News

The 1995-1996 school year went fast for many but also left many memories behind. Events occurred not only at Scotus but nationwide. The Unabomber, John Kaczynski was finally captured. Magic Johnson returned to the NBA and the Bulls set a record for winning 72 games. O.J. Simpson was acquitted and the U.S. sent troops into Bosnia. The Cornhuskers won another National Championship and were rated # 1 in volleyball as well.

After spending five years of commentating, Magic Johnson decided to return to the LA Lakers, coming back strong.

Right: The Huskers win back to back football championships along with the Husker Volleyball team winning the national championship.

For the first time in royal history the Prince of Wales, Prince Charles, divorced his wife Princess Di.

Below: Like many other troops, this one says goodbye as he prepares to leave for Bosnia.

Scotus Rocks The Night!!!!

The weekend is a very important time in the lives of many Scotus students. After five straight days of hittin' the books, every student is ready to do their own thing whether it be partying together or spending time at home. After two days out of school, students are always looking past the school week and forward to the weekends.

Weekends

If you'd ask any typical Scotus student if they looked most forward to 3:35 on Friday they'd definitely respond "yes" because they all look forward to what the weekend holds in store. If you were to ask some student what they were going to do on the weekend they would reply by saying, "go to a party, a game, or just CRAZY."

Seniors Joe Dierks and John Vyhldal admire Greg Krzycki's master billiards skills as he scratches on the eight ball.

"Shamrocks" Year in Review

"Unbelievable" That single word pretty much sums up the Shamrocks this year. From the super athletic seasons to the superior academics, we had quite a year. A little creativity and craziness leads to a great time so it's easy to see that this year will go down in the history books as unbelievable.

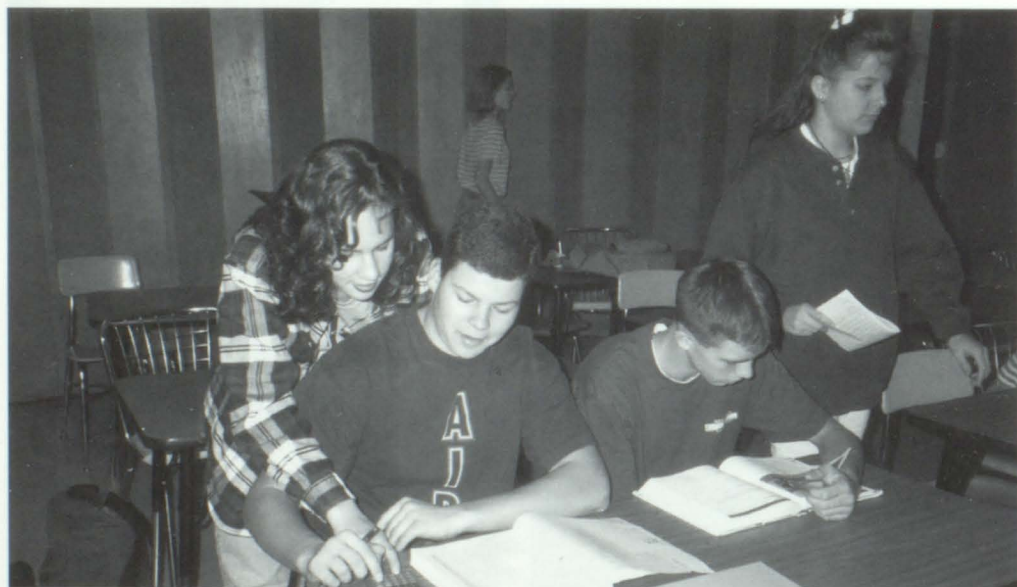

Right: Mr. Peters shows what being a sub at Scotus is all about.

Left: When it comes to Scotus athletics, everyone becomes a little bit looney!

Melissa Feldhaus tutors Pat Sokol as Lenny Sliva and Kathy Zegar work diligently.

With nearly every sports team making state appearances, this term was heard throughout the year through the halls of Scotus.

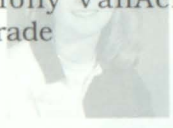

The power of the 95-96 Shamrock volleyball team is demonstrated by Amy Rueschhoff and Rhea Wemhoff smoking GICC.

Reena Morris finds a great place to relax since the weekend is finally here.

If you were locked in school for one night, what would you do?

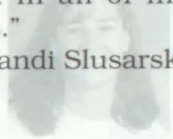

"Steal some speech tests and quizzes so I can pass."
- Holly VanAckeran, 10th grade

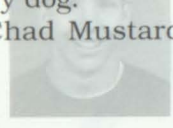

"Go to the office and change my grades."
- Ryan Tarnick, 8th grade

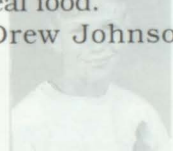

"See what Mr. Younger had locked in all of his cupboards."
- Mandi Slusarski, 12th grade

"I would run the gym with PURL and his slippery dog."
- Chad Mustard, 12th grade

"Exchange cafeteria food with real food."
- Drew Johnson, 8th grade

R W O R L D

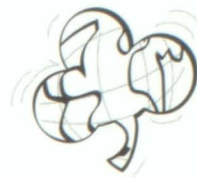

Rock your world. This is exactly what Scotus has accomplished in 1995-96. Whether it be sports, speech team, or just their everyday behavior, Scotus has shown the surrounding communities that we truly will 'Rock Your World.' When choosing our theme for this year, the yearbook staff put much thought in to it. While debating, the common phrase heard around school, "We rock!" was mentioned. It didn't take us long to come up with 'Rock Our World' from there.

Overall, it was an extremely successful year for the shamrocks. The class of '96 proved to have excellent leadership skills and made the year successful and fun for all. The yearbook staff thanks all the faculty, teachers, and students for their help in making this an excellent yearbook!

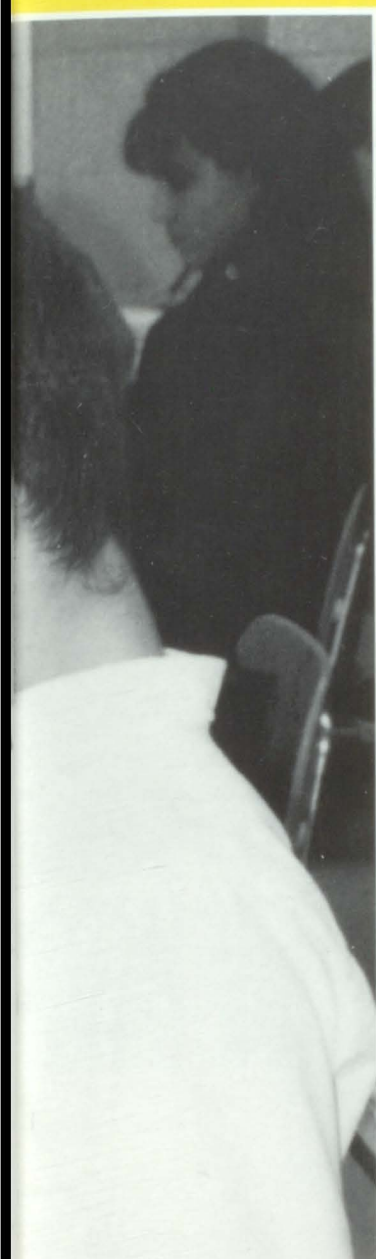

Kick back and relax after an exhausting lunch!

Mr. Mahoney shows how much he loves being in the class room.

Even though Mr. Dodson is one of the new guys at Scotus this year, he is not afraid to be himself.

(Below) Three of the Scotus cooks prepare dinner rolls for lunch. This year, Scotus offered several new items to the menu, one of which was burritos with cheese sauce.

Mable Pekarek proudly displays her new anniversary plaque. This year, Mrs. Pekarek was recognized for being at Scotus for 30 years. Congratulations! Congratulations are also in order for: Julie Blaser, Diane Kudron, Marlene Reinke, Betty Votava, and Peg Wolff for 5 years of service, Merlin Lahm for ten years of service and Fr. Wayne Pavela for 15 years of service. Good job. Your dedication is appreciated by all.

Mrs. Phyllis Matz is living proof that a teacher can spend a whole day with the juniors at their retreat and survive!

ACADEMICS

R eligion

Being a Catholic school, Scotia offers each and every one of us a chance to be very educated about our religion. Different grades and teachers learn and teach different aspects of the Catholic religion. Seventh through tenth grade are taught by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Riley, and Mrs. Lahm. They concentrate more on Jesus and the Bible itself. Juniors and Seniors are taught by Fr. Wayne, and they learn about the beliefs of the Catholic Church. Many different activities are involved in this class, including one major project: the Senior Marriage Simulation.

Marriage partner, Jason Cumberland and Megan Geilenkirchen, Melissa Feldhaus and Sam Graus show off their engagement rings for the senior marriage simulation.

