatness lies. Seize that chance and let no power on earth deter you.

We'll Never Say Good-bye

*We share the days of laughter
We share the nights of sorrow
And in the morning after
We face the bright tomorrow
Side by side we'll always stand
We'll never say good-bye.*

*We walk the halls of learning
And serve a proud tradition
The flame of truth is burning
To clarify our vision
Look at how the future gleams
Gold against the sky!
Long as I can share your dreams
We'll never say good-bye.*

*There's little to be sure of
But we will last forever
For now we know the pure love
We feel when we're together
Then if someday we should part
We will not say die
Long as you are in my heart
We'll never say good-bye.*

— Art Garfunkel

Senior Retreat

Old friends become better friends.

The Best of Friends!

I can't see!

Hold Still!!

It brings out the kid in you.

Through it all we're still together.

The Senior Retreat was a time of coming together for the Seniors. Many activities took place this year. Among the day's activities were the trust walk, building an unidentified tinker toy structure, singing TV theme songs, leap frog, group discussions, skits, walking blindfolded people into mud puddles, shooting arrows, etc. It proved to be an emotional and exciting time. In summing up the day Meghan Kluever said, "It was a memorable time and a day I'll always remember."

What is a school without students? What are students without teachers and an administration? The Scotus students are as successful as they are because of the effort and time the Scotus faculty has put in to help make them successful. We just want to say thanks for everything you all do to make Scotus such a great place to learn and excel.

DANCES

Different is Better

Homecoming Week '93

In the spirit of Homecoming, Scotus students dressed up all week in costumes reflecting four decades of rock-n-roll.

Monday was 50's day; Tuesday was 'Nam Day; Wednesday was 60/70's day; Thursday was 80's day; and Friday was Spirit day. The Homecoming mass and pep rally also took place on Friday.

Each class decorated their hallway to reflect a theme of their choice. Freshman chose "Bedrock". Sophomores chose "Welcome to the Jungle". The Junior class theme was "Livin' on the edge". The Seniors theme was "Rock of Ages". This was also the theme of the Homecoming Dance.

Tiffany Bock, Jill Buelt, Gina Rongisch, and Renee Fuhr express their friendship on 80's day.

Homecoming '93

Homecoming Week came to an end on Friday October 15. That day was filled with many memories for both the candidates and the football team. For the first time in two years the football team defeated Battle Creek 40-16.

The coronation took place at Pawnee Park after the game. Rich Tooley was crowned King and Amy Kuhlen crowned Queen. It was a very exciting and memorable night for all who attended Homecoming '93: Rock of Ages.

TAPE DANCES

Numerous tape dances were held throughout the school year. The majority of them took place in Scotus's old gym. Student council sponsored a tape dance between Scotus and Lakeview early in the school year. Many other tape dances were sponsored by FBLA, campus ministry, and national honor society. These tape dances give students a chance to get together not only as friends, but as a student body to have fun and relax. Senior Jill Kropatsch finds tape dances fun because, "Anytime I can take off my shoes and run around with a hundred other people, well ... " Sophomore Kelly Kruse goes to tape dances because "They give me something to do besides sitting around and playing pitch."

Tape dances are different from other dances because students select and play the music, this makes the evening ever more fun and enjoyable.

Straight From the Heart

February 11, 1994 was a night full of surprises, dancing and excitement. Both the boys and the girls basketball teams experienced exciting victories over Raymond Central. The Candidates nervously waited for coronation to begin in the old gym. When the time finally came former Sweetheart Queen Heidi Krings crowned Christina Kretchman Queen and Sean Schmeits King. The students then gathered in the cafeteria to dance the night away to the music by Complete Music. The stage and cafeteria were decorated by the sophomore class to the theme "Straight From the Heart." Sweetheart '94 is a night that won't easily be forgotten.

Prom '94

Distant Dreams came true at Johnnies Steak House on Saturday April 16, 1994. The junior class did the majority of the planning and decorating to help make the night a success. Students enjoyed a buffet of prime rib, turkey, and shrimp. They danced the night away to the music of Sweet 98. After the dance, junior parents hosted the post prom party at Boulevard Lanes. There were door prizes, karaoke, bowling, food, and a silent auction. Overall, students had a great evening at prom and post prom.

On August 15, 1993, the Shamrocks began their first two-a-day practice without a quarterback, without their starting I-back, and only one starting lineman. The Shamrocks moved a middle guard to quarterback, a tiny wing back became the record-breaking I-back, and the unexperienced line was feared by opponents all throughout the season.

The Rocks' first six games looked promising. They had outscored their opponents 246 to 19 going into the Homecoming game vs. Battle Creek (Who walked all over the Rocks the past two years). The first half of the game seemed like Deja Vu of the previous meetings but the second half was different. The adrenaline filled Rocks beat Battle Creek 40-16. By the end of the regular season the Rocks were 9-0 and with the help of their "Iron Curtain" defense, they had outscored their opponents 333 to 49.

Then came the playoffs, the Rocks downed their first opponent, then came Beatrice. Once again the first half looked doubtful but the Rocks came out of the locker room possessed as they turned a 0-17 score into a 24-23 win, which was tabbed the greatest win in Scotus history. In the semi finals, the Rocks sent Gretna home with a 13-10 loss. Then came Hastings Adams Central, the STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GAME, what every player on the team had been dreaming about since they were little kids. The score? Hastings 24, the Scotus Central Catholic Shamrocks 42. 13 and 0, Enough Said.

Strong enough

The 1993 Scotus Volleyball team kept the school's tradition alive with another successful season. With pre-season ratings of #1 (Lincoln Journal Star) and #2 (Omaha World Herald) and four returning starters from 1992's 3rd placed team, the 'Rocks had high hopes for a State Championship.

The team went right to work by participating in summer volleyball camps, YMCA leagues, open-gym, and weight-lifting sessions. They spent hours in the gym trying to perfect their skills, and when game time finally rolled around, the Shamrocks' hard work appeared to have paid off.

The Scotus Volleyball team delighted their fans with powerful hits, incredible sets, amazing digs, and numerous ace serves.

Through dedication, determination, and a great deal of teamwork, the Shamrocks were rewarded with a great win over Madison in the district finals and another State Tournament berth. With a heart-breaking loss to Grand Island Central Catholic in the State Championship, the Scotus Volleyball team ended their season as State Runner-Up with a very impressive record of 26-2.

Although the Shamrocks lost the State Championship, they gained a great deal from the 1993 Volleyball season, including a sense of pride, many close friendships, and memories that will last a lifetime.

The 1993 girl's golf season was one of continuing success for the Shamrock team. Like last year's squad, the varsity broke records and achieved even higher place finishes in invitational competition. Starting with style, the team captured a second place finish at the GICC Invite with Erin Cimpl and Erin Miles placing in the top five individually. The Shamrocks continued their winning ways much like last year's squad with a hard-fought, record-breaking win over Lakeview and Albion at Quail Run. Lakeview, however, returned the favor by defeating the Shamrocks in a dual held at the Elks Country Club.

The Shamrocks regained their composure with a second place finish in the first annual Shamrock Invite held at Quail Run. Two weeks later, the team ended their season with a disappointing finish at the district meet which they hosted at Quail Run. The day wasn't a complete loss though as Scotus qualified freshman Erin Miles for the state meet held at the Elks. At state, Erin performed impressively, finishing in the top twenty of class B.

The 1993-94 Boys basketball season was very exciting. Throughout the season there were many close games. In fact, eleven out of the twenty three games were decided by less than ten points, including the controversial two-point loss to Wayne in the District finals.

All through the season the Shamrocks' hustle and determination impressed the fans as well as the opposing teams. This fire was fueled by six seniors who were more than happy to take leadership roles whether it be practice or during the games. Also there were many new faces on the Varsity court who really stepped up and contributed to the team.

"C-C-O-L-U-M-B-U-S let's go!" This year Scotus added a new selection to its Sport's Hall of Fame. This new selection was Swimming and Diving, which was joined with Columbus High School. It proved to be a great season for all those who dared to be brave enough to join.