Once again, we have a new art teacher, Miss Kamrath. Many different types of art classes are offered here at Scotus, including basic art, design, pottery, and auto cad. Everyone is required to take at least one semester of art or music. Many students are also involved in Art Club. They do projects for special events such as holidays. It is a good time to show your artistic abilities, and to have a good time!

The English department flourished with new books and expanding horizons to literature.

The seventh graders learned about the Greek gods and other interesting pieces of history and literature.

The eighth graders read Pigman and Chernowitz. They work on short stories, and listen to Mr. Dodson lecture.

The ninth graders read "The Old Man in The Sea" and "Romeo and Juliet." It was difficult to understand the reading of Romeo and Juliet, but it gave them a new understanding of English.

The Senior English classes were busy with writing on Indian culture, "1984", "Of Mice and Men" etc..

The Senior AP English class analyzed poems to find their meters, mostly iambic pentameter.

The Math department flourished with formulas, logarithms, and questions from all students.

The junior high math classes learned the concepts of division and story problems and the Pre-Algebra classes learned about x, y and z.

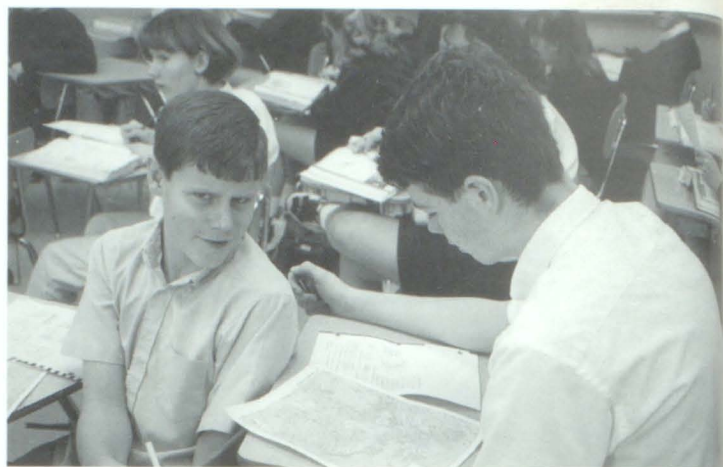

Geometry was busy with triangles, circles, and dimensions. The Algebra II enhances their problem solving techniques by graphing on the "x and y axis." Advanced Math took a curve and students learned about Trigonometry and statistics. Finally, there is the AP Calculus class and I won't even attempt to explain what they are learning.

Bottom Right: The seventh graders look enthusiastic after taking a test over the climates of the world in Mr. Puetz's class.

In history, Mrs. Kosch's class learned about the in's and out's of the world before 1865. When it comes to West Point, the history class could tell you about anything. But don't forget the efforts of Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, and Robert E. Lee. The post 1865 class were more involved in the Vietnam era.

In Geography, many students learned about the different climates of the U.S. including Savanna, humid continental, steppe and Mediterranean.

In civics, the students learned about the balance of powers in government and how the branches of government operate.

The Psychology students get into deep conversations concerning human life and our sexual beings.

The Science department was exploding with new discoveries and experiments everyday.

Life Science taught the seventh graders more about the inside structure of their bodies. They learned about their cells and briefly talked about the different human systems.

The Chemistry students found out how to write formulas according to Ms. Dusel's standards. Perhaps she even found the formula for love - as she got engaged this year. Congratulations!!

The Physiology class learned about the human body very detailed and graphically. Their field trips included visits to the mortuary and hospital.

Finally, the biology class studied hard and tested their nature skills by doing the annual insect project. They also took a trip to Pawnee Park to identify different leaves.

Students in business classes are taught by a new teacher this year, Mrs. Salyard. She is joined by Mrs. Matz in the Scotus business field. Also, Mrs. Podliska helps out by teaching the Entrepreneurship class. Many different types of classes are offered to students interested in business skills: Keyboarding I and II, Office Procedures, Accounting I and II, Applied Communications and Business Communications #1. The new IBM lab has become very useful for students over the past two years.

Scotus students have an opportunity to take a wide variety of Home Economic classes. First, for the seventh and eighth graders, Mrs. Johnson teaches the basic idea about correct eating habits, sewing locker caddies, and learning the basics of home life. Next, for the high school students, they have the choice to take three different home ec courses. Mrs. Riley teaches Parenting, where the students get the opportunity to experience what being a parent is all about. Foods class, taught by Mrs. Johnson, teaches students how to cook basic meals. Lastly, Mrs. Malicky teaches a health class that you will learn how to eat right and how to save lives by practicing on the CPR dummies.

P.E.

Mr. Lahm watches the seventh graders techniques while they lift.

P.E. A 'pud' class thought by some, but in all reality, it is more work than a lot of people think. Students are required to take four years of physical education from 7th grade to their sophomore year. There are also other electives students can take such as Liesure Activities, Wellness, and Weight training. The first four years are centered on technique and personal health whereas, the electives, offered to juniors and seniors, focus more on activities that students will be able to enjoy after they graduate from high school.

ORGANIZATIONS

Campus Ministry '96

Campus Ministers were kept busy during this past school year. Many events were held ranging from running the concessions to participating in the food drive.

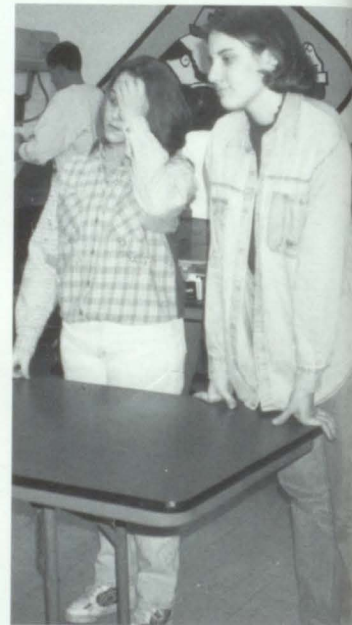

A new activity was added on to our graduation requirement-Living the Faith hours. Students' overall opinions were negative because most of us are busy with other things. Now students are glad to have their hours out of the way so they can concentrate on something new for a change.

The 12 EME's worked hard to plan our school liturgy masses. They, along with Fr. Wayne, arranged a few study breaks in the evening during semester tests. Besides those activities, Fr. Wayne and a few Scotus students volunteered to act out the stations of the cross. Volunteers were also important to the success of the garden, which has received a lot of attention and recognition this year.

The NHS is an organization that is based upon four pillars of the student selected for membership. These are: Scholastic Achievement, Leadership, Character and Service. This year the NHS worked hard to build the treasury and assisted the school in making partial payment for a compressor for the drinking fountain on ground floor.

Because of the "Living the Faith" hours, NHS members have not done as much service as they would like to in and out of the school since both of these roles on the student's part seems to overlap. Among many of the NHS's activities, one is serving as guides during new parent visits and assisted during parent-teachers conferences.

FBLA

FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) is a large organization consisting of grades 9-12. This year, 188 students were members of FBLA. Mrs. Salyard and Mrs. Matz took over the duty as FBLA advisors this year replacing Mrs. Jan Went. Many activities were sponsored during the year by FBLA. Some include: Fall Leadership Conference at Grand Island attended by officers, a tap dance, concessions at home football games, adopt-a-highway litter pick-up, and many members served several dinners. Through the winter season, there were night movies, 1/2 court shoot outs, Secret Santas, and the Christmas Party. In the spring, we had FBLA week, attended the Wayne State College Business competition day, and the State Leadership Conference in Omaha. FBLA is a fun and interesting organization for all.

Yearbook

The Yearbook staff brainstormed to come up with the 1995-1996 theme. After lots of discussion, we all voted on "Rock my world." The class was divided into several different groups, each with an editor to keep things in line.

We all worked on layouts while others of us worked on getting out of class! The Yearbook staff kept busy all year long - especially Mr. Dodson. He finally mastered playing pinball and tetris on the computer. The staff hopes you enjoy the yearbook they put together.

Shawn Krzycki drums the beat for the SCC Pep Band to follow at the State Basketball tournament.

SCC band has done a great job this year in keeping the fans entertained at pep rallies and games. The band members played familiar songs that most of the students could recognize. One of the songs they learned was YMCA - that song was entertaining because you could see the fans getting into it. Mrs. Cox took the band to Lincoln so they could play for our school. Even though they lost five band students from last year, this year they gained a lot of new faces that can keep the SCC band tradition alive and running.

The SCC Flag Corp was led by Captains Heather Buggi and Debbie Zadina. Almost everyday you could see this group practicing before school or during QFC to perfect their routines that never seemed to be quite right. The flag corp also performed with several of the junior and senior guys, giving them the chance to show off their twirling skills. The girls did a great job this year keeping us in suspense with all their flag talents.

Brook Rayman, Captian Debbie Zadina, and Stephanie Kruse try to concentrate so they won't drop their flags during their performance.

Speech

The speech team did especially well this year with half of the 32 member team, being new members. They went to ten meets and did very well, especially with the young members. The team placed 1st at districts, which was held at Scotus. Co-captains of the team were Chrissy Labenz, Jill Becker, and Travis Kudron.