Sophomore, Teresa Sleddens said that the ultimate challenge was dragging yourself out of bed at 5 a.m. for morning practice. She also said: "It was worth it, the hard work payed off in the end." Sleddens along with Melissa Feldhaus would agree that it was strange to be "Scotus Shamrocks" at school and be "Columbus Discovers" at practice and meets, but they both adjusted to the change.

The season ended with a great success, especially the guys, who defended their conference title for their fourth year in a row. The girls were pleased with their third place finish. They also had several state qualifiers who showed outstanding performances.

Melissa Feldhaus prepares to start her leg of a relay.

The '94 season was plagued by the weather. At many major meets, it was either very windy, cloudy or cool. The Lakeview Invite was cancelled because of snow and rain. Although we couldn't improve times greatly, we finished strong at each meet. With only 5 seniors, the team came together greatly. Matt Beller and Brandon Drum both improved a lot, making the Scotus Hall of Fame. We also had a strong showing by winning the Schuyler Invite. With a very tough District meet, we could only qualify 2 members of the team to the state meet where Scott Sobota placed sixth in the shot put. However we have a very young team, and those young people can really make the team great in the coming years.

Audrey Pfeifer, Andra Drum and Julie Trouba. They pulled together to really joust their opponents. Andra broke the school record in the 100 low hurdles. The team tripped ten girls to state with Audrey Pfeifer placing the highest, getting 4th in the 300 low hurdles.

With three returning varsity players, the Shamrock boy's golf team entered this year's season with high goals. Although not every goal was reached, the season was yet successful with second-place finishes at both the conference meet and Lakeview Invite and a second straight championship trophy at the Scotus Invite.

In dual and triangular action, the team maintained their competitive reputation by beating Wahoo, David City, and Lakeview. Furthermore, the Shamrocks tied two very good teams in Schuyler and Stanton. Although the Shamrock golfers were disappointed in district, missing a state berth by two strokes, they were happy for Brian Bertsch who was runner-up in the district meet and went on to finish in the top fifteen for the second straight year at the state tournament held at Lochland Country Club in Hastings.

FBLA... Membership has its priviledges

Future Business Leaders of America is an organization that prepares students for possible careers in business. Throughout the year, various speakers came and talked about their jobs and how we, as students, can learn to recognize business potential. Part of FBLA is volunteer work. Under the leadership of Mrs. Went and Mr. Matz, our chapter served at dinners, participated in adopt a highway, sold concessions, had secret santas, and went to state FBLA in Omaha. Overall, it had a very successful year.

One great privilege is going to State FBLA in Omaha. FBLA officers: Christy Stachura, Cheryl Rupp, Erin Trouba, Sunny Recek, Chris Kretchman, Kathy Hegeman and Jamie Jazwick pose for a quick picture.

Another privilege is the fun members have together. Nicki Thomas and Jodi Eikmeier race each other to the finish line at a fall get together.

Sometimes you feel like a nut ... What exactly is a Thespian? It is an honorary club for our drama department. Some activities include going to a play together, initiation week, and many meetings.

Requirements to be in Thespians are to be an active member of speech team or to participate in a play. It is a lot of hard work, but our whole school looks forward to the mimes in the window.

It's tough being talented. The SCC Speech Team had an excellent season. With nine out of twenty people going to state, many awards were given. It takes special talent to get up in front of a group of people and speak, but to these members, it is just part of their job.

WHEN IT ABSOLUTELY, POSITIVELY HAS TO BE THERE OVERNIGHT ... Can we go to Goc's, Mr. Arnold? Where's my layout? You have something to do-do it! Do you have anywhere for us to go today? My pictures are missing!! Hey guys, I really want to have a job next year! Dark room messes we didn't do ... These are some familiar memories of our yearbook staff while diligently working on this years annual. With such a large group we relocated into the old bookroom. Trying to make it home we decorated for the seasons, hanging up stockings for Christmas, and flowers in the windows for spring. With hardly enough room to move around, we had our share of arguments. But through it all we learned that if it absolutely, positively has to be there overnight- anything's possible!

Business Classes at Scotus include Accounting I, Accounting II, Marketing, Keyboarding, and Office Procedures. These classes take place under teachings of Mrs. Matz, Mrs. Rambour, and Mrs. Went. Students are able to develop special skills used in the business world. Students are prepared for future careers, but are also taught every day living skills such as balancing check books and banking.

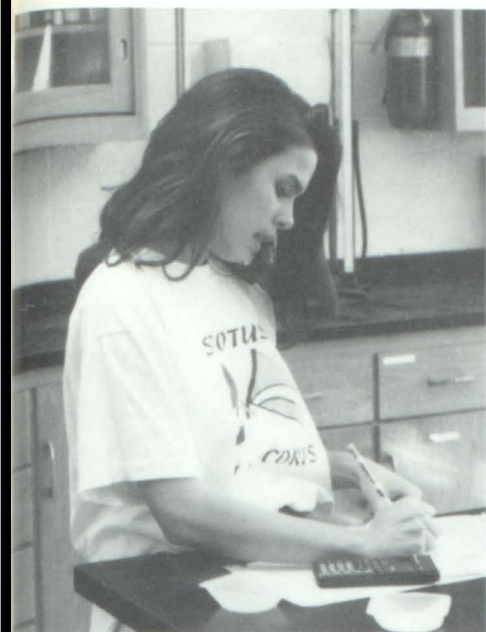

Andy Sueper stops to pose before heading to class.

Entrepreneurship was added to the business classes this year giving students another opportunity to explore the business world. According to Monty Schmidt, "The class has totally changed my life, Mrs. Rambour is a saint; I am forever in debt to her."

While students at Scotus are attempting to learn either Spanish or German, they are also attempting to master their own language. At times this is more of a challenge for students than a foreign language. Grammar rules, vocabulary, novels and poetry are a few of the topics covered in English classes, while the highlight of most student's year is a lengthy research paper. Whether the class is German, Spanish or English students encounter many challenges on their way to better language skills.

Catholic schools are unique in their inclusion of religious faith in academic course offerings and Scotus is no exception. In fact, a religion class is part of every Scotus student's daily schedule. Encouraging community and parish involvement and shaping the adult faith lives of students are among these classes main goals.

A highlight of senior religion is the marriage simulation project. In this class, taught by Fr. Wayne, male/ female couples are paired and instructed to plan a marriage from a wedding ceremony to monthly budgets. This project, as well as many others in religion class, proves to be an "eye-opener" for all involved.

These plays were presented on three different nights in late October. The directors were Barb Goulet and Jane Zach. A number of students were also a part of the crew. They were in charge of food, make-up, props, tickets, costumes, lighting, programs, set design, and sound effects.

NSI

Many people have the mistaken notion that Nebraska Scholars Institute is like summer school, but it's much more than that. Students from all over Nebraska are invited to spend two weeks at the University of Nebraska of Lincoln taking college-like classes taught by highly regarded teachers. "It was two weeks of fun meeting new friends and attending classes that were not only educational but also interesting," Jill Kropatsch said of her experience. Ten Scotus seniors attended NSI last June. They experienced college life at UNL by living in Sandoz Hall and rooming with someone from another school. A reunion took place at the Garden Cafe in Omaha during February. People were able to see friends they might not have seen or talked to for months. "It was an excellent experience I will never forget," Kropatsch said.

MEXICO!

Posing for a quick picture in the streets of Mexico City.

Twelve Spanish students had the excitement of traveling through Mexico last summer. They toured the country for eight days. They then spent five days in the largest city in the world, Mexico City. There they climbed pyramids, saw a black market, and visited the perik zone. Next they traveled to Taxacul which is known for its silver. They spent the last two days in Acapulco. There they got washed away by the ocean and spent the night at a disco.