A small part of the speech team gets together to take a picture during one of the many speech contests.

Thespians had a fun time initiating the new members as you can see with Jeremy Loseke in the tree. Initiation week happened in April. The team accepted six new members. President of the team is Megan Zach, Vice President is Travis Kudron, Secretary/Treasurer is Chrissy Labenz, and News/Historian is Jill Becker. The group this year did several activities together, including a visit to a mystery theater in Omaha in May and a Doane drama conference in October.

The girls proved to be a huge hit at several performances including Platte College, Peace Lutheran Church, the Manor, and several luncheons. They also developed a close knit friendship towards the end of the year with many memories that won't be forgotten.

The Scotus Choir was also filled with talent as they performed at concerts and led the school masses in singing.

Girls Golf

The Scotus girls golf team had a great year, maybe the best ever. They placed first at all meets except three where they finished 2nd at one and 3rd at two. They broke last years team record by approximately 15 strokes.

With seven seniors they had great leadership even though the varsity positions were moved around a lot. In the end, the same five varsity members were taken to districts and state as last years team.

A tremendous effort by junior Erin Miles and senior Amy Cimpl, gave them 1st and 2nd place finishes respectively at Districts, held at the Elks Country Club. At the end of 18 holes they were tied and Miles took the gold after a playoff.

Cimpl took 4th place at state, the highest individual placing ever. The varsity placed 3rd, also a highest placing and only the second time making it to state as a team.

It will be interesting to watch what happens next year with only one returning varsity player. If they are as determined and reach their high set goals they could have another great season.

The varsity girls proudly display their plaque and medals at the Oakland-Craig Invite.

Kelli Goettsche follows through showing great form.

Nicole Bender, Amy Cimpl and other members of the golf team strive for perfection.

Girls Cross Country

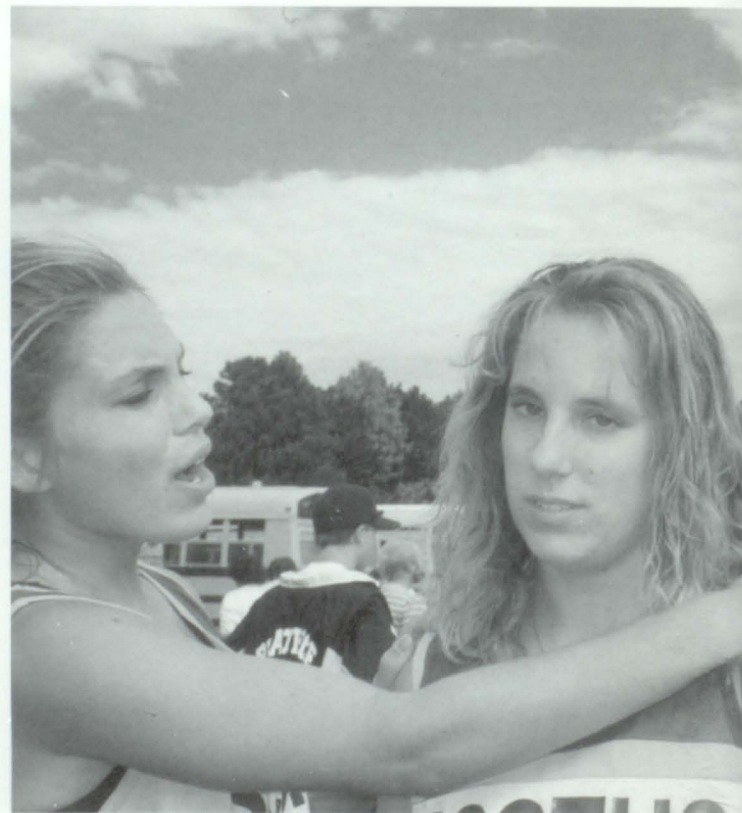

The sun is beating down on your back, you are running up and down hills, inhaling the scent of cattle - Does this sound like fun to you? Well it does to the Cross Country Girls. They look past these not so pleasant things to focus more on reaching their goals and team unity. This year's Cross Country team consisted of 20 members, led by 8 seniors, 4 juniors, 6 sophomores, and 2 freshmen. Often heard among the girls was "I love you man!" This shows the close bonding and unity among the girls. This is also one of the things that led the girls to a successful season. They placed 2nd at Conference, 3rd at districts and finished 8th at state with Renee Boman finishing 4th. The 1995-96 Girls Cross Country team rocked our world.

Boys Cross Country

The 1995 Boys Cross Country team finished with a good year. Everyone should be pleased with their performances. With only nine members on the team, two seniors, they showed great team unity. The whole team worked hard all year long and set high goals to accomplish.

Ben Johnson and Travis Kudron were the lone seniors on the teams. They had great leadership for the underclassmen.

Jesse Kuhlen seemed to be the Shamrocks' strongest runner. He placed second at districts and qualified for state where he came in 25th. Kuhlen, only a junior, will be back next year, hopefully he'll be even a stronger runner.

Also, expect to see outstanding performances from the other members of the team for next year. They'll be back and they'll be good.

Football

On August 14, 1995 the Scotus Central Catholic Shamrock football team reassembled upon their practice field. Among the squad there was only one returning starter from the past year. Most of the city and state was looking past the Shamrocks and even their fans had doubts in what they could do. The team, however, had other plans in mind.

"Everyone knows that Scotus is usually good. People consider us a powerhouse. I didn't want to be the team that screwed that up," said senior captain John Vyhliidal.

The team worked together striving to get better each week, each day, on every down. Finally after three weeks the Shamrocks met their first opponent. They came out and gave it their all. The team kept improving, striving to make a name for themselves.

Before the team realized it, their season ended with a 7-13 loss to Wahoo. They ended with a 8-2 record.

All in all the 1995 Scotus Central Catholic football team followed in the footsteps of the great Scotus football teams and added to their rich traditions.

All State: Sam Graus and Chad Mustard.

Volleyball

The Shamrock volleyball team had a tremendous season. They started out strong and finished even stronger, matching the record for most wins (28-0), and only going 3 sets, 4 times.

This has probably been the tallest team ever, but it wasn't the height that led them to a state championship win. It was the determination and hard work showed at every practice and game (despite the varsity team getting "kicked out" of a morning practice).

They were never over confident during the season. Even after beating G.I.C.C. three times previously in the season, they didn't overlook them for the state championship, but the Shamrocks peaked in every game which hurt all of their opponents.

There were only three seniors this year and they showed great leadership. The whole team got along great, which made it easier to play together.

All State: Shauna Greiner, Carmen Burbach, and Audrey Pfeifer.

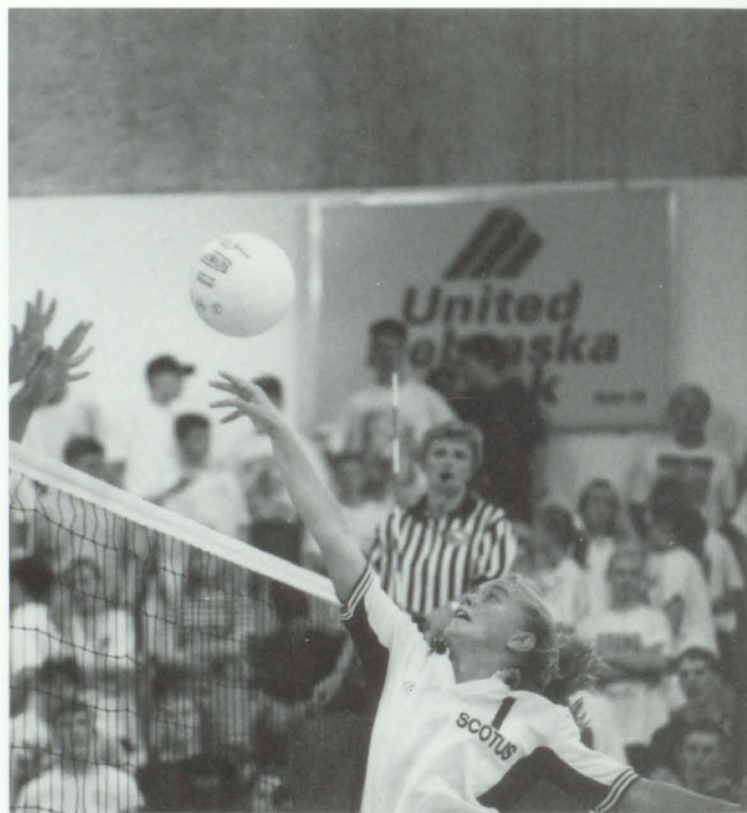

Honorable Mention: Rhea Wemhoff and Mandi Slusarski

CHEERLEADING

The 1995-96 cheerleaders continued to spread Shamrock Spirit throughout the school this year. They were seen hanging locker posters, making care packages, decorating the buses, and shakin' their booties. The squad consisted of 14 members and were led by senior Nicole Schmeits. This summer, they competed in Cornshusker State Games and won 1st place. They also constructed a float for the Columbus Days Parade and worked games at the Behlen picnic for fundraisers. The Cheerleaders did a terrific job of getting the crowd involved and amazed us with their new, invigorating dance moves. They definitely are UNSTOPPABLE!

SWIMMING

For the third year, Scotus swimmers were welcomed by Columbus High to compete on their swim team. Scotus swimmers were led by two seniors - Robin Keller and Teresa Sleddens, two juniors - Chip Kaup and Jill Keller, and two freshmen - Keri Brichacek and David Walker.

The CHS Boys swim team had an outstanding year, claiming their sixth straight Conference title and ending with an 8-1 record. A new school record was also set in the 200 Free Relay. Chip Kaup qualified for State in Diving and finished 21st with a total of 128.5 points.

The CHS Girls swim team also had an excellent swim season, ending with a 6-3 record. They also set a new school record in the 200 Free Relay. Jill Keller qualified for State in Diving and finished 28th. She was also a member of the 400 Free Relay along with her sister Robin Keller. Robin was also a member of the record setting 200 Free Relay and was joined with Teresa Sleddens on the 200 Medley Relay.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The 1995-1996 season was another successful one, finishing with a 25-0 record. This gave us another girls state championship this year. The combined record for volleyball and basketball was 53-0.

The Shamrocks returned three starters this year with Shauna Greiner being the lone senior on the team. Once again they were known to have one of the best defensive teams in the state.

At the state tournament, the Shamrocks beat Geneva in the first round, advancing to the semi finals where they defeated Gothenburg. In the finals, Scotus played Battle Creek. The two undefeated teams battled it out until the end when Scotus pulled ahead, winning the game by 11 points.

Next year the Shamrocks will once again be a tough team to beat. They will return four of their five starters. Shauna Greiner and Rhea Wemhoff were chosen for All State, and Kristie Korth received honorable mention All State.

Sophomore Kim Rickert goes up for a shot while being defended by two Lakeview players.

BOYS BASKETBALL

When the day of November 13 came around, the Shamrock boys basketball team was ready for what they had looked forward to for years. With only one returning starter, they Rocks lacked experience but possessed a desire that would soon replace it. They found the goal reachable after defeating eight straight teams and earning the number one state ranking. Losing only two regular season games, the Shamrocks became more focused than ever on what their district held for them. A regular season loss to Aquinas put revenge in mind and a down to the wire win versus Wahoo Neumann reminded the Rocks that their road to destiny was going to be more than difficult. A nail biting win against Lakeview and Aquinas led the way to a 20 point romping of Wahoo Neumann for the district title. The year long dream of playing the dynasty of the Wahoo gold and blue was now a reality. In a #1 versus #2 showdown on March 7 at the Pershing Center in Lincoln, the dream was quickly derailed when they suffered a loss in overtime to the eventual Class C champions.

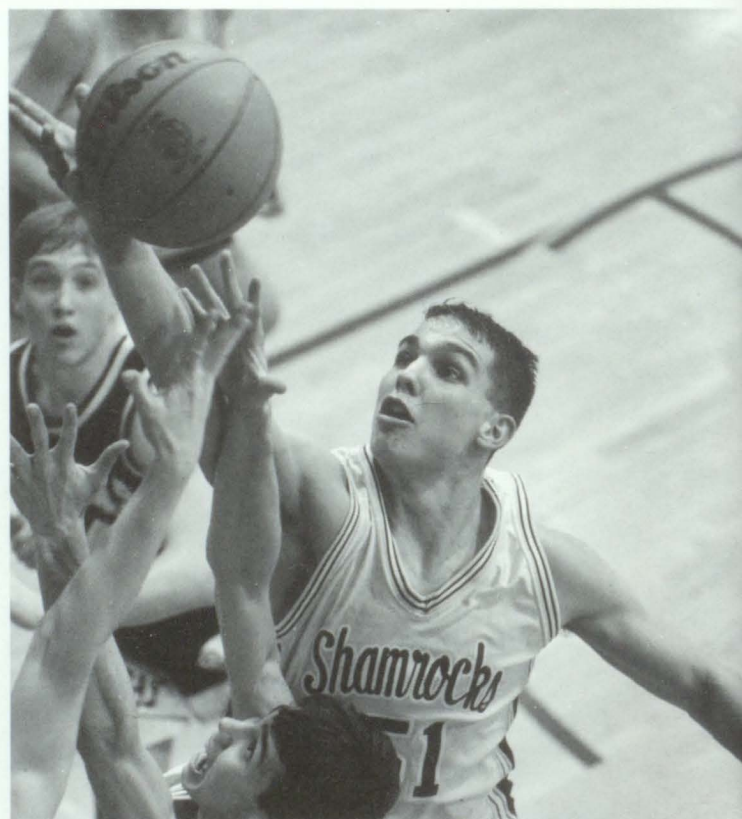

Although the Rocks lost in a heartbreaker, they developed friendships and memories that will never be forgotten. Agreed by the entire team, "There will never be a greater group of guys that got to know each other so well so quickly and have half as much fun as we did, E.W.J. will live on forever." Chad Mustard was chosen for the All State team, and Chad Gonka, Doug Bonczynski, and Nick Mroczek were chosen for Honorable Mention All State.

BOYS GOLF

The golf team was anticipating the return of golf season even more than usual. There were many factors that would make this golf season unique. For one, the team was led by a new coach, Mr. Jim Puetz. The team was sure that his strong leadership would be enough to lead them to great things. As it turned out, those great things were new IZOD golf shirts and free range balls at Quail Run.

It was a year of great competition for the golf team. It was a constant battle for the five varsity spots. The competition made the team stronger and helped to prepare them for the big meets.

As the year went on, the team grew stronger and became a unit. The roles on the team were established, however, even the Junior Varsity players showed great perseverance towards the close of the season. Ten players went to the meets where JV's were involved. Twelve players were on the team; this left the dreading two, Lonestar and Spanky, that did not compete. No one wanted to be in that position.

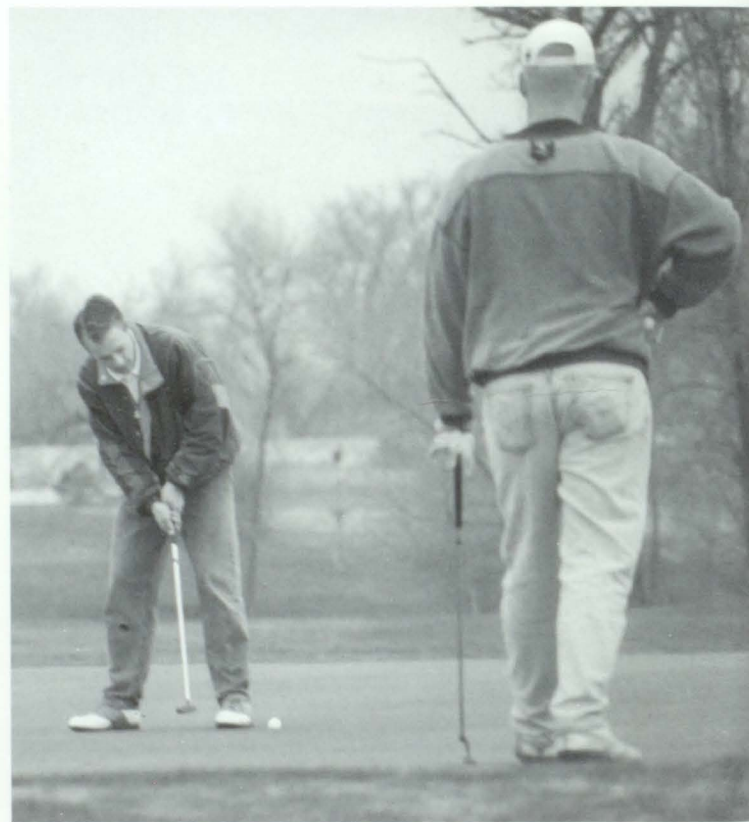

It turned out that the golf team peaked too early this season. Their season was highlighted by a victory at Conference. However, tough weather at districts slowed the team down and prevented anyone from making a state birth. All in all, the season went well. We give all the credit to the IZOD shirts.

GIRLS SOCCER

The girls' soccer team helped end the outstanding year for girls' sports. The team was led by five seniors: Nicole Bender, Shauna Greiner, Chrissy Labenz, Mandi Slusarski, and Rackel Wick.

The team had a slow start. They won their first game against Fremont by only one point. Towards the middle of the season the team was coming together, but the positions were not finalized. This switching of positions may have been a factor in their loss against Westside. But the team had chosen the word "unity" this year and by the time the Roncalli Tournament came up, the team had indeed united. During the tournament the girls beat Westside and Columbus High for an exciting first place. Later the girls beat Columbus High again to be District Champions and then finally they beat Westside again in the first round of the state games. The season ended with a loss against Duschene Academy in the semifinals, but the girls set some records. They are the first Scotus girls soccer team to go to state, they are the first Class C-1 team to win a state game, and now they will be ranked with some of the best Class A teams. The 1996 Scotus girls soccer team has shed a new light for becoming another powerhouse team for Scotus.