BOYS STATE GIRLS

This past summer seniors Tim Thalken and Kathy Hegemann were chosen to go to boy's and girl's State at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. They stayed in the dorms for a week during June. While attending State, students have the opportunity to run for State offices. They must run a campaign and hold elections. These elections are good experience for offices in the future. They listened to many speakers during the course of the week.

CLOSE - UP

Four Scotus students and Mr. Pat Brockhaus spent 6 days in Washington D.C. for Close Up. These students were Laura Hightower, Cathy Wemhoff, Jenny Arp and Kerry Fritz. While in Washington they toured the capital building, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the Vietnam Wall, and Iwo Jima statue. Jenny Arp said, "It was an experience I would definitely recommend to everyone." They met around 200 people from all over the United States. "It was very interesting to talk to people from other states and to hear their voices on different issues," Arp said. All in all it was a great opportunity and a wonderful experience they will never forget.

SCOTUS GHOST

For many years, the legend of the Scotus ghost has roamed through the halls. Stories of all kinds have been told. Most are simply not true, but occasionally you'll hear one that makes you wonder.

Who is this ghost, you may ask. How did she get here? Why is she here? These are some of the many questions asked. Some of these questions cannot be answered and many of the answers are merely theories.

Many people have given their ideas to whom the ghost may be. Some say that the ghost is a nun. This theory stems from the story that once a fire started in the school and the nun was trapped in the tunnels below. These theorists say that she was burned to death and now roams the halls of Scotus. Another idea claims that the ghost is actually not a nun, but the mysterious little boy in the picture on this page.

The most believable theory is the one about a young girl who died before she graduated. Kitty Kavanaugh, a talented drama and art student, may be the ghost here at Scotus. In 1895, the first class from St. Francis Academy (now known as Scotus) graduated. Kitty was supposed to graduate, but she came down with an influenza epidemic and died only a few short weeks before graduation.

Many people believe in the ghost because of their experiences with it. One teacher here at Scotus saw it on the staircase late one night. Another former teacher said she always saw a shadow of a person at the top of the stairwell. Yet another former teacher said that while she was in her room she heard an unhuman sound come over the speaker. Later, when she put her key in the keyhole, the key turned by itself. A former student claims that once, while going to his locker after drama practice, he felt a strange presence behind him. He thought it was the priest of Scotus at that time so he began a conversation, but there was no answer. A bit alarmed, he turned around and saw a shadowy figure. Now, very frightened, he ran to where the other students were and looked back, but saw nothing.

In 1980, ghost hunters were brought into Scotus. There, they found a presence in the journalism room, the art room, the keyboarding room, Fr. Wayne's office and a staircase. Most reported encounters have occurred at or near these same places. Furthermore, items have been reported missing from these rooms. But not to worry, the ghost hunters said that the ghost was a friendly ghost.

We will probably never really know if there is ghost or not, so in classic Ripley fashion, you can choose to BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

The Best is Under Our Hats

For Just a Moment

*We laughed until we had to cry
And we loved right down to our last good-bye
We were the best I think will ever be
Just you and me, for just a moment.*

*We chased that dream we never found
And sometimes we let one another down
But the love we made, made everything alright.
We shone so bright, for just a moment.*

*Time rolls on. People touch and they're gone
And you and I will never love again like we did then.*