BOYS SOCCER

The Scotus boys soccer team had an outstanding 1996 soccer season. The boys were led by only one senior, Ben Johnson, and proved that the underclassmen had something to show. The fellas ended their season 14 and 4 losing their only games to Papillion, Westside, Central, and Kearney. They made it to the district finals where they had a devastating loss against Kearney on the last kick in a shoot out. We also look forward to watching Ben Johnson in the Shrine Bowl this summer.

The soccer guys should be even stronger next year with everyone returning but one. We wish them the best of luck!

GIRLS TRACK

"They're off, like a ..." The Scotus girls track team ran, jumped, and threw their way through the '96 season. Despite sub zero temperatures and 60 mph winds, they managed to have a very successful season. The highlight of the season was the Schuyler Invite where the SCC girls took first. At the mini state meet, other wise known as districts, 7 girls qualified for state in eight different events. The 1600m and 3200m relays, both run by Lisa Hegemann, Renee Boman, Jill Kosch, and Julie Trouba, qualified for state. Trouba also qualified in the high jump, and Boman and Hegemann qualified in the 800. Andra Drum and her apples qualified in the 100 hurdles. Kim Rickert qualified in the shotput and Debbie Zadina qualified in the 100m dash.

The 3200m relay team ended up taking 3rd at state and Renee Boman and Julie Trouba both brought home silver medals in the individual events.

Freshman Brooke Rayman leans into the finish line trying to edge off her opponent.

"Despite injuries and bad weather we managed to reach some goals at districts. Hopefully we can do the same at state."
 - Senior Jill Kosch

"It was a great track season, but we could've had better times if the weather would've cooperated with us."
 - Junior Audrey Pfeifer

"Track was a good experience this year. I had fun."
 - Senior Stacy Boman

BOYS TRACK

The Boys Track team was compiled of many great athletes who accomplished many of their personal bests. The strong dedication of the athletes to work through sub ideal conditions helped the team to grow. The team leaders, Joe Dierks and Chad Mustard both made it to state finishing fourth and fifth respectively. Because of the great dedication of the athletes, the coaches were happy with the season knowing that the athletes worked for personal bests.

Coach Janet Tooley gives Ryan Tooley some tips after finishing a race.

Chris Cieloha hands the baton off to Alan Swanson in the sprint relay.

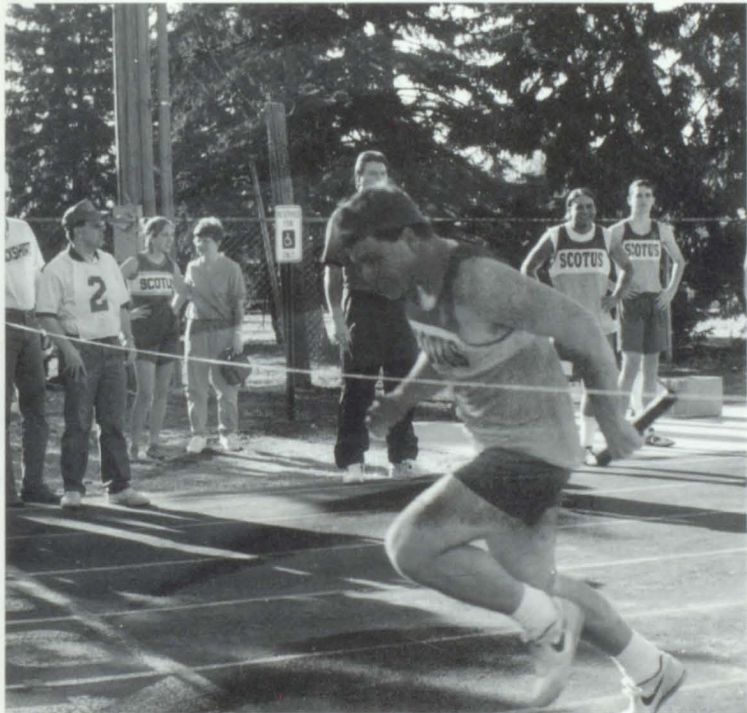

Jason Hughes shows excellent form in throwing the shot put.

Congratulations Seniors.
Best of Luck in your Future.

Students and faculty were in the twilight zone the week of October 9-13th. The week started off with Bed-Head Day on Monday, when everyone came in their pajamas. Tuesday was Critical Condition Day where we saw some people on crutches, after being in "traumatic accidents."

Students and some faculty members flashed back to the 60's for Brady Day on Wednesday. This day had a great turnout because almost everyone was decked out in their "groovy" attire. Thursday was even a bigger success with Freak Day because it came about bringing some unexpected surprises.. such as John Vyhldal and Joe Dierks dressing up to show their true feminine side. When Mr. Younger was asked what he thought of John and Joe's outfits, all he said was "God Save Us!" Teacher Ms. Brandt also commented that Freak Day was her favorite because she likes to dress like a freak.

Friday everyone got in the Homecoming spirit by wearing their favorite green clothes or lucky Shamrock boxers. One of everyone's favorites was Paul Liebentritt's spiked green hair. Even though Homecoming landed on Friday the 13th, it didn't stop the success of the Homecoming week!!

Homecoming Dance '95

The Homecoming Dance started off great. Everyone was excited about the blow out over Battle Creek with a score of 24-0. Although it was Friday the 13th, nothing terrible happened to anyone - at least that we know of! Ashley Morris and John Vhyldal were crowned the 1995 Homecoming Queen and King. Jay Kueker definitely got everyone in the mood to dance. He was the DJ for the dance, but you would have thought that he was one of the kids. He danced and sang on stage while keeping the music going. Types of music played varied from country to rap and ranged from the years of the 70's to 1995. Everyone was kept happy and you could surely tell!

"The best day was pajama day since I got to wear feet pajamas."
- Trina Kuehler, 11th grade

"Nick Mroczek, my date, ditched me so we went to a friend's house."
- Abie Bator, 11th grade

"Brady day was my favorite day because I like Cindy Brady."
- Mark Weeder, 10th grade

"Freak day was cool because everyone looked the funniest on that day."
- Calvin Wemhoff, 12th grade

Jr. High

This year the junior high is getting their own special pages in the yearbook. They never get seen in the yearbook, so we thought we would show them some appreciation. They had a lot of fun this year. They enjoyed their sports, their small get togethers, and their field trips. When the 8th graders are in ninth grade, they will feel relieved not being a junior high student anymore, and the seventh graders will be relieved not being at the bottom of the Shamrock totem pole anymore!!

Sweetheart '96

Love Potion '96 was the Sweetheart theme of the 1996 Sweetheart Dance. Everyone was anxious to start dancing, but before that they had to find out who was king and queen. As the moment approached, everyone was happy to see that Mandi Slusarski got crowned queen and John Obrist was crowned king. After the crowning, pictures were taken and the dancing began. It got pretty wild when a group of juniors started stripping to the song of 'Funky Town.' The dance ended earlier this year since there was not a basketball game before, but the night was still young. Everybody went their separate ways and partied the night away.

"I really thought that when the guys were stripping on stage was the funniest thing." - Travis Beiermann, 10th grade

"The music was good and it was really fun to dance to." - Cathy Avery, 11th grade

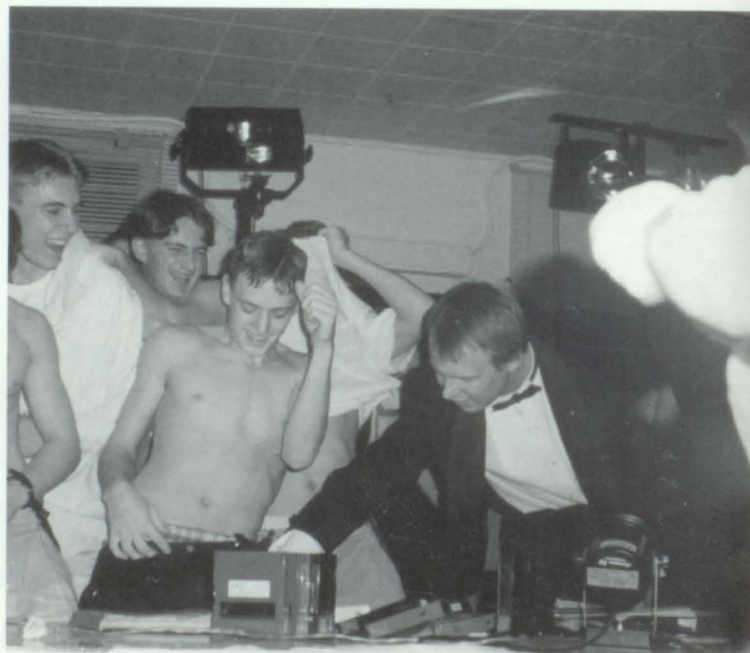

"The best part was when I requested 'The Back Street Boys!'" - Laura Ingemansen, 12th grade

"I thought it was really fun for my first Sweetheart and I can't wait for the next dance." - Michelle Rongisch, 9th grade

Nicole Mimick and Travis Kudron really show off their dance moves for everyone to wonder about.

Eric Sansoni, Kelcey Krings, Nick Larson, and Doug Bonczynski start "taking it off to the beat of the music as Jay Kuecker tries to stop them.

Senior Prom '96

The senior girls get ready to ROCK at Prom.

This year everyone felt that prom was a great success, starting with dinner and ending up with Post Prom. The seniors sat back and enjoyed viewing the decorations this year since they didn't have to plan prom this year. The evening started off with a roast beef dinner and an amusing poem about the senior class. The dining room was then made into a dance hall where everyone danced the night away, that is, until post prom. Post prom was held at Boulevard lanes where everyone gambled and tried to win prizes. Afterward everyone was tired and either went home or kept on partying into the next day!

The night was filled with love especially for Ashley Morris and Nate Karges.

Smooth character Pat Sokol tells of his prom plans for the evening.

Athletic Banquet

Chip Kaup and Teresa Sleddens stand up for recognition in their involvement in swimming.

The sophomore golf and football members are recognized by Mr. Jim Puetz.

Mr. Petersen gives a few words about his successful volleyball and basketball seasons and thanks his players for the great time.

On May 7, 1996 Scotus athletes were honored and recognized for their outstanding performance in their individual sports. Volleyball, cross country, football, swimming, basketball, and golf all had state qualifiers. This year was a rewarding year for Scotus in athletics. The master of ceremonies was Scott Fisher from the local radio station KKOT. He kept the banquet flowing smoothly with his jokes and kind words. Shauna Greiner and Chad Mustard were honored as athletes of the year.

Awards Night

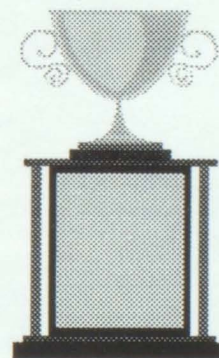

Awards night was held on May 14th this year. Although it was the last day of school for seniors, most of them showed up to receive their various awards. Along with the seniors, underclassmen were recognized for their scholastic abilities as well. Top achievement awards, scholarships and other awards were given out. Ms. Dusel received the teacher the year award. Congratulations to everyone!

Junior Law Cadet

Gina Humpal was chosen to attend the 28th annual Jr. Law Cadet Program during the week of June 10-14, 1995. She stayed at the Nebraska State Patrol Academy in Lincoln. In a disciplined setting, she learned about law enforcement responsibilities and training from representatives of various city, county, state, and federal agencies. Gina participated in daily calisthenics, took field trips to the State Penn, attended classroom sessions, and learned about firearms, driving, and operating radar and other State Patrol equipment.

Close-up

This year several Scotus students went to Washington D.C. for a week of learning about the U.S. government and got to have a lot of fun at the same time. They got to visit many places such as the Capitol, the Holocaust Museum, the Senator's and House of Representative buildings, and the White House. Among all the learning, everyone had fun meeting new people from different states. It was a great experience for all.

Girl's and Boy's State

This year Sara Gonka and Travis Kudron were selected to represent Scotus at the American Legion and Auxiliary Boy's and Girl's State in Lincoln. Both took part in several activities throughout the week. Some activities included Mock government, and elections. At the same time all participants campaigned for different offices that they would hold throughout the week. "It was a great experience and I can't wait to attend the reunion banquet." stated Sara.

H ugh O'Brien Youth

O B Y

For HOBY this year, Jennifer Younger was selected to go to the HOBY leadership seminar. She was there representing her class and felt that she had a lot of fun. It was fun to meet new people and become friends with many of them.

The Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation (HOBY) Leadership seminar was a four day workshop designed to help students think critically, enhance leadership skills, to learn more about democracy and the free enterprise system. They did all of this with mini sessions and speaking with businesses, industries, education, and government leaders. It was a lot of learning, but there was also time for socializing and entertainment.

SENIORS

Senior Retreat

On Oct. 18, 1995, the Senior class headed to Camp Luther to participate in the ultimate bonding experience. The seniors found the retreat to be a welcomed change from the ordinary Duncan routine. "There was much more to do during our free time, rather than just walking around the cemetery." Amy Cimpl commented. There were indeed many places to explore. Some went on a nature hike, wound up in a secluded clearing in the woods. Others found the lake and bridge to be much more challenging than the hills and ravine. For a few, walking became a problem. Jill Becker fell during the trust walk and sprained her ankle. Others simply felt that wheels would get them around faster than feet. The seniors felt that the retreat was a huge success, and brought them closer together. Kelly Kruse summed up the retreat by saying, "Overall, it was a really fun day. Camp Luther was a great place to relax and enjoy ourselves. It brought our class as close together as humanly possible." At the end of the day, the letters from the teachers were handed out, and during that time, some tears were shed. The seniors decided that maybe, just maybe, the teachers at Scotus will miss them after all. But then again, who wouldn't?

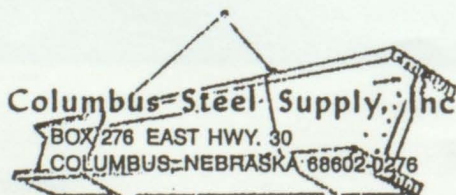

Kelcey Krings and John Vyhldial guide Heidi Hinze through the killer twigs at the Camp Luther Lake.

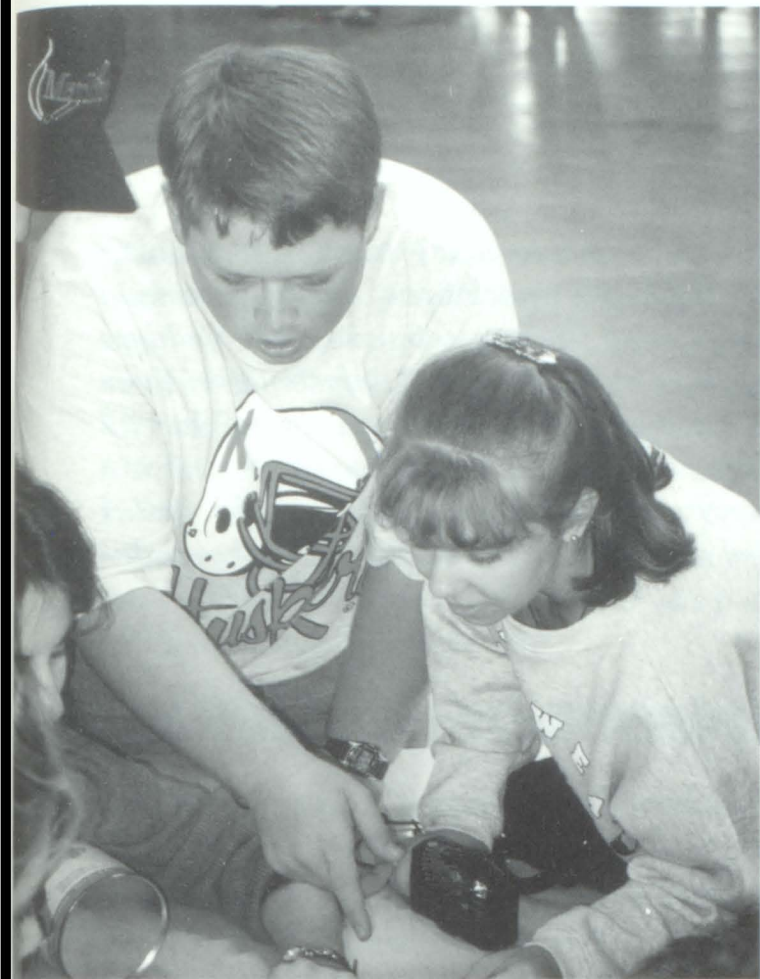

Misty Schmidt serves as Jarod Epp's "eyes" through the obstacle course. Miraculously, Jarod survived with no injuries.

The senior retreat leaders, Fr. Wayne, Mr. Dodson, and Mrs. Tooley, carefully use their brain power to plan another fun activity.