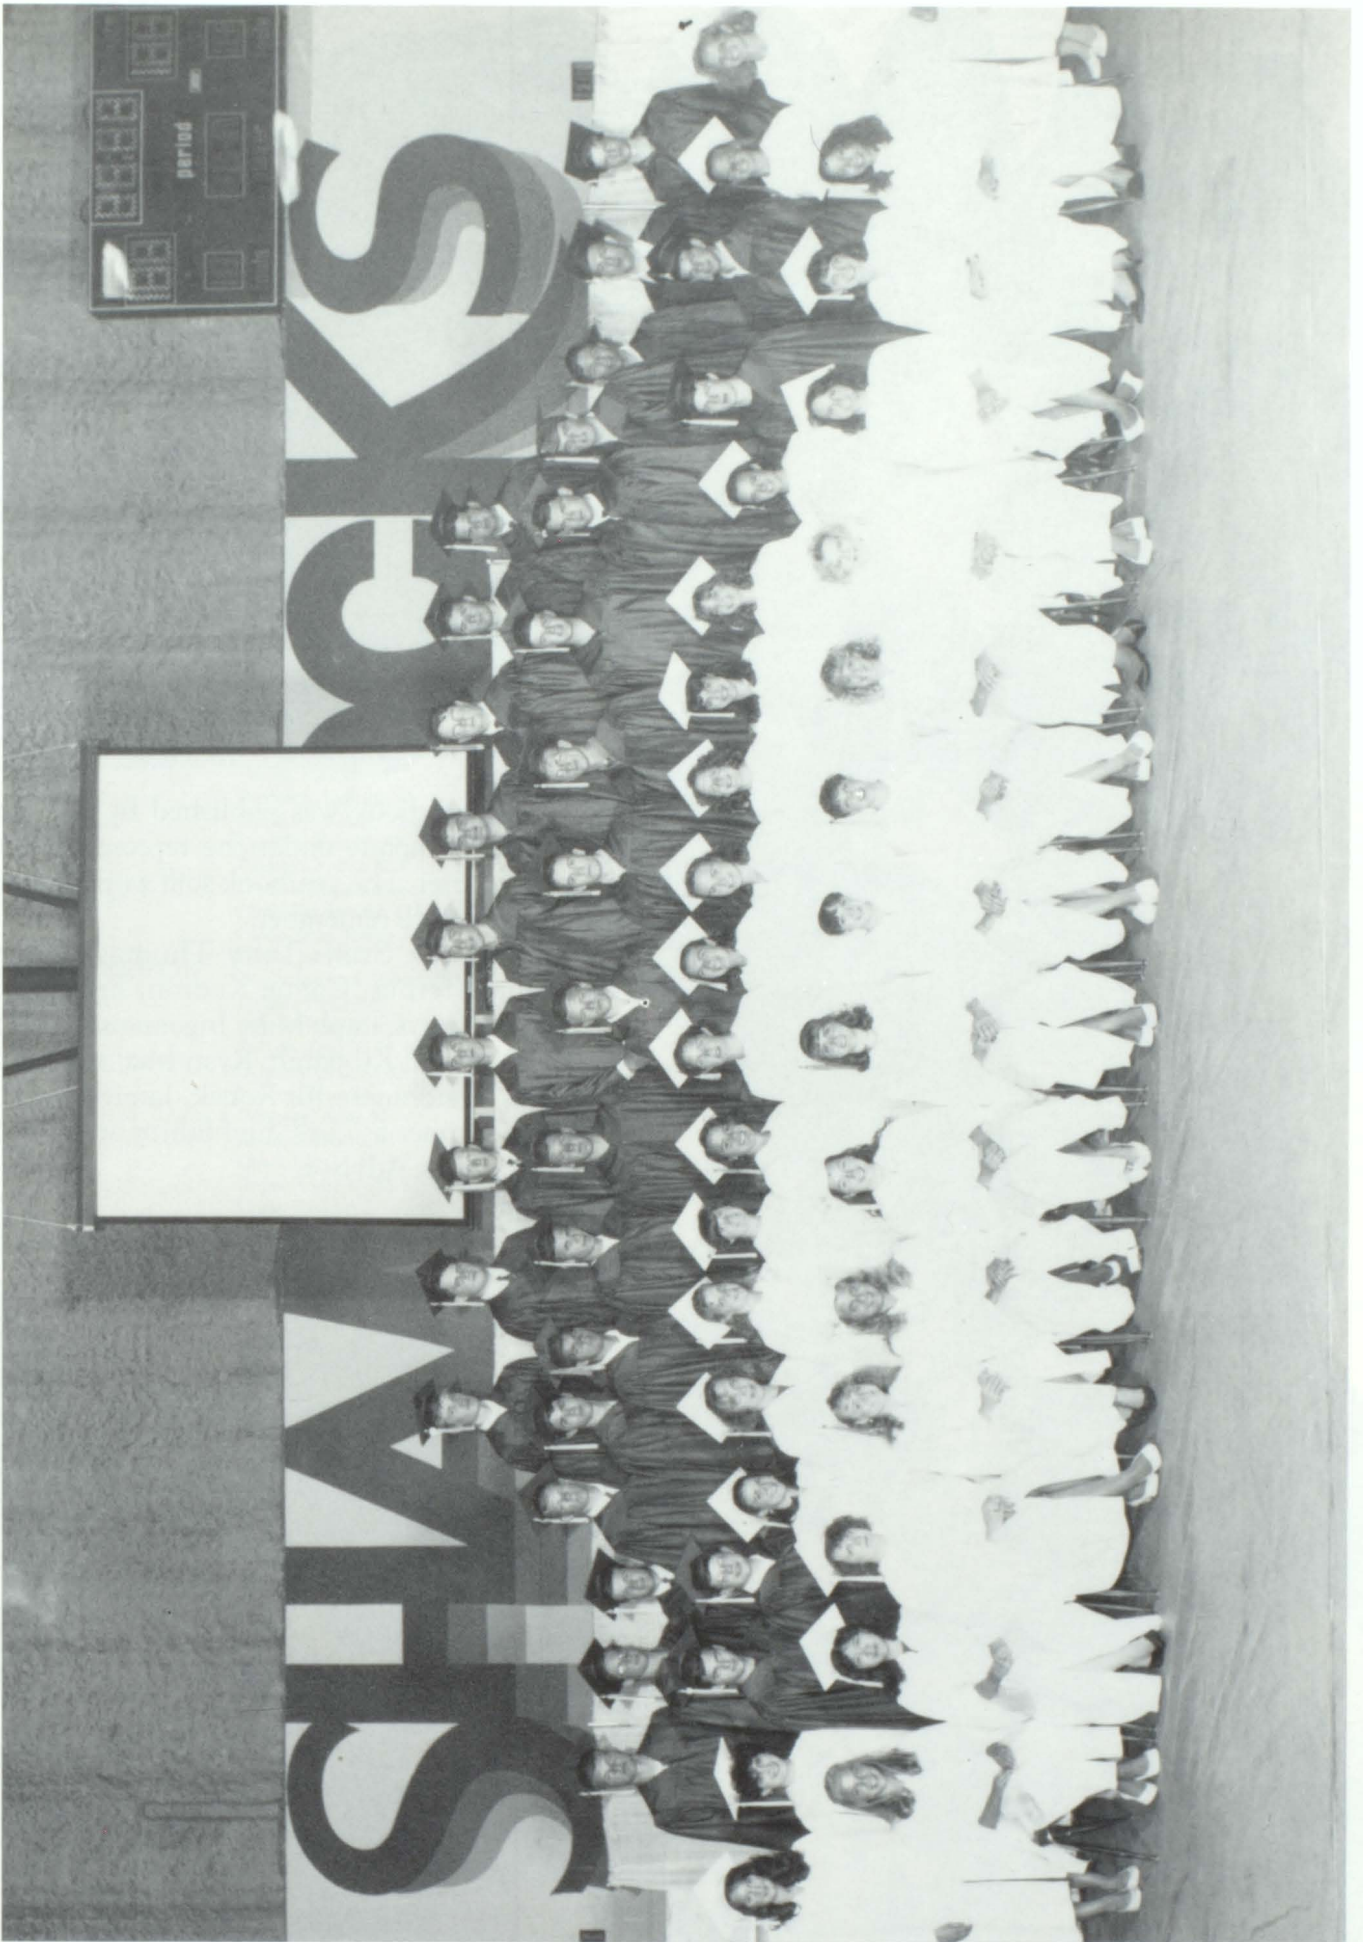

*Some day when we both reminisce
We'll both say there wasn't too much we missed
And through the tears we'll smile when we recall
We had it all, for just a moment.*

*Time rolls on. People touch and then they're gone.
But you and I will never end.
We'll never love again like we did then.*

*We laughed until we had to cry
And we loved right down to our last goodbye.*

— Cynthia Weil