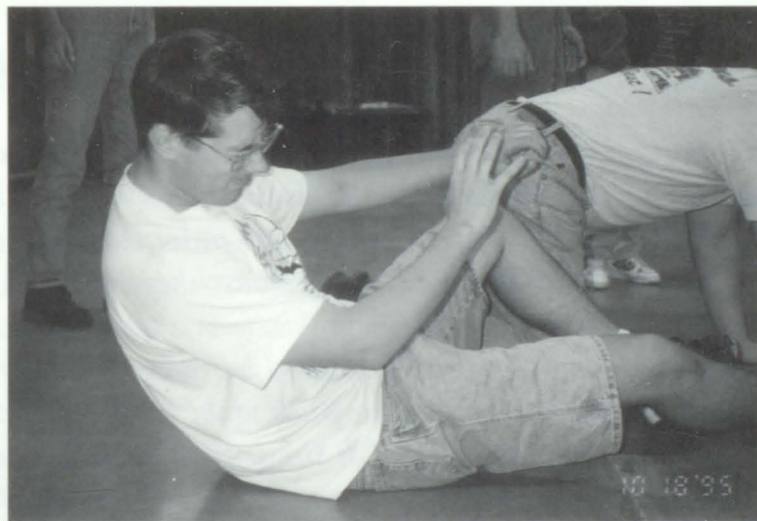

Johnny Obrist and Michelle Hegemann team up to recreate Fr. Wayne's mystery toy.

A serious bonding time takes place between Kelcey Krings and Chad Mustard, as they realize it's their last year to be together.

David Svatora is blinded by the light of God during a Scripture skit.

The class of 1996 is a lot more than it seems, And as I look into their futures I am captured in a dream. At their 20 year reunion I was standing by the punch bowl, Shelly Hegemann pulled out her trusty clarinet and began to play a solo. Becker, Schmeits, and Sleddens were all dressed up as nuns, I looked to see if there were more, but unfortunately there were none. I knelt down and asked them, "Do I need to pray?" "Nonsense child," they all replied, "We're the entertainment for the day." I walked across the old gym floor and ran into Dierks and Vyhldal, they told me that they owned The Buckle in a Georgia mall. I walked outside to watch the cars as they pulled up, First to arrive was Pat Sokol in his brand new pickup truck.

Next came Cumberland in his Talon and Heidi in hers, too. Following them was Feldhaus in her Phoenix that was blue. Corn Johnson was being paged over the CB, and Chad Mustard was deciding between his famous three. Nate and Ashley Karges unbelievably got in a fight, but marriage counselor, Chris Langan, made everything alright. In the middle of the dance floor, Sypal was showing his hockey moves, but things didn't get exciting until he was joined by Travis Kruse. People were telling so many stories it started ears a ratlin', but the favorite one was about Cal Wemhoff out at Jones' cabin. Greg Wemhoff learned that toast was not a part of the choice between sausage and bacon. Heather Buggi told us stories of her partner for her marriage simulation.

Sweet-T Fendrick was managing a basketball game that night, but his star player Ganka and Gina Humpal were nowhere in sight. John Micek was writing a love letter, to whom we will not know. Eric Kloke took a breath and forgot to let it go. Stacy Boman and Sansoni talked in the bathroom the whole night. Amy Rueschhoff carried around GRAHAM crackers and ate them bite by bite. Megan Gielenkirchen arrived late, covered with mud from head to toe, apparently Fehringer high-centered her car, Megan pushed but it wouldn't go. Laura Ingemansen's sanity was being pushed beyond its limits, as Amy Cimpl danced around her, chanting "Tipping through the tulips." Kelly Kruse had to go home early and attend her little pig, Ilgen flipped cause he couldn't take it, thought the reunion was too big.

In A Dream

Kelcey and Shauna announced that they decided to be wed. Sam Graus had dreams of Germany, where people kept SWITCHING in his head. All of a sudden everything stopped and everyone was quiet, and listen to this, believe it or not, Greg Krzycki broke the silence. Mandi Slusarski couldn't shut up about the Kolder chill in the wind, Larissa McPhillips got sent home for having a cheeseburger where she shouldn't have been. Jill Kosch, unfortunately, was the only one absent for the night, due to complications at West Point with her flight. Kellie Goettsche, proud of her convertible, claimed that it was the best ever, Chrissy Labenz just sat and laughed, stood up and said, "WATEVR." After the dance we all went out to Johnny Obrist's pool, He came outside, laid down the laws, said, "follow 'em and you'll be cool."

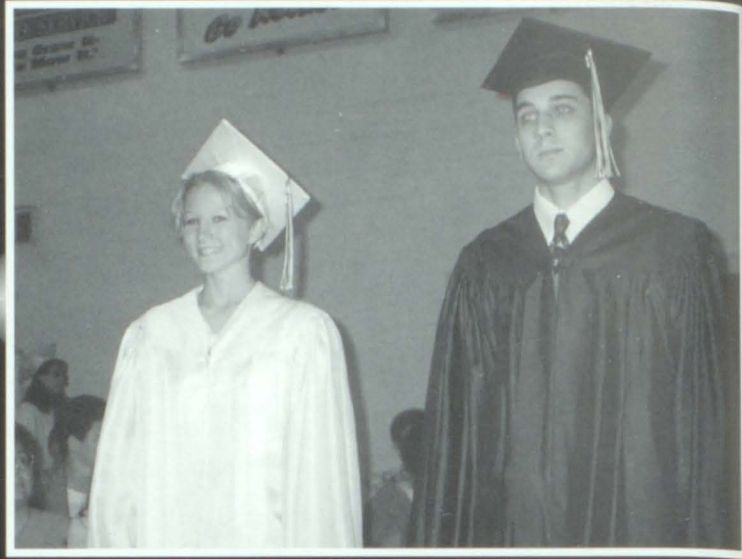

Robin Keller was the first to dive in, demonstrating her perfect back stroke. Misty sat there and laughed hysterically at one of Sara Gonka's jokes. Everyone got restless, they thought it was time to eat, but it was Lenten Friday and no one could have meat. Adam Mimick delivered the pizzas; anchovies and extra cheese, Lisa McKown and Jill Beller catered seafood from Hy-Vee. All the food was expensive and everyone had to pay, Deb Citta with her accounting skills, split it equal ways. Bender told us of her plans to move in with Sasha in the fall. Rachel Wick sat by the phone, waiting for Dak to call. Travis Kudron said that hacky was the best game that there could be, Mike Fleischer tried to play it, but it hurt his wounded knee.

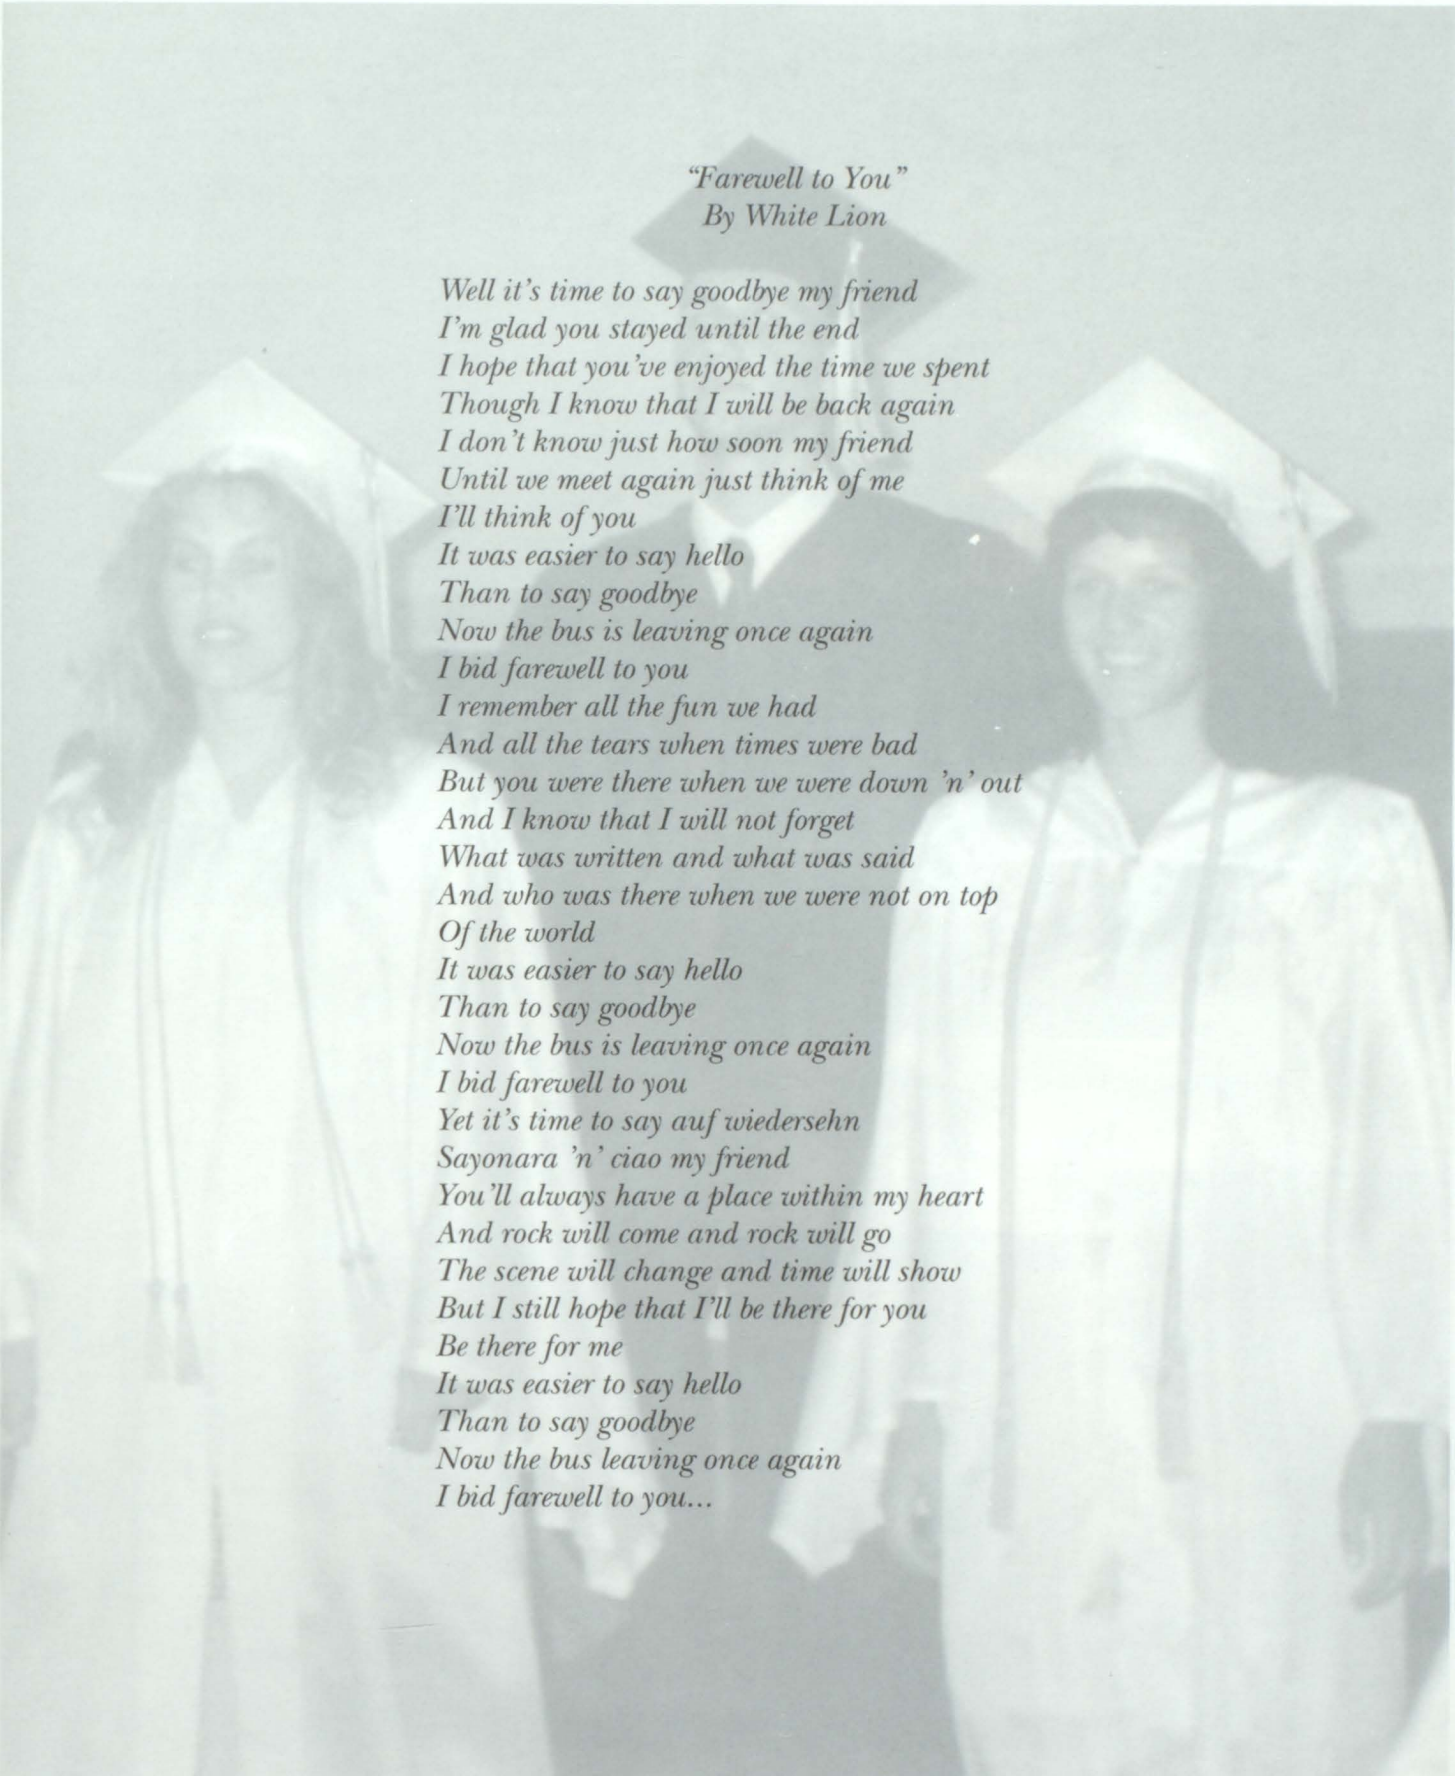

Deb Zadina got the urge to just get up a run, and Jerod Epp proclaimed to us that cookin fish was fun. Krista told us that she designed clothes for a movie star. Roger Wemhoff was in the garage working on his car. Kellie Weeder was driving us crazy, shouting 10-10-10. Jeni Bruegger said she drove her car off the Pawnee park bridge again. Julie Blum began to worry us, as she stood in front of a fan, trying to be like her dream guy, the gorgeous Super Man. The night started to come to a close and everyone began to depart, holding all their high school memories close to them in their hearts. That was not the last time those 63 people would hear of the night's scenes, because Dave Svatora got it all on tape, and titled it: CAPTURED IN A DREAM.

Graduation 1996

"Farewell to You"
By White Lion

*Well it's time to say goodbye my friend
I'm glad you stayed until the end
I hope that you've enjoyed the time we spent
Though I know that I will be back again
I don't know just how soon my friend
Until we meet again just think of me
I'll think of you
It was easier to say hello
Than to say goodbye
Now the bus is leaving once again
I bid farewell to you
I remember all the fun we had
And all the tears when times were bad
But you were there when we were down 'n' out
And I know that I will not forget
What was written and what was said
And who was there when we were not on top
Of the world
It was easier to say hello
Than to say goodbye
Now the bus is leaving once again
I bid farewell to you
Yet it's time to say auf wiedersehn
Sayonara 'n' ciao my friend
You'll always have a place within my heart
And rock will come and rock will go
The scene will change and time will show
But I still hope that I'll be there for you
Be there for me
It was easier to say hello
Than to say goodbye
Now the bus leaving once again
I bid farewell to you...*

A group of senior girls smile as they anticipate the last time they'll walk through Scotus as students.

Fr. Wayne watches with excitement as Mr. Schartz presents Shauna Greiner with the 'Spirit of Scotus' award.

Joe Dierks hugs his proud father during presentation of roses to parents.

The senior girls hold back their emotions as they sing "I'll Remember You" during the graduation ceremony.

Chad Mustard and Melissa Feldhaus carry their diplomas down the aisle with pride.

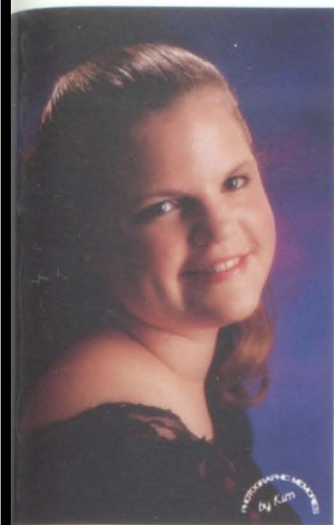

School Board President Randy Hinze congratulates Heather Buggi after he presents her with her diploma.

Adam-

Our love, prayers, and hopes are with you for a wonderful future.

Love Always -
Mom & Dad
Courtney & Rachael

Travis,

You may not be able to control what life puts in your path, but you can control who you are and who you will become.

Love, Mom, Dad &
Stephanie

Way to go HI DE HO!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Amy - We're very proud of you and all you've accomplished. We hope the years to come will bring you happiness, health, and success.

Love,

Jeni,
 You've always put your heart and soul in everything you do. I thank God everyday for a daughter like you.

I Love you
 Mom

John -

We are so fortunate that God chose us to be a part of your journey. Be kind always, and be open to God's goodness. Trust him in all things.

You can make a difference in this world if you are gentle with others and gentle with yourself.
 We'll love you forever!

Dad & Mom

Stacy,
 We are very proud of you and love you
 very much!

Congratulations and we wish you the very best!

Love,
 Mom and Dad

You have always been the apple of OUR eye! We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished. We know you will reach for the stars - you have already hung the moon.

We Love You!
